Prohibition Comes First.

Young La Follette Wins.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

DEBATES in the House and in the Senate indicate that prohibition is to become more and more the principal issue in United States politics and public opinion.

The House and Senate, calm about other things, become wildly excited when a pint of whisky, or the shooting of a bootlegger, is mentioned.

MANY believe sincerely that drinking or not drinking whisky is the most important issue in the affairs of the United States.

Others think that great engineering problems, development of national industry and prosperity are more important.

THE law, for reasons known to Providence, seems to be on the side of those that defy prohibition.

Vermont passed a law compeling buyers of liquor to tell who sold it. Vermont's Supreme Court says that the "disclosure law" is unconstitutional. Hundreds had been sent to jail for violating the law.

PROHIBITION would be made ten times more effective if the law held the buyer of liquor as guilty as the seller is guilty. But high court decisions say it is a crime to sell liquor, no crime to buy it.

There is a difference between the seller and the buyer defying law and Constitution.

The seller makes money, the buyer ruins his constitution. Nevertheless, the law should put them in the same class.

AT this writing, (5 p. m. yesterday) the royal marriage in Rome was part of history. The happy young couple had been blessed, and married and anarchists, whatever their plans may have been, had been disappointed.

Probably, if any of them saw the young couple, a youth and a girl that never hurt anybody, they are glad of it.

THREE kings saw the wedding, and the populace of Rome, always romantic, enjoyed it intensely.

What Mussolini thought will make another interesting chapter.

IN the next century there will be no more kings, perhaps.

But there will be other Mussolinis. The people must have leaders, born or self-made.

THE United States army of simpletons, that buy stocks when gentlemen ring the doorbell and tell them "now or never," or when other gentlemen call them on the telephone, are interested in this.

One get-rich-quick concern on trial in a federal court is said to have spent $400,000 in one year, for telephone messages to fools.

You may imagine how much the geese at the other end of the telephone must have lost to justify a $400,000 telephone bill in one year.

HOW prosperous this nation would be if citizens could be persuaded not to invest unless they know, or have the advice of some honest and experienced man, preferably a respected banker who has been in business for some time.

There is always one investment that does not disappoint you, the savings bank. It does not call you up on the telephone, but it does return your money when you want it.

YOUNG Senator La Follette gets his seat on the Senate Finance Committee. Conservative senators, representing organized money and corporations that are the real government of the United States, didn't want him, but let him in to avoid a troublesome fight.

HIS admission was reasonable. Young La Follette does not represent the really big powers in the United States. But his ideas, and, especially, his archaic notion that the people of the United States ought to govern the United States, is shared by at least 90,000,000 out of 120,000,000 Americans.

The 90,000,000 haven't learned to use the ballot yet, but may learn some day.

CYRUS H. K. CURTIS, in his interesting newspaper, starts a series of articles called "The Magistrate Racket" in New York City.

The interesting statements reveal judges on the bench dealing with criminals from the gutter, gangsters, thieves, bootleggers.

The charge is made one confessed thief was set free in court, and as a formality the money he had stolen was returned to the victim by the judge's orders.

Interesting incidents in our civilization.

SOMEBODY is always attacking "nature's sweet restorer." A German has invented a spherical alarm clock, manufactured by the Black Forest clock makers, to whom we owe the cuckoo clock.

This new alarm clock makes a loud noise, and, at the same time, turns on an electric light, located in the clock.

ACUTE HEART ATTACK FATAL

Noted Editor, Who Amassed Huge Fortune and Gave Freely, Passes in Florida

LAKE WALES, Fla., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Edward W. Bok, editor and philanthropist, died at his winter home near here today. He was 66 years old.

Mr. Bok died about 4:30 a. m. He suffered an acute heart attack upon his arrival here Sunday from Merion, Pa., with Mrs. Bok for their annual winter visit. His condition became critical yesterday and his father-in-law, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, and other relatives were summoned to his bedside.

AMASSED BIG FORTUNE

Mr. Bok came to this country at the age of 6 from the Netherlands. He accumulated a great fortune, much of which has been turned into benevolences. Less than two years ago he built at Mountain Lake, a suburb of this city, a great "singing tower" and gave it to the nation as a token of his appreciation for the opportunities that were afforded him when he was a struggling youth. President Coolidge dedicated this carillon.

The "singing tower" will be Bok's lasting monument. His body will be laid to rest at the foot of the tower after simple funeral services at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. It was disclosed today that Bok had had a burial crypt built into the huge structure.

Mr. Bok was editor-in-chief of the Ladies' Home Journal for 20 years, resigning in 1919. During his later years he has devoted his time largely to writing books.

RAISED IN POVERTY

His parents forced by financial reverses to eke out a meager living in Brooklyn, young Bok was unable to attend the public

HOEY TO GET OAKLAND POST

Downtown Inspector to Move In Police Shakeup; Beebe Or Malone for Coleman Job

Police bureau changes promised by next Wednesday are expected to include the transfer of Inspector James N. Hoey, friend of Senator James J. Coyne, from downtown to Oakland. Capt. John Schnurr is to be promoted to inspector and assigned downtown, the rumors stated.

Inspector Albert Beebe, now assigned to Oakland, or Detective Lieutenant Thomas D. Malone will become assistant superintendent, it was said. That job was vacated last Monday when Leo D. Coleman was reduced to patrolman.

M'ARDLE, FAULKNER SAFE

Inspector John J. McArdle, sponsored by County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, is expected to retain the South Side district and Inspector Charles Faulkner, relative of Assemblyman Samuel J. Grenet, will continue in the North Side station, according to report.

Inspector Joseph Ellsner, in charge of the "Strip," is said to have lost the influence of Congressman P. J. Sullivan and as a result, will be reduced in rank.

Inspector B. J. Kirley, of the East End, is variously reported as sure of re-appointment and again as slated for reduction in rank. Kirley is considered a protege of Controller Daniel Winters.

THREE DECLINE JOB

Beebe is said to have reluctantly consented to accept the assistant superintendency after he, Hoey and Faulkner had declined the job.

Hoey is considered the nemesis of certain elements in the Hill and downtown districts, and his transfer or discharge has been sought, it was said, by friends of Joseph Engelsberg, of the Third Ward, and Harry Feldman, Mayor Kline's leader in the Fifth Ward. Today Malone, who made a determined run for council, was being groomed also for this position, his first city job under the Hay's administration.

Runaway Girls Arraigned In Court

GIRL LEARNS ARRESTED 'FIANCE' IS WED

McGovern's Wards Taken To East End Rooming House, Police Assert

The romance of Joanna Parkes, 16, who with her twin sister, Betty, was found early today after a two week's disappearance, was blasted in Morals Court when she learned that the man she had hoped to marry already has a wife.

Police arrested the man, Pat O'Brien, 45, auto salesman of 248 Meyran avenue, and a girl, Anna Frederick, 21, to investigate his relations with the twins and the other woman in an apartment at 308 South Neville street.

ADMITS FLIRTATION

"We met him Sunday night," Joanna told Magistrate Thomas Jones in Morals Court. "We were walking in East Liberty when he drove up and began to talk to us."

O'Brien admitted flirting with the girls, and said he took them to an East End hotel where he secured a room. Tuesday night, he testified, he took them to another hotel, but could not get a room because he had no money.

"Then I took them to Miss Frederick's room in South Neville street. I felt sorry for them and bought them food. I even bought them tooth brushes."

GIRL SAYS HE PROPOSED

Joanna denied that O'Brien molested them in any way, and declared that he had proposed to her.

"I liked him and we were to be married January 24," she said. "I didn't know he was married.

Questioned by Jones as to the alleged proposal of marriage to Joana, O'Brien admitted he had asked her to marry him, but in-

AVIATRIX DIES IN CRASH

WOODBINE, Ga., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Eva Parrish, flying to Florida from Columbia, S. C., was killed here today in her plane that fell into the marshes on the Satilla river.

Witnesses said the woman apparently was trying to land when the plane went into a nose dive and crashed into the mud, completely demolishing it.

The body was taken from the plane and brought here. Papers on the body gave the identity and indicated the aviatrix was flying for the Curtiss Flying Service, and had spent last night in Columbia, S. C. Officials here were notified that a plane was en route from Columbia, to take charge of the body and the wreck.

MAY STOP WORK IN OVERBROOK

Council today was asked to order all work stopped on public improvements in the former borough of Overbrook when it was brought out at a budget session that 35 contracts totaling $800,000 had been let since last October when the borough's debt limit was exceeded by $23,000. The borough's legal borrowing power was $293,742.

Officials of the City Department of Public Works and the law department declared they knew nothing of the situation as they had not seen the borough's records since the territory became a part of Pittsburgh on January 1. Councilman Charles Anderson called the matter to his colleagues' attention.

Director Edward G. Lang, of the Department of Public Works, and Charles A. Waldschmidt were asked to obtain all data necessary for making a recommendation to guide Council.

Council authorized the employment of John E. Laughlin and T. J. McGovern, attorney and engineer, respectively, of the former borough, to assist the city departments.

Council, with Controller Daniel Winters concurring, employed J. C. Slippy at $400 to temporarily assist in the closing of the budget. Slippy is an accountant and was employed as statician in the mayor's office under William A. Magee and during part of Mayor Kline's administration.

GAS KILLS MAN IN GARAGE

Walter Baldinger, 41, owner of grocery at 2335 California avenue, was dead today, the victim of monoxide gas. He was overcome by fumes from the exhaust of his automobile in the garage at the rear of his home, 943 Davis avenue, North Side.

He was found unconscious in the car by Mrs. Baldinger at 2:55 a. m.

Wagonmen Robert Purvis and John Conley, of Woods Run Police Station, and Dr. Edward V. Weller and Dr. C. Elmer Wirts worked half an hour in a vain attempt to revive the victim.

Mrs. Baldinger told police that her husband went to the garage about midnight to clean the car, and that she heard him start the engine. Becoming uneasy when he did not return to the house she went to the garage and found him lying in the car. Apparently he had felt the effects of the gas and attempted to get out of the car when he fell.

A call was sent to the North Side fire alarm operator, who notified the Woods Run Station, and a patrol crew with an inhalator huried to the scene. The police later were joined by the two physicians.

BOY, IN SCHOOL, SHOOTS CHUM

Reed Henderson, 14, of 1732 Duffield street, student at the Ralston Vocational School, Penn avenue and Fifteenth street, was accidentally shot in the left leg today by a fellow student, police reported.

The shooting occurred in the report room of the school while half a dozen boys were preparing to go to their classes. The Henderson lad was removed to Allegheny General Hospital.

POLICE HOLD BOY

A chum, John Melfero, 15, of 131 Meadow street, who was holding a revolver when it was discharged, was detained by Penn avenue police. They said he would be turned over to Juvenile Court.

Melfero told police he had found the revolver, of 25-caliber automatic type, on the Paulson avenue playgrouns several days ago and sold it to Henderson for a few cents.

Henderson was unable to operate the revolver, Melfero said.

SHOWN HOW IT WORKS

"Show me how this gun works," Henderson said to Melfero as the two met in the school today.

Melfero took the gun and was demonstrating how to operate it, he told police, when it was discharged, the bullet striking Henderson near the left hip.

At the hospital attendants said that while the boy was in no immediate danger, his wound was serious.

According to Mrs. Fremont Wertz, his aunt, Reed has had many other accidents. In the last two years alone, she says, he has had a broken arm, a fractured wrist, an eye badly injured by a snowball, blood poisoning, and this latest wound. He is studying to be an electrical engineer.

'Tomboy' to Get Dresses By Court's Sentence

Reared and dressed as a boy through her 19 years, Laura Adeline Deaner's lately-expressed desire to dress in feminine attire and "become a woman" was satisfied today by Judge R. M. Gibson in Federal Court who sentenced her to 18 months in a reformatory for breaking a parole.

Laura was known to police as a "tomboy" back in the Bedford County mountains where she has lived a primitive life.

The mountains had been the home of her ancestors back in Colonial times, and a log cabin with home-made furniture had been her shelter.

Then she ran afoul of the law, accused of passing a $20 counterfeit bill, in company with a gang alleged of Newark counterfeiters.

They had made the mountain section near her home, four miles from Schellsburg, their hangout.

Laura was granted a parole, but broke it through being mixed up in the robbery of a barbecue stand near her home. She was brought here today for breaking the parole.

Waiting for the court decision, Laura revealed she wanted to learn how to be a woman, even though even the names of milady's varied garments were unknown to her.

Sentenced to the Federal House of Correction for Women at Rutland, Vt., Laura will "become the woman."

She'll probably get the long dresses that appealed to her, but the question of leaving her hair grow still must be decided.

AMERICAN ENVOYS EMBARK FOR LONDON NAVAL PARLEYS

SAIL TO HARD TASK WITH HIGH HOPE

Perils in Historic Mission Are Admittedly Many, But Way Has Been Paved

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The American delegates to the London naval conference sailed for England late today on a historic mission.

They hope to return in the spring or early summer with an agreement between the five great naval powers which will not only stop competitive building in all classes of warships, but provide as well for actual reduction of tonnage now afloat. That is the hope—but between the hope and the realization lie many weeks of grubbing work, and perhaps some spirited if not acrimonious negotiation.

The delegation sailed on the S. S. George Washington, a vessel that played a conspicuous part in American post-war diplomacy. It was the George Washington upon which Woodrow Wilson set sail so confidently for the Versailles conference 10 years ago.

MANY DANGER POINTS

The departure marks fruition of many months of diligent preparation and exchange of views—preliminary planning that even went so far as to impel a British prime minister to shatter the precedent of all time and cross the Atlantic in quest of an amicable understanding with the United States, with naval parity as its basis.

In this mission he was successful, and the American delegates to the forthcoming naval conference set sail under far different conditions than obtained two years ago. At Geneva two years ago, it was British-American differences that led to a semi-violent break-up of President Coolidge's effort to obtain further naval agreement.

The danger points of the forthcoming conference, and they admittedly are numerous, lie elsewhere—with France, who is still smarting under what she conceives to have been niggardly treatment at the Washington conference in 1921-22; with rival French and Italian aspirations, and with Great Britain's naval policy as regards Europe.

BEST MINDS IN PARLEY

The American delegation to London is headed by Secretary of State Stimson, and includes the Secretary of the Navy, Charles Francis Adams; Dwight W. Morrow, whose post-war diplomacy in Mexico has won him unstinted praise from all parties and factions; Ambassador Charles G. Dawes; Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, who was Gov. Alfred E. Smith's running mate in the last campaign, and is now Democratic leader of the Senate; Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, one of the Republican leaders of the Senate; and last, but by no means least, Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson, veteran of a dozen important international conferences, and probably more familiar than any layman with the intricate questions of naval limitation. It was Gibson who brilliantly presented America's case at the ill-fated Geneva parley.

REED HOPEFUL

A nine-car special train brought Secretary Adams and the delegation's secretariat and clerical force from Washington today. The other delegates—except for Dawes and Gibson, who are in Europe—had come to New York earlier.

Reed and Robinson were first on board the liner at its Hoboken pier.

Reed said:

"I am sure of the ultimate success of the cause of the conference. There is less 'diplomacy' exhibited in this conference than any international meeting heretofore."

Death Car Driver Paroled Two Years

After a jury had been selected, Jessie McKoy, Negro, of Duquesne, today pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter and was paroled for two years. McKoy had been held in the death of George Davis, Negro, of 100 Mill street, Duquesne. Davis died November 5 from injuries received while a passenger in McKoy's car when it collided with another machine on the Dravosburg-Clairton road.

BAKERY HIDES RUM PLANT

Ovens and pans in the Roth Baking Company's plant, 2827 California avenue, were only a blind for a moonshine-making establishment, North Side police alleged, after raiding the place today.

In two cellars of the plant, Lieut. John J. Lynch and a squad confiscated two 100-gallon stills, 25 gallons of moonshine, 28 barrels of mash, 40 sacks of sugar and seven cartons of whisky labeled as bonded variety, they reported.

Fred Roth, alleged proprietor, was arrested charged with violating the Snyder act. He was released under $1,000 bail for a hearing.

Police said the bakery evidently had been replaced by moonshine plant about two months ago.

The officers are: Louis W. Hagmaier, burgess; David Pryde, president of council; D. S. Thomas, borough solicitor; J. W. Hartley, secretary; H. C. Lea, borough manager; G. A. Shaw, borough engineer; E. R. King, building inspector, and R. K. Riddle, chief of police and health officer. August Williams and Guy McQuaide, will again make up the police department.

Other members of council are: E. H. Skiles, L. D. Kennedy, W. M. May and Alex Wally.

TRUSTEE CITED IN JUDGMENT

Tribes Vote to Keep Amanullah in Exile

PESHANAR, India, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Latest dispatches from Afghanistan report that Former King Amanullah, who is now living in Italy after having lost his throne, is still unpopular with the Afghan tribesmen and will not be permitted to return.

The dispatches stated that a durbar was held recently at which Nadir Khan, the present king, informed the tribal representatives that representations had been made for the return of Amanullah to Afghanistan. The tribesmen immediately protested angrily and vehemently. Finally the durbar unanimously agreed that under no circumstances would Amanullah be allowed to return to Afghanistan.

TWINS FOUND IN EAST END

sisted he "did not mean anything" by it.

Betty corroborated all of her sister's testimony. The Fredericks woman denied that O'Brien had paid her room rent, but admitted he had bought her food.

"I had a bum foot," the Fredericks woman said. "and I decided to rest up a little."

MAN CALLED "SHEIK'

O'Brien, however, insisted that he had "felt sorry for her too," and that he had paid her rent and had purchased groceries for her as well as the twins. He went there several times, and the girls, on one occasion, got breakfast for him, he said—on another, lunch, and on another, dinner.

O'Brien, who looks much younger than his age, was described by Detective William Rupert as an Oakland sheik." He admitted Rupert's charge that he is married, and that he had introduced the twins to the Fredericks girl as "my sisters," police said.

"O'Brien," Rupert said, "is quite a well-known figure around Oakland. He's in Gammon's restaurant every night with a different woman. And this Fredericks woman also is married, but she denies it. She knew all along that O'Brien is married."

Magistrate Jones sent O'Brien to jail for 30 days when he was unable to pay a $25 fine; ordered the Fredericks woman held, and turned the twins over to their attorney. They will be sent to a boarding school, it was said.

WARDS OF COMMISSIONER

The three girls were discovered in the rooming house during an investigation which begun yesterday. The twins are wards of County Commissioner C. C. McGovern, who had been a friend of their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Parkes.

The mother died June 4, asking that McGovern be appointed guardian of the girls. The girls said they ran away from their home at 1671 Jancey stret because relatives wanted to send them back to boarding school, instead of permitting them to attend Peabody High School, where they were students.

VARE AND DAVIS TICKET HELD POSSIBLE

Pinchot Again Ready to Try For Senate if Looming Organization Split Occurs

Following the reiteration by William S. Vare of his intention to oppose Senator Joseph R. Grundy in the spring primaries, there is considerable speculation on the possibility of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis running for governor on a Vare-Davis ticket.

Such a combination would not be unacceptable to the secretary, according to his friends here. Should that situation develop the primary this year might be a repetition of the 1926 primary, with the Vare-Davis ticket opposing a ticket headed by Senator Grundy and a gubernatorial candidate friendly to him.

PINCHOT MAY RUN

The resemblance, in such an event, probably would be even more striking. There is more than a remote possibility that a Vare-Grundy fight will find Gifford Pinchot making his third effort to break into the United States Senate from Pennsylvania.

Friends of Davis, who hope to see him linked with Vare at the primary, point out that the combination would receive a tremendous vote to start with in Philadelphia, where Vare again proved his leadership at the last primary. They also look for a wave of sympathy and sentiment for the Philadelphia leader which would give him a much larger vote upstate than he received four years ago.

SEE VARE STRONG

Reports have been received from Washington to the effect that five upstate congressmen have reported to Secretary Davis that Vare could carry the state. The Washington office of Davis also has heard that State Chairman Edward Martin and A. Boyd Hamilton are canvassing the state to secure a line on the sentiment for the gubernatorial candidates for W. L. Mellon.

Friends of Davis in Washington claim that Martin and Hamilton are meeting only members of the organization who are certain to report that Davis would be a poor selection and that they are ignoring the man in the street. These friends also report that the two canvassers are unable to find any other candidate on which all factions are agreed.

FRENCH FLIER'S ASSETS HELD

PARIS, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Property and assets of Jean Assolant, trans-Atlantic aviator, have been attached by decree of the Paris courts in connection with suit of his wife, the former Pauline Parker, New York chorus girl, for divorce.

The next stage of the proceedings, instituted a few days ago, will occur January 24, when, following French procedure, the couple will appear before a judge of the court in order that he may attempt to bring about reconciliation.

Although the marriage took place in Old Orchard, Me., the court held that it was subject to French law. In the event Mme. Assolant wins the suit, she may obtain half her husband's property.

Although neither understood more than a few words of the other's language, the two were married last June, just before Assolant's flight with Rene Lefevre, in the Yellow Bird, across the Atlantic from Maine to Santander, Spain.

Wife Jails Mate, Gets Hug, Kiss In Return

John Kleist, 42, of Kansas street, refused to work and support her, Mrs. Marie Kleist testified in Morals Court today, so Magistrate Thomsa D. Jones assessed him $10 or 10 days.

As John was being led to jail, he turned abruptly, embraced his wife and planted an enthusiastic kiss on her face. Mrs. Kleist was bewildered.

WASSON INQUIRY BOARD NAMED BY BAR

Committee to Hear Charges Against Former Judge And Attorney Calvert

The Board of Governance of the Pennsylvania State Bar at Philadelphia, yesterday appointed a committee of the standing masters to hear the disbarment proceedings against former Judge Henry G. Wasson and Attorney George H. Calvert, it was revealed today.

Those named to hear the case, are: Attorneys Francis B. Bracken, of Philadelphia; Attorney Thomas C. Hare, of Altoona, and Attorney Arthur W. Mitchell, of Erie, according to Attorney W. Clyde Grubbs who filed the disbarment action.

Wasson in his answer to the petition for his disbarment is said to have admitted the allegations. His defense is reported to be that it was carelessness on his part which resulted in the alleged mismanagement of the estate of Mrs. Eleanor H. Davidson.

CALVERT IN HOSPITAL

Calvert's attorneys informed the Board of Governance that Calvert is at present a patient in a New York Sanitarium and is unable to file an answer.

The disbarment petition was filed two months ago by Attorney Grubbs in behalf of Mrs. Catherine Hibbert, mother of Mrs. Davidson. The action was based on charges later disclosed when Attorney Arnold M. Replogle and the firm of Thorp, Bostwick and Reed petitioned Common Pleas Court to approve their fee of $100,000 for services to the Davidson estate. The disbarment petition was not made public.

In their claim for fees these attorneys charged that they had saved the estate more than $300,000 by bringing about the resignation of Wasson and Calvert. They were named a committee for Mrs. Davidson who was adjudged a lunatic in 1921.

ESTATE $3,000,000

Mrs. Davidson is the widow of Frederick Davidson, former president of the Union Drawn Steel Company, of Beaver Falls, and her estate is valued at approximately $3,000,000.

After Wasson and Calvert resigned the Commonwealth Trust Company was named to succeed them as committee for Mrs. Davidson.

The rules of the Supreme Court for the Board of Governance, provide that committees appointed to hear disbarment proceedings must give 20 days' notice to the respondents of the time and place of the hearing. The case will probably not be heard in Pittsburgh.

TARIFF WAR RENEWED IN SENATE

La Follette Peace Is Signal For Outbreak of Battle On Sugar Duty Schedule

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—After settling a civil war in their own ranks, the Republican leadership plunged the Senate into a major tariff battle this afternoon by calling up the highly controversial sugar schedule with its proposal to increase the duties on America's imported sugar supply.

The civil war terminated amicably when Republican leaders placed Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., of Wisconsin, and Senator John Thomas, of Idaho, on the powerful Senate Finance Committee, giving the insurgents a "balance of power" in the drafting of tariff, tax and revenue legislation in the Senate. There had been threats of serious party disaffection, threatening success to the President's legislative program at this Congress and Republican security in the elections next fall. The treaty restored peace in the Republican ranks, however, for organization purposes only.

COMPLICATED BATTLE

The sugar schedule meanwhile developed the most complicated battle in the whole tariff war. Both parties and the insurgents, too, were split over the question of rates.

There was a feeling the sugar war would end in adoption of the Senate Finance Committee's recommendation for a world duty of $2.75 and a Cuban duty of $2.20 per 100 pounds. This was nearer the House rates of $3 and $2.40 than to the present law of $2.20 and $1.76.

BORAH FOR BONUS

Senator Borah (Rep.), of Idaho, however, carried in his pocket a proposal to pay American sugar producers a bonus direct from the Federal treasury. If it carries, he will further propose a slight reduction in the existing rates. Administration leaders expected the sugar war to last a week or two.

The treaty of peace, ending the committee assignment war, was negotiated by the Republican committee on committees. At a session this morning it completed all other committee assignments. The committee will make a complete report to a Republican caucus tomorrow, which is expected to ratify promptly the selection of LaFollette for the finance post. There was virtually no opposition to any other appointment.

LIQUOR FIXTURE SEIZURE O. K.'D

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward, in an opinion, declared that prohibition agents are empowered to seize fixtures wherever they have made a legal seizure of liquor on which internal revenue tax has not been paid. The ruling, covering 11 pages, was reported to be the first written opinion to be given by a Federal Court on this question.

Judge Woodward's opinion arose from the seizure of fixtures and supplies in a saloon operated by Stanley Fieza, of Cicero, a suburb. Fieza had contended that prohibition agents could not make seizures under a statute pertaining to internal revenue.

Attorney Harry I. Weisbrod, counsel for Fieza, said he would ask a new trial and that efforts to reverse Judge Woodward's ruling would be carried to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Pacifist Divinity Teacher Denied Citizenship

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—The application of Prof. Douglas Clyde MacIntosh, of the Rale divinity school, for United States citizenship was formally denied today by Judge Warren B. Burrows, of the United States District Court.

The denial was based on Prof. MacIntosh's refusel to swear that he would bear arms in defense of the United States. The professor said at the hearing on granting him naturalization papers that he felt convinced that refusal to bear arms was morally justifiable. He said his first allegiance is to God.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—Hearings on the election contest of William B. Lawson to unseat Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen (Dem.), Congresswoman from Florida, will be started by the House Elections Committee No. 1 Saturday. Lawson assailed Mrs. Owen's right to sit in the House on grounds of citizenship, contending she did not re-establish her citizenship following the death of her husband, a British army officer. The committee announced it would take up the contest instituted by Ralph Updike, of Indiana, to unseat Representative Louis Ludlow (Dem.), Indiana, after the Owen case is cleared.

Zahniser Out, Braun in As Workhouse Head

The county official who "never played politics in his life" has vacated his job to make way for a political oppointee.

William J. Zahniser, for 21 years prominent in activities of the Allegheny County Workhouse and Inebriate Asylum as member of the board of directors and acting superintendent, has resigned, he announced last night.

Robert H. Braun, sheriff until January 6, 1930, has been appointed to take his place.

Zahniser, whose resignation takes place immediately, was appointed acting superintendent of the institution in July, 1928, after serving 19 years as a member of the board. He had been vice president of the board 12 years, and secretary and chairman of the executive committee through the period.

Appointments to the board and to offices have always been free of politics, Zahniser says. It has been his pride that his appointment was for "merit."

In 1928 he replaced A. H. Riddle, who retired after 24 years of service because of ill health. His office was that of acting superintendent. Although he drew the same salary as the former superintendent, he was subject to replacement on short notice.

Rumors of Braun's impending appointment caused him to resign and his resignation was accepted.

University Vandal Sought In '4 of Clubs' Mystery

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—The Four of Clubs has Northwestern University campus guessing.

During the Christmas vacation several loving cups disappeared from various fraternity houses.

When school reopened, each fraternity house received an anonymous postcard directing the recipient to "look on page so-and-so in the dictionary." Looking on page so-and-so, the looker found another card, referring him to page so-and-so of another book. After peering into many volumes, the inquirer found directions leading him to the hiding place of a loving cup.

In each loving cup was a card—the four of clubs.

This was what some folks would regard as good, wholesome amusement. Unfortunately the game was carried to the university buildings, some of which were dabbed with paint, the figures taking the form of clubs and being arranged in groups of four.

The property damage to date is about $300.

Will Fosters Marriage for Children, Not Widow

In death Abraham L. London, late retired businessman of 5630 Bartlett street, encouraged marriage for his children and discourages marriage for his widow.

In his will filed for probate today Mr. London directed that $5,000 is to be given each of his children who marry.

Mr. London also specifies that if his wife, Jessie, who receives his personal property and the estate's income, remarries, she is to receive only half of the income. At her death one-eighth of the estate goes to the Jewish National Fund.

The remainder of the estate was given to the children, Ray Goldstein, Anna Jacobus, Bertha Levin, Edith and Adele London, and Charles and Herman London, who are named executors, along with Max Nieman. The estate is valued at $51,500.

HOOVER'S DRY COMMISSION SILENT, ENDS 3-DAY SESSION

NEW ATTACK LAUNCHED ON BODY

Members Refuse to Discuss Reports of Dissension; Resignations Denied

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The National Law Enforcement Commission, headed by George W. Wickersham, concluded a three-day session today without breaking its silence upon widespread reports of dissension while both liberal and dry members of Congress launched new attacks on the commission for its "star chamber" proceedings.

Although the commission's activities were carefully guarded, it was admitted by members individually that there was divergence of views upon the highly controversial prohibition question. Members insisted the differences did not amount to dissension.

RESIGNATIONS DENIED

Reports of impending resignations because of differences were also confidentially denied by members. It was said, however, that one member might resign because of pressure of other business.

Chairman Wickersham announced he would remain in Washington for a few days reviewing the entire situation. It is expected that he will issue shortly a statement on the expected report of the commission to Congress.

STORM CLOUDS GATHER

Meantime storm clouds were gathering in Congress. Senator William J. Harris (Dem.), of Georgia, a "bone dry," announced that he was planning to introduce an amendment to cut off the commission's $250,000 appropriation unless open hearings are held.

Representative Black (Dem.), of New York, a liberal leader in the House, today followed his criticism of the Crime Commission by introducing a resolution calling for open hearings and asking the commission to submit a report on its proceedings to Congress. He also proposed that the commission directly investigate "the desirability of further effort to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment."

BORAH BACKS HARRIS

Senator Borah (Rep.), of Idaho, who touched off the prohibition oratorical bomb that has rocked official Washington for the past two weeks, may join the Harris cause.

"I favor open hearings," said Borah. "I think we can get open hearings. I might be willing to go along with such a proposal as that suggested by Senator Harris. I would, of course, have to make a careful study of the matter first."

Senator Jones (Rep.), of Washington, Senate dry leader, however, could see no virtue in the Harris proposal. He declared the method of hearings is "no part of our business."

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Harvard University will be the recipient of more than $5,000,000 under the terms of the will of Stuart Wyeth, president of John Wyeth & Son Corporation, manufacturing chemists, which was filed for probate here yesterday.

Mr. Wyeth, who died December 30, made no stipulations in his bequest to the university from which he graduated in 1884. The will set forth that the president and fellows of Harvard University may use the money as they see fit.

It was stipulated in the will that Mr. Wyeth's mother, Mrs. John Wyeth, was to receive an income of $50,000 a year for the remainder of her life and that after her death the fund from which this money was taken should be turned over to certain charities. As Mrs. Wyeth died 10 years ago, this fund will revert to the charities at once.

Prisoner Cheers Lloyd George, Magistrate

CARNARVON, Wales, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Former Premier David Lloyd George today took his seat for the first time on the magistrate's bench as chairman of the Carnarvon County Quarter Sessions, in the court house where nearly 40 years ago he practiced as a solicitor.

The prisoner was 70-year-old Samuel Dew, charged with stealing a wheelbarrow. Mr. Lloyd George bound him over in the workhouse instead of sending him to prison.

As Dew left he cried: "Thank you, Mr. Lloyd George. Three cheers for you!"

CORN WHISKY STILLS LEAD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Figures showing why the prohibition bureau has been concerned in the growth of illicit corn sugar distilling were made public by Prohibition Commissioner Doran today, who said that of 3,864 stills seized in the northeastern section of the country, 3,430 were making alcohol from corn sugar.

The alcohol manufactured by the plants, the commissioner said, was just as good a product as that manufactured by legally licensed distilleries and the plants seized frequently were found to have cost as much as $40,000 or $50,000.

The other 400 plants captured in the northeastern states, he said, were "cooking" plants operating on alcohol products from which the other ingredients are eliminated. Most of the latter stills, he said, were operated in the metropolitan district and within 80 miles of New York City.

Doran expressed concern a week ago over the immense increase in the production of corn sugar, which he said had jumped from 152,000,000 pounds in 1922 to approximately 960,000,000 pounds in 1929.

The mercury by tomorrow morning will be between 25 and 30 compared with 43 degrees, this afternoon, according to Forecaster W. S. Brotzman.

No severe cold is in prospect, Brotzman says. Rain was falling today from Pittsburgh to New Orleans. Snow was reported in northern counties.

BALMY ON SEABOARD

Spring-like weather prevailed along the Atlantic seaboard from Maine to Florida today, but a cold wave that held the West in its grip was reaching out to the East and the South, and a marked drop in temperature was predicted before nightfall.

The weather man's whim for records took the form of two inches of sleet at Henrietta, Tex., and a temperature of 57 in New York City, with the prediction of a further rise there this afternoon before the vanguard of the cold wave arrived.

The warm weather so weakened the ice at Hanover, N. H., and Burlington, Vt., that college hockey games had to be postponed. Two girls skating at North Chelmsford, Mass., broke through the soft ice and drowned.

The storm has been raging for three days in the West and has caused three deaths. At Okmulgee, Okla., 300 persons attending a revival meeting fled from a frame tabernacle just a moment before the roof crashed in, weighted down by tons of sleet and snow.

PRINCE, BRIDE REVIEW TROOPS

ROME, Jan. 9.—In lieu of an immediate honeymoon, Crown Prince Humbert and his bride of a day, the new Princess of Piedmont, today reviewed an elaborate display of Italy's fighting strength in company with their respective fathers, the sovereigns of Italy and Belgium, and other members of the two royal families.

Owing to the pressure of official functions at which they must be present, Prince Humbert and Princess Marie Jose will not start on their wedding trip until Saturday. It is expected they will spend part of their honeymoon in San Rossore, near Pisa, where a royal hunting lodge is located.

Taking up her official duties in her new role as wife of Italy's crown prince for the first time, the princess made a gracious picture of regal beauty as she sat in the reviewing stand at the former Pardoli race track and acknowledged the salutes of 20,000 picked troops who tramped by before the rulers of two countries and their families.

Following the parade, the same 300 planes which flew over the quirinal while the newlyweds were being wed in the Pauline chapel yesterday, performed again above the royal stands in intricate formation.

Following the military pageant, the two royal families returned to the quirinal which tonight was to be brilliantly lighted as part of the wedding celebration.

The two men under arrest were not identified. They were arrested by state police and Chief of Police C. P. Cramer, of Mt. Union, shortly after Appleby was shot.

Appleby had visited an apartment house he owned after leaving his store last night and was crossing the street when he was accosted. Appleby replied that he did not have a safe and was shot.

After visiting Southern European ports they plan to return to this country April 1.

The Rosenwalds were married yesterday in Abington, near Philadelphia, in the home of Lessing J. Rosenwald, the bridegroom's son.

After a dinner party at the Hotel St. Regis, the wedding party, which included members of the immediate families, escorted Mr. and Mrs. Rosenwald to the pier, where they immediately boarded the liner.

In their suite aboard the liner, the Rosenwalds found many telegrams from well wishers, including one from former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, in which he gently chided the philanthropist, with whom he had been associated in the distribution of the Hubert fortune, for "holding out on one of your partners."

Congratulatory messages to and answers from Mr. and Mrs. Rosenwald have overtaxed the ship's radio equipment, the captain of the vessel reported to the line's headquarters here today.

ORIE AND GRADY TO GO TO JAIL

In upholding the conviction and sentence a year ago, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia late yesterday ruled that John W. Orzechowski, also known as Orie, former Pittsburgh police magistrate, and Martin Grady, alleged gambling concessionaire, must serve sentences of six months in Allegheny County jail.

A penalty of six months in jail was imposed on the defendants in 1929 for failure to report to the government bank deposits of more than $100,000 in 1925, said to have been obtained from the operation of gambling places in Pittsburgh.

Orzechowski and Grady contended that although bank records showed deposits of large sums of money, they had conducted their business at a loss and there was no net income to report to the government.

Mrs. Hoover Recuperating For Reception Tonight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—Mrs. Hoover was conserving her strength today in hope she might be able to join the President tonight in the receiving line at the judiciary reception, first of the functions of the White House winter social season.

For the past week, the President's wife has been suffering from an attack of the grip, contracted when she failed to heed a cold and undertook the rigors of the big public New Year's reception. Since then she has remained close to her apartments, canceling all engagements. Dr. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, believed she would be up to tonight's affair.

Due to the period of mourning which followed the death of Secretary Good, and which necessitated the deferment of the diplomatic reception and the cabinet dinner, the judicial reception will be the first of the strictly formal affairs. The diplomatic corps, the cabinet, the judiciary and all high ranking officials of the government paid their respects on New Year's Day, but so did the general public as well.

This evening, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will receive the Supreme Court and a great many other members of the federal branch and its allied offices. Illness of Chief Justice Taft will detract somewhat from the affair, but in many other respects it will be colorful. Particularly because it is the first of the season, the gowns and jewels on display tonight were expected to be fully as lavish as those noted usually at the diplomatic reception.

The latter-mentioned reception and the cabinet dinner will be sandwiched in between certain others of the later functions on the social calendar.

A reporter suggested that Mayor Kline's statement, "To the victor belongs the spoils," was really an answer, but Dr. Duncan described that statement as "promoting corruption."

EDWARD W. BOK DIES AT 66

schools after he was 13 years old. He became an office boy for the Western Union. By dint of studious application at night he managed to fit himself for the editorship of "The Brooklyn Magazine," a task which he assumed at the age of 19.

Bok's period of achievement dated from the time of his acceptance of the editorship of the "Ladies Home Journal," tendered him by Mr. Curtis, when he was but 25 years old. In 1896 he married Mr. Curtis' daughter, Mary Louise. Two sons, Curtis and Cary, were born.

In 1894 Bok published "The Young Man in Business" and "The Young Man and the Church." These books were followed by "Successward" in 1895 and "Why I Believe in Poverty" in 1915.

BUSY IN RETIREMENT

On September 22, 1919, the date of Bok's retirement as editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, after accumulating a fortune, began ostensibly the period of retirement, but, as a matter of fact, a time filled to the brim with activities encompassing many lines of benevolent endeavor.

"Retire from work while young enough to enjoy life. Become a civic asset to the community," had been Bok's advice to many a successful business man.

Foremost among the distinguished public services rendered by Bok was his donation of the peace prize of $100,000 to any American who could advance the "best practical plan by which the United States may co-operate with other nations to attain and preserve world peace."

Another outstanding effort of the period of retirement was the publishing of "The Americanization of Edward Bok," an autobiography written a half century after his start to success as an immigrant boy from the Netherlands. The book, widely read, was acclaimed by university authorities the leading autobiography of his generation.

MANY ACTIVITIES

Other Bok accomplishments were these:

Created the Philadelphia award of $10,000 to be given each year to the person who performed a single act calculated to promote the best interests of Philadelphia.

Made possible the Philadelphia Forum, a benefit to teachers and civilians of limited means, providing an extensive list of lectures, concerts and entertainments at a nominal sum.

Made the Academy of Music the civic center of Philadelphia.

For five years he was the unknown donor who paid $250,000 in deficits sustained by the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Created eight annual awards consisting of a gold medal and $8,500 to promote better newspaper and periodical advertising in the United States and Canada.

Established the Philadelphia citizens' award, whereby each year the three policemen, the three Fairmount Park guards and the three firemen who perform the most meritorious acts of public service, receive $1,000 each.

Promoted the Dutch branch of the Netherland-American Foundation for the advancement of further relations in art and industry between Holland and the United States.

BORN IN HOLLAND

Bok was born in Den Helder, Holland, October 9, 1863. His great-grandfather was admiral of the Dutch Navy; his grandfather, William Bok, chief justice of the Supreme Court, and his father, William J. H. Bok, one of the ministers of the court of William III.

His father left Holland because of a reversal of fortune and with his family settled in Brooklyn in 1869.

EDWARD W. BOK

Office boy, publisher, millionaire philanthropist, Mr. Bok died today in Florida of a heart attack.

LAY 3 KILLINGS TO JEALOUSY

Jealousy was blamed by detectives today for the double murder and suicide in the rooming house of Lillian May James, 35, Negro, of 25 Crawford street, last night.

The James woman and Alfred Davis, 50, a Negro roomer, were shot to death by Don White, 40, another Negro roomer, police said. White, after shooting the couple, went to his room on the second floor and fired a bullet into his heart.

Neighbors, attracted by the shooting, summoned Patrolmen Keith Hill and Ollie Moran. The victims were taken to Passavant Hospital, but were dead on arrival.

Permits Before Sign Contractors

Discussion of the ordinance forcing sign builders to get permits and regulate signs will be conducted at the meeting of the Master Sign Contractors' Association, to be held tomorrow night in the Fort Pitt Hotel. The meeting will start at 6 o'clock.

Skyrockets Keep Police Overtime 2,300 Hours

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Skyrockets caused Evanston police to put in 2,300 hours extra work without added recompense during 1929, Chief of Police William O. Freeman said in his annual report today.

The skyrockets were placed in vacant lots by children and set off, the police believing them to be bombs. The police put in the long extra hours guarding property and hunting the "bombers" before the truth concerning the explosions became known.

154 PERMITS AT WEST VIEW

West View building amounted to $913,100 last year, according to the annual report of C. A. McClain, borough clerk. This is slightly below the mark of 1928, but is the largest of any of the boroughs north of the Allegheny River, and is expected to carry the assessed valuation of West View above $6,000,000.

Permits were issued in 1929 as follows: Eighty-eight single dwellings, $616,000; one duplex, $10,000; eight double duplexes, $160,000; one double house, $10,000; one school building, $95,000; one addition to dwelling, $500; 54 garages, $21,600.

*Below zero.

Weather Conditions.

Rain continues over the Ohio valley and the lower Mississippi valley, but over the Central Mississippi Valley states and the lake region, the rain has changed to sleet or snow. The low pressure area remained nearly stationary over the valleys, but the Northwest high, apparently, is advancing eastward over Canada. The barometer is still high over the northern plains, 30.96, at Devils Lake, and 30.94 at Moorhead, and a ridge of high pressure extends southward over the northern plains and across the border in Canada. Over North Dakota the temperature ranges from 22 to 34 degrees below zero and over Northern Minnesota from 22 to 28 degrees below. Over Manitoba and Saskatchewan the temperatures are 36 to 46 degrees below zero.

River Conditions.

Moderately heavy rains occurred again over the upper Allegheny, while over the remainder of the district the rains were light. The upper Alegheny is now at moderately high stages. Stage at Franklin is 9.6 feet; Parkers Landing, 9.3; Pittsburgh, 14.3; Dam No. 4, 10.9; Dam No. 6, 12.7; Dam No. 9, 12.6, and Dam No. 12, 10.6. The rivers will continue to rise, the Monongahela only slightly. The stage at Pittsburgh will be between 18.0 and 19.0 feet Friday morning.

'MAD MURDER' RAZORS TRACED

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Investigation of the slaying of Dr. Booth E. Miller, staff physician at the Harrisburg State Hospital, by Moses Sweet, a mentally deranged patient, yesterday, was directed today toward discovering the source of the three razors smuggled to the man.

At an inquest yesterday, a coroner's jury returned a verdict that Dr. Miller had been killed by Sweet, who severed the physician's jugular vein. At the same time, District Attorney Karl E. Richards stressed the fact that, as a person of unsound mind, Sweet cannot be tried for murder.

The admission that the razor with which he attacked Dr. Miller was one of three smuggled into the hospital for him was drawn from Sweet by Dr. E. M. Green, superintendent at the hospital. The patient, however, declined to reveal the identity of the person who brought the razors to him.

At the inquest, the report of the Lunacy Commission which had Sweet committed to the local hospital was read. In it, three physicians agreed that when examined in June, 1929, Sweet was "suffering from hallucinations and was given to insane rages, during which he attempted to attack and harm several persons." In 1924, it was further revealed, Sweet shot and slightly wounded Rudy B. Behm, of Hershey, on whose farm he lived.

HILL ROBBERY SUSPECT HELD

An hour after an armed Negro held up Hyman's Steak House at 1609 Center avenue early today, Patrolmen Fred Lewis and Raymond Miller, of Center Avenue Station, arrested Henry Tate, 30, of 18 Tannehill street, at Crawford and Clark streets, on suspicion. He confesed to the robbery, police said. A revolver and several empty cartridges were found in his pockets. Police said they believed he was responsible for a series of robberies in the Hill district.

LEAGUE SEEKS AID OF U. S. IN DRUG WAR

Co-Operation Will Depend On Form of Program, Washington Intimates

The continued widespread traffic in narcotic drugs, enslaving millions of people in all parts of the world, has caused the League of Nations to call an international conference for this year in an attempt to limit manufacture. In Geneva next Monday the League's opium advisory committee meets to prepare the agenda. The United States steadfastly has advocated curbing the vast over-production of opium to suppress the narcotic menace at the source. This is the first of a series of three articles discussing the international problem and America's attitude.

By KENNETH CLARK.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Dope admittedly is a world affliction and an international problem.

It is a debauching, destroying poison which recognizes no boundaries, no scruples, no peoples.

Profit is its only master.

Millions of people, everywhere, of every race, creed and color, are the enslaved victims of what has been described as "the most hideous monster the world has ever known."

Because of this universality of the dope evil, the enlightened nations of the earth recognized long ago that the illicit drug traffic could be suppressed only through active international co-operation

U. S. LEADS DRIVE

Several attempts have been made in this direction. In each of these the United States has been either the initiator or the motivating, driving force behind the movement.

A new effort is about to be launched, this time under the aegis of the League of Nations.

Aroused by criticisms of its control of the drug traffic, the League has authorized a conference to be held this year, probably in the summer or autumn, to take steps to limit manufacturing of narcotics. The United States and other leading manufacturing and consuming countries are to be invited.

In Geneva next Monday, the League's opium advisory committee assembles to draft the agenda for the proposed conference. What the committee does, whether it adopts an honest program that actually will curb the stupendous overproduction of narcotics, will determine whether the United States participates in the League's conference. An American unofficial observer, John K Caldwell, of the State Department, is in Geneva to watch the proceedings.

LIMITATION VITAL

International control of narcotics involves two fundamental principles:

First—Limitation of production of the raw products, opium and coca leaves, to the world's medical and scientific needs.

Second—Limitation of manufacture of narcotics for the same purposes so that no excess will be available for the illicit dope traffic.

The two problems, in the official American view, are inseparable and must be solved together if the dope evil is to be banished. Other nations, while proclaiming at various times agreement in principle with the American position, have not yet been willing, however, to put into effect the American program for progressive limitation of production. Until this is done, American officials foresee no surcease from the drug menace.

The American position was set forth in a resolution unanimously adopted by Congress. In part, it said:

"That the effective control of these drugs can be obtained only by limiting the production thereof to the quantity required for strictly medicinal and scientific purposes, thus eradicating the source or root of the present conditions, which are solely due to production many times greater than is necessary for such purposes."

All the recent international efforts to control the drug traffic have centered around the American proposal.

'SECRET' TARIFF DATA EXPLODED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—The "confidential information" commercial sugar interests believed their agents here secured on the sliding scale of sugar duties being worked out by government departments, was not confidential at all, the Senate lobby committee was told this afternoon.

It was available to anyone who asked for it, R. L. Purdon, sugar expert of the Commerce Department, said. He was the "expert," described in a "confidential report" of H. H. Pike, Hershey Chocolate Corporation sugar broker, as having given his agents the confidential information. This whole theory was "exploded" by Purdon's testimony. Senator Caraway (Dem.), of Arkansas, committee chairman, declared after Purdon testified.

Senator Reed Smoot (Rep.), of Utah, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, had the department work out a sliding scale of sugar duties, Purdon said. He added that orders for the work, however, were transmitted through Walter Newton, former Republican leader from Minnesota, now a secretary to President Hoover.

Purdon said he was ordered to "confer with the various sugar interests and work out a reconciliation of the demands in a sliding scale.

'MERCY KILLER' ON TRIAL

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—Another "mercy slaying" attracted widespread attention today when Frau Ilse Genehrt went on trial, charged with the murder of her 5 weeks' old son.

Frau Genehrt, who is 21, has admitted killing her son, saying she wanted him to die rather than grow up to a miserable existence. Physicians, she said, had pronounced the infant suffering from an incurable ailment.

The case recalls that of a young Englishman, Richard Corbett, who was recently tried and acquitted on similar charges in France. Corbett admitted killing his mother because he could not stand to see her suffer from the ravages of cancer after physicians had convinced him that the inroads of the disease would eventually result in her death.

BALDWIN BOARD ORGANIZES

John Erbel was selected as chief of the township police and fire department.

15 Kane Firemen Made Policemen

KANE, Pa., Jan. 9.—Burgess E. W. Albertson has already provided Kane with an adequate police force by swearing in the 15 members of the fire police as regular policemen.

The annual battle in council over selection of a chief of police and night patrolman, resulted in the usual deadlock, four councilmen voting for George W. Dunkle, who has been chief for the past year, and four for Clyde J. McKnall, who held the office in 1928. Burgess Albertson broke the tie by voting for McKnall. For night patrolman Dunkle had four votes and Joseph O'Leary four. Albertson cast the deciding vote for O'Leary.

Man Tossed Through Window in Brawl

Testifies He Paid Dry Agents Bribes

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Testimony that he had paid $2,300 for protection to Ben G. Finke, former federal prohibition agent here, was given by Joe Pessin, Milwaukee. He was the first witness in the government's bribery case against Finke in district court. Pessin said he gave Finke $300 on four different occasions, $1,000 on another occasion, and again $100 to aid his brother. Finke was suspended and then discharged from the prohibition force some months ago.

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Jan. 9.—Burgess Frank B. Wilson has received a letter from Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, secretary of welfare, in which she brands the borough jail as "a disgrace."

Walker, oil company chemist, on December 19, was reported.

ACORD GUILTY IN DRY CASE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Art Acord, former cowboy film star, was convicted of charges of possession of liquor in Municipal Court and sentenced to pay a fine of $150 or serve 15 days in jail. Acord offered no defense to the charges and on his plea that he was "broke and friendless," the court ordered a stay of execution of sentence until today, when Acord said he might be able to raise the money.

Acord was returned here from Nogales, Ari. He claimed he had left the city innocently on the assurance of friends that they would arrange for disposition of the charges.

In arresting Acord at Nogales, officers were compelled to use force after the actor attempted to stab one man and escape by leaping from a hotel window.

Liquor Explosion Burns Woman In Dry Raid

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—When deputy sheriffs on a liquor raid knocked at Mrs. Anna Hagen's door they heard a crash of glass and then the woman rushed screaming from the house with her clothing in flames.

One of the officers wrapped his coat about Mrs. Hagen and smothered the flames, but she was severely burned.

She told the raiders a bottle of whisky she had thrown into a stove burst and showered her with burning alcohol.

After being treated Mrs. Hagen was released on $1,000 bond on a liquor charge. The officers said they found six gallons of liquor buried under a dog kennel.

MEXICO SILVER PARLEY URGED

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—The National Federation of Mining Chambers has petitioned the Department of Industry, Commerce and Labor to call a general assembly in Mexico City of all silver mining interests to discuss means of solving the crisis resulting from the drop in quotations of bar silver in New York and other world markets.

Collapse of silver prices has seriously affected Mexican mining interests. Various mining sections have reported that thousands of miners will be out of work soon unless prices rise. El Universal Grafico reported that silver mining interests in the state of Hidalgo had already petitioned the Regional Arbitration and Conciliation Board to grant permission for a reduction in activities.

WILKINS BALKED BY HARDSHIPS

By CAPT. SIR HUBERT WILKINS.
Commander of the Wilkins-Hearst Antarctic Expedition.

DECEPTION ISLAND, (Antarctica) via S. S. Melville and KUP Wireless Station, Jan. 9.—Setbacks and hardships which we have experienced so far have delayed exploration which we expected to finish up by the first of the year. It is unlikely that we will return to New York until April.

The time needed to make the journey by steamer along the pack ice to Longitude 100 west, making flights to the coast at various points, is too great for us to leave before that time.

The dangerous uncertainty of flights over the pack ice, much greater than that presented by the long coastwise flight to the Ross Sea, and the time that must elapse before we can be certain of a safe return, prevents placing an immediate order for the submarine in which we had expected to cross the Arctic Ocean during this coming July. We are unable to make the Ross Sea flight because of the absence of a suitable taking-off field.

Accordingly, my Arctic plans must be postponed until next year.

Had my work here been successfully accomplished by the first of the year, the order for the submarine would have been confirmed, allowing the necessary six months for construction and trials.

The William Scoresby, delayed by a terrific storm, left for the Falkland Islands this afternoon to refuel and take on provisions.

CALLS WIFE, 47, GOLD DIGGER

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—Mrs. Edith Wilmans Born, former well known Texas politician, member of the Texas General Assembly for two years and candidate for governor against "Ma" Ferguson and Dan Moody is suing Henry A. Born in the Superior Court for seperate maintenance, asking $500 temporary alimony.

Judge Joseph Sabath, before whom the case was on trial, refereed it to a master in chancery after a lively exchange in court in which Born characterized his wife a "47-year-old gold digger" and said the case was another Hardinge-Livingstone affair.

"I didn't know a 47-year-old gold digger could dig so hard," Born said in court.

"Born said if he got as much publicity as Hardinge he'd be satisfied," Mrs. Born countered.

They were married last February 28. Mrs. Born charges cruelty and drunkenness.

BOY MAY HOLD KILLING CLUE

A 6-year-old boy who, Fayette County authorities believe, may be able to shed light on the unsolved killing of Constable John Donohoe last July, is believed to be somewhere in Pittsburgh. Little Albert Coll, who, a short time after the murder told startling stories, was taken from Uniontown to Pittsburgh before his testimony could be verified by officers.

This was brought out at the inquest into the killing of Donohoe which started yesterday, but which was continued until additional witnesses are located. R. C. Bledsoe and Glenn Allum, who are serving terms in the Allegheny County Workhouse, are among those wanted for their testimony.

POLICE TELL OF BOY

The story of the missing boy was brought to light yesterday by officers who were present at the inquest. The child is said to have been left by his mother at the home of Mrs. Helen Hess in Uniontown a short time before the murder. Mrs. Hess said she met the mother, Mrs. Coll, two years ago in Pittsburgh, and that she agreed to board the child without learning Mrs. Coll's Pittsburgh address. Neither did she learn why Mrs. Coll wished to send the child to Uniontown.

While officers were endeavoring to verify stories told of the murder by the child, he was taken away by the mother. If authorities believe his testimony important enough, a search will be started here.

GIRL TESTIFIES

At the inquest yesterday the important testimony was given by Miss Margaret Abel, who said that she saw a car driven from the direction of the scene of the murder at 3 o'clock on the morning of the killing. The machine turned into an obscure road in a field and at this point, Miss Abel saw part of a baseball bat thrown out of the car, which then sped away.

Miss Abel testified that at the wheel of the car was a man resembling R. C. Bledsoe, former county detective, now in the workhouse. At his side was another man who resembled Tony Bell, also a former county detective.

The authorities decided to continue the inquest indefinitely to permit the summoning of other witnesses, including those from the workhouse.

Five hundred men and women crowded into the court room for the hearing.

JAIL FIRED, RIOT THWARTED

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 9.—(AP.) Prisoners in the Maricopa County jail last night set fire to the building by throwing a blazing mattress onto the roof of one wing. It was extinguished without serious damage.

Sheriff C. H. Wright said that after the incendiary attempt had been thwarted, prisoners in a section of the jail, four floors above the street, attempted to incite a riot, throwing plates and food to the ground. He moved the men believed responsible to separate cells and issued tear gas bombs to jail guards.

POWER BARONS HELD MENACE TO PRESS

Hearst Papers Lauded in Institute Talk Against Utilities Propagandists

Universal Service.

WINTER PARK, Fla., Jan. 9.—Publishers of independent newspapers in many cases must either listen to the dictates of public utility propagandists or face financial ruin, Judson King, director of the National Popular Government League, Washington, declared here.

He made bitter attack upon public utility propaganda methods, newspapers controlled by power interests and anonymous power editorials before the Rollins College institute of statesmanship.

"Advertising patronage has been used as a lure and a club to control editorial and news policy as far as possible," King said, in referring to a $28,000,000 advertising campaign of power corporations in 1928.

Mr. King said there were three classes of newspapers, one the independent group which were forced to accept public utility demands, the other "the conservative stand-pat newspapers which always voice the will of large capital," and the liberal group, which has fought for genuine public regulation.

PRAISES HEARST PAPERS

Mr. King was high in his praise of the Hearst publications for their public service.

Speaking of the "liberal group," Mr. King said:

"They have fought for genuine regulation. They have favored public ownership where feasible as a matter of editorial policy. They are against corruption of government by the utilities. They have given great space to the investigation and carried information of crucial value which the conservative press has glossed over or ignored. They are giving the valuable data upon electric rates, valuation and political maneuvering as the stand-pat papers have not and will not.

The Hearst newspaper chain has rendered an especial service by reproducing facsimilies large number of letters and exhibits put into the Federal Trade Commission's records, thus eliminating any possible charge of coloring the facts."

ATTACKS SALES

The speaker flayed the purchase by power corporations of such papers as the Chicago Journal, Boston Herald and Transcript and of Frank Gannett's purchase of control of the Brooklyn Eagle and other papers.

"We have chain stores," said Mr. King. "Chain newspapers are on the way and we may not be surprised to discover in some future investigation that the electric power utilities are the controlling interests in many of these chains."

Speaking of the investigation into newspaper ownership by power trusts before the Federal Trade Commission, Mr. King said:

"Already the power trust has started a propaganda to make the nation believe that this investigation has been one-sided and a persecution."

CHICAGO POLICE GET JOBS BACK

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—After a session punctuated by hisses and jeers from a crowded balcony, a battle-torn City Council has voted to provide the necessary funds to reinstate 473 policemen and 220 firemen, who lost their jobs through reduced appropriations in Chicago's 1930 budget.

The men were ordered to return to work today.

The Council's decision to restore the discharged personnel climaxed a bitter deadlock late yesterday between Mayor William Hale Thompson and the aldermen, which was precipitated when the Mayor vetoed the budget voted by the Council last week, which had been cut $5,000,000 from last year's figure.

LOSERS "SAVE FACE"

Hundreds of spectators, most of them discharged employes, packed Council Chamber galleries and cheered the administration's fight to maintain the veto which meant restoration of more than 1,000 jobless workers.

During the debate both factions vied with each other in an effort to convince spectators that neither caused the wholesale dismissals and each was striving to preserve the canceled jobs.

Hisses and jeers often interrupted the speakers, depending on the stand they took. Supporters of the veto measure received loud cheers.

VOTE TODAY

When the Council failed to rally a caucus to over-ride the Mayor's veto, it was decided to submit a resolution calling for restoration of the men to their jobs and also pledging the Legislature to provide the necessary funds. A vote is scheduled for today.

With the prospect of the crippled police force being restored to its normal strength, crime last night reached a new record when 40 holdups were reported in eight hours.

MOVIE FLIGHT KILLING 10 HIT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—A coroner's jury which included three experienced aviators, condemned the flight of two motion picture camera planes which collided 3,500 feet above the Pacific ocean two miles off Point San Vicente last Thursday with the loss of 10 lives as "too hazardous."

A score of witnesses was questioned by Coroner Frank Nance. They testified concerning the mission of the camera planes, witnessing of the actual collision, the condition of the pilots and planes before the flight, and the identity of the dead.

The jury found "that the 10 men died in a collision caused by two airplanes flying continuously in too close formation, one of the planes turning within a too short radius and the possibility of sun glare.

"We believe that flying of such nature is too hazardous, that it in no way encourages commercial aviation and in too many instances seems unnecessary."

At the time the verdict was being prepared, Lieut. Col. Roscoe Turner, pilot of the plane from which a parachute jumper was to have leaped into the sea Thursday in order that cameras in the two ill-fated ships might picture the action for a sequence in a film, was scattering the ashes of one of the victims, Kenneth Hawks, director, over the spot where the accident occurred. Mary Astor, film actress and widow of Hawks and a group of friends watched Turner's flight from the Palisades along the shore.

Fred Osbourne, parachute technician in Turner's plane Thursday, and Turner, were witnesses at the inquest.

URGES RESERVE REPLACE ARMY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—Abandonment of the National-Defense plan which calls for an army reserve of 1,000,000 men and reduction of the standing army in view of the "increased efficiency of the National Guard" was suggested to Congress today by Representative Henry R. Barbour (R.), of California, chairman of the appropriations sub-committee on the War Department, as a means of effecting President Hoover's plan for a drastic cut in the nation's military expenditures.

The proposals were placed before the House as it began consideration of the annual army supply bill, which calls for more than $450,000,000.

CANADIANS BID FOR EMIGRES

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—A loan of $150,000 has been offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to pay for emigration to Canada of 62 Swedish families recently repatriated from the village of Gammalsvenskby, in Southern Russia. The refugees have not yet decided whether to accept the offer.

Most of the 900 Gammalsvenskby people, who after a 150 years exile by their families were brought back to Sweden, will remain here. A small contingent has decided to settle eleswhere, preferably in Canada. The climate in Sweden and the comparative difficulty in obtaining large tracts of land for agriculture were given as reasons for the desire to move on.

Wife of Canadian Trapper Is Kin Of Ex-Kaiser

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—A trapper's wife, whose husband has been missing nearly two months in wild country about 100 miles inland, was declared in a copyrighted article in Vancouver Sun to be the former Marta Von Mecklenburg, a German countess in her own right and relative of the ex-Kaiser.

The paper said she is a descendant of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg but prefers to be known as Mrs. Marcus Cox. She came to America 14 years ago and married Cox, a native of Western Canada.

SENTENCED FOR VEILING NEWS

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—The South African Journalists' Society is deeply stirred over a question of professional privilege, in connection with a recent item in the Rand Daily Mail concerning an illegal lottery.

A reporter, David Louw, was summoned to the Magistrates' Court and called upon to divulge the names of the promoters of the lottery and the hotel where the draw took place. He refused to do so on the ground he was pledged not to reveal the facts, and was sentenced to eight days' imprisonment for contempt of court.

The order, however, was suspended for a week in order to allow notice of appeal to a higher court or for Louw to reconsider his attitude. The incident aroused the London District Council of the Institute of Journalists to pass a resolution supporting the South African Society's protest against the sentence.

Bull Runs Amuck In Spain; Slain With Razor

SALAMANCA, Spain, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—A bull crashed the gate of the arena here, fled to the street and then crashed the door of the city hall.

The bull climbed the winding stairs of the hall and rushed into the assembly room. A doorman who attempted to stop the bellowing intruder was gored.

After smashing mirrors and overturning furniture, the bull returned to the street and charged into a crowd, injuring two persons. A young man climbed a lamppost, drew a razor from his pocket and hurled himself at the animal's throat, killing it.

Coolidge to Give Radio Talk on Insurance

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

CALVIN COOLIDGE will speak on "The Economic of Life Insurance" through KDKA at 9:30 tonight.

The appearance of Irene Bordoni and Maurice Chevalier will brighten programs from a thespian viewpoint, while the Philco Hour, making its debut as a Columbia feature, will be the focus of many ears.

Bordoni will be teamed with Rudy Vallee, WCAE at 8. Chevalier, the "Idol of France," will sing for us as guest artist of Coty Perfumers, WJAS at 8:30 p. m.

Jerome Kern's "Lamplight" has been chosen for the initial Philco Hour at 10 o'clock over WJAS. Lois Bennett will be heard in the feminine lead, taking the place of Jessica Dragonette, who won wide fame in this role when Philco Hour was an NBC feature. The production will be directed by Henry M. Neely, "The Old Stager."

Frederick G. Rodgers, baritone and program supervisor of all Westinghouse stations, has struck on a novel idea for the 6:15 program from KDKA. He will sing the most popular "signature songs" on the air, including the "Perfect Song" of Amos 'n' Andy and "Slumber On," of Milton J. Cross renown.

"Fifty Years of Light Opera" will be recounted by artists on the Victor Hour, a WCAE highlight at 10 o'clock.

We Now Present

LEONARD MAKES GRADE

Six feet six of Southern jollity wandered into the WJAS studios recently and with characteristic Negro curiosity inspected the $5,000 rug, pianos, microphones and other parapehrnalia, without saying a word to anyone. Then he decided he wanted to broadcast.

"Tse Leonard Mayweather, Boss," the happy one addressed Jim Hughes. "I don't see nuthin round here for making noise like a train so I wanna join your company."

Perplexed, Jim didn't know what to say. Then, "You mean you can make a noise like a train?" Jim asked.

"Uh, huh. That's all I had to do when I lived in Carolina; just sit by the railroad and listen to them trains comin' by until I learned to . . . to . . . to" and the darkie stumbled for an expression.

"To imitate them," put in Jim. "Uh, huh. Make noises just like them."

So Jim took Leonard into the studio for an audition. With his lips puckered, Leonard pulled from his pocket an old harmonica and soon put over a mental picture of a slow freight, a fast freight, a "Limited" and, as Leonard said, "a train Alabama bound."

Leonard was signed up for an early appearance when he will give listeners all sorts of train imitations with his harmonica.

"Say, when that fellow gets going he outshines the Empire Builders," Hughes remarked.

Leonard must stoop to get into the WJAS studios and he's only 21.

Recalls Great Lakes Game.
The spectacular football encounter between Annapolis and the Great Lakes Training Station teams in 1918 will be recalled by Phillips Carlin.
Because of the war and the army graduation of upper classmen for active service, there was no Army-Navy football game in 1918. Great excitement marked the clash between Navy and the Great Lakes boys. The Navy scored a touchdown in the final quarter, but failed to kick the goal. In the last few minutes of play Ellson, Great Lakes right half, picked up the ball, raced through the Navy team and tore down the field toward the goal line. Saunders, a Navy substitute, dashed from the sidelines and tackled him on the 30-yard line. Several Lakes players threw the tackler off. Ellson scored the touchdown, Great Lakes succeeded in kicking the goal and the game ended with the score 7-6.

Auto Show Contest

$300 Cash Prizes—200 Show Tickets

(The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph co-operating with the Pittsburgh Automobile Dealers' Association, is donating these prizes for the best answers and slogans).

HERE is the Sun-Telegraph Automobile Puzzle Contest, based on passenger cars to be exhibited in the forthcoming annual Automobile Show to be held at Motor Square Garden, January 18 to 25, inclusive.

Three separate puzzle pictures, in each of which will be concealed the name of an automobile and in each of which the artist has made at least 10 errors will be published for 10 days in the daily and Sunday Sun-Telegraph.

Readers of the Sun-Telegraph are invited to find the names of the automobiles and five of the artists' 10 errors in each puzzle and send them to the Auto Show Contest Editor, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, 612 Grant street, together with a good slogan, descriptive of the Automobile Show. YOU MUST SEND ALL YOUR ANSWERS AT THE SAME TIME IN ONE ENVELOPE AT THE COMPLETION OF THE CONTEST. ACCURACY, NEATNESS AND CLEVERNESS OF SLOGAN WILL BE CONSIDERED IN AWARDING THE PRIZES.

Prizes totaling $300 in gold and 200 show tickets are to be awarded the winners in the contest. Be sure to put your name and address with the slogan at the top of the first page. Your name should appear on each page you send in.

The final pictures will be published January 16. All answers must be in the hands of the Auto Show Contest Editor no later than noon, Friday, January 17. The winners will be announced at the Automobile Show, Monday evening, January 20 and in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph on January 21.

At various times during the contest, the names of passenger cars to be exhibited at the show will be printed. From this list contestants are to pick the names of the cars.

CONTESTANTS ARE NOT TO SEND IN ANSWERS UNTIL THE FINAL PUZZLE PICTURES HAVE BEEN PRINTED. THEN SEND THEM IN ALL TOGETHER AT THE SAME TIME.

WRITE THE NAMES OF CARS ON SEPARATE SHEETS OF PAPER WITH THE MISTAKES OF EACH PICTURE IN THE ORDER IN WHICH THE PICTURES APPEARED.

Your slogan must accompany the answers. It may be either rhyme or prose and should be applicable to the Automobile Show. It must be short, snappy and clever. Remember it is an important factor in deciding the winners.

Any person is eligible to enter this contest, except employes of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph or members of their families.

LIST OF PRIZES

For the best list of correct auto names, discovered mistakes, and the cleverest slogan, the following prizes will be awarded:

First prize—$100 in gold.
Second prize—$50 in gold.
Third prize—$25 in gold.
Five prizes of $10 each, $50 in gold.
Fifteen prizes of $5 each, $75 in gold.
And 100 prizes of two tickets each, good any afternoon at the Auto Show.

In case of ties, equal prizes will be awarded tying contestants.

Following is a list of representative cars:

Blackhawk	Lincoln
Buick	Marmon

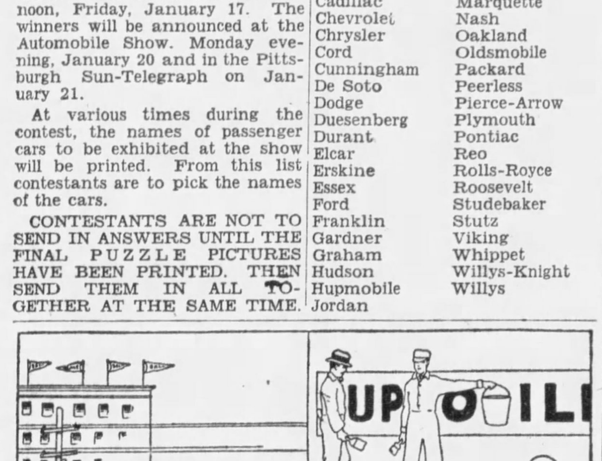
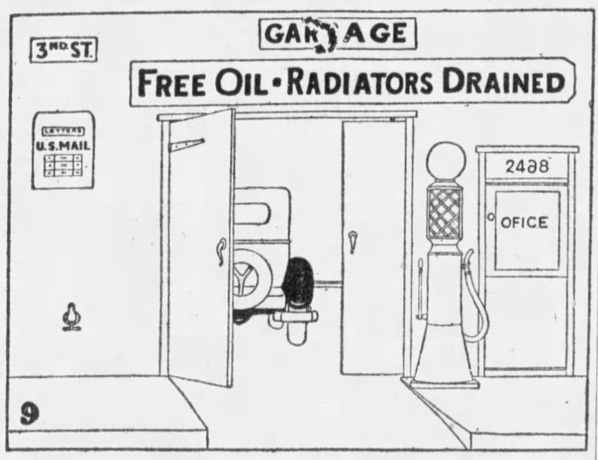
This picture contains 10 mistakes intended by the artist. Try to find five of them and list them. Only five are required on your list. You must also discover the name of a make of automobile. The painters are putting it on the sign, but only the UP OIL are now in view. Perhaps you can figure out what letters are still needed to complete the name. There should certainly be a letter where the bucket is at present, and we can see that the sign extends beyond the edge of the picture.



Find five of the 10 mistakes in the picture. The artist put them there, so they can be discovered. A correct list must contain five of his mistakes; they are the only ones that are counted. The city plates at the right have been put in special order. By studying them you can trace the name of a make of automobile, which should be included in your answer to the puzzle.



Look this picture over and try to discover five of the 10 mistakes that the artist made intentionally. Your answer must include only these five mistakes to be correct. The name of a make of automobile may be discovered by studying the picture. It stands out quite plainly if you look for the most important letters or symbols, and ignore others.

PROGRAMS ON AIR TONIGHT

lighter, whose profession is dying before his eyes, comes to light the lamp for the last time. While he is contemplating the lamp, an old woman enters. The lamp-lighter knows her well, for she has been coming nightly to the old lamp to keep a tryst with one who will never return.

The second scene is set on the same locale in the year 1807, and discloses an army officer affixing a notice to the wall, which proclaims that Napoleon has called all recruits to join their commands at lamplight. A boy and girl enter and watch the soldiers march by; the girl is weeping, for the boy in a few moments must join them. The lamp-lighter, now a hearty figure of 40, watches the two pledge undying love and promise to meet again under the lamp.

An orchestral interlude brings back the story again to 1845—dawn of the morning following the first scene. It is snowing, the old woman is still keeping her hopeless tryst, and the gas men are attaching the new gas light and dismantling the old lamp. The old lamp-lighter returns, as if from force of habit, and at sight of him the gas men wish him luck as they break up the old light for junk. At the sound, the old woman raises her eyes and totters to the lamp, where the lamp-lighter, as broken as his lamp, kneels beside her. Gone is her trysting place, and with the marching tune to which her sweetheart went to the wars on her lips, she dies, her tryst still unkept.

Verdi's "La Traviata."

The frail Violetta Valery makes the acquaintance of Alfred Germont, and for love of him abandons her questionable life. They lead an idyllic existence in the country, until during Alfred's absence his father comes to Violetta and tells her that the future of Alfred and the fortunes of his sister have been destroyed by his connection with her. With growing remorse she listens to the pathetic words of old Germont, and through his influence leaves her lover, giving as explanation a desire for her old gay existence. In order to drown her grief, she plunges more wildly than ever into dissipation, and when met by Alfred at an entertainment is insulted by him. Violetta's admirer, Baron Douphal, challenges Alfred, and Violetta, already far from strong, is made seriously ill by the excitement. Old Germont, moved by compassion, and realizing that Violetta's love is sincere, gives his consent to the union of the lovers. Alfred, understanding at last that Violetta had sacrificed herself for her sake, comes to beg her forgiveness; and she dies in his arms.

POLICE BATTLE NEW YORK MOB

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Police reserves were called to the American Museum of Natural History last night to quell a disturbance created by a crowd which was under the impression it was being barred from a lecture on the Einstein theory.

As the time for the lecture approached, an unusually large crowd began to pour into the building. Attendants attempted to keep order. Thinking they were being kept out, a group of young men swept the attendants aside. Women were knocked down and stepped on. The crowd pressed forward into the wing housing American Indian war canoes, totem poles and similar exhibits.

A guard telephoned for the police, who charged the crowd and restored order momentarily. A few minutes later, at the auditorium entrance, an overflow crowd became restless. Bruised and tearful women who had been in the other melee were again caught in a rush which tore the iron gate from the door of the Alaskan exhibition wing.

The police again charged the crowd, swinging night sticks, and order was restored.

4 BOYS HELD AS GRAVE ROBBERS

What Homestead and Munhall police thought was a fanatic stealing the markers and defacing the graves of old soldiers in St. Mary's and the Soldiers' cemeteries in that district proved to be a gang of small boys, police said today.

Four of them, residing in Munhall, were held for Juvenile Court last night by Justice of the Peace E. M. Cox. One of the youths, whose names the unpublished due to their tender years, confessed and implicated three others. He said the 25 markers taken were to be sold for junk. A dealer to whom they tried to sell reported the incident to police.

Mrs. Elizabeth Francis, the mother, charges that her husband, Robert, visited Ira Busby, the defendant, September 28, the day of his death. Shortly after his visit, the suit alleges, Francis dropped dead. Death was due to apoplexy, a coroner's jury decided.

Busby admitted receiving a call from Francis, but said Francis had called to see about buying a stove.

23 New "Eights"

Here they come . . .

THE BIG PARADE

OF THE NEW 1930 MODELS

THE NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE SHOWS are exhibiting more new models this year than ever before. The automobile manufacturers have given the greatest values ever in the 1930 new models. How does the 16-cylinder job perform? Are the front drives developing any new riding qualities? What are the changes in the new line of eights that are being shown for the first time at the Shows? These and hundreds of other questions that arise with the showing of so many new models are answered intelligently in the pages of January MoToR by writers most conversant with the subjects.

The technical staff in the January Show Issue of MoToR gives complete specifications and intimate studies of the performances of all cars. They give you an impartial and accurate comparison of data. Complete specifications are supplemented by actual photographs to give an absolute knowledge of every car.

Prices of all models, wheel base, width of seats, type of wheel, what accessories are standard equipment, compression ratios, kind of brakes, turning radius, R.P.M.—together with hundreds of pictures, special drawings and complete details, make January MoToR indispensable to every prospective or present car owner.

JOBLESS AIDS URGED IN BILLS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Senator Wagner (Dem.), of New York, has prepared for introduction three bills dealing with the unemployment problem.

The first would provide for long range planning of public works to stabilize employment under the direction of a board composed of the secretaries of treasury, commerce, agriculture and labor. Under it, $150,000,000 annually would be authorized to speed up federal projects during periods of depression.

Under the second, the federal government would co-operatre in the maintenance of state and municipal employment offices with $4,000,000 annually authorized for the purpose.

The third proposal would expand the statistical work of the Bureau of Labor Statistics to gather information regarding various types of employment.

SOVIET ENVOY, GUILTY, EXILED

MOSCOW, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—M. Bessedovsky, former charge d'affaires of the Soviet embassy at Paris, was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment after conviction of embezzlement of funds of the embassy. Bessedovsky, however, is still in France, so that the sentence would appear to have no other effect than to exile him.

The public prosecutor decided to investigate further allegations that Bessedovsky had indulged in treasonable activities against the Soviet government and may present charges on this score to a court later, in which death doubtless would be the penalty. Bessedovsky ignored an invitation of the Soviet government to send a lawyer from Paris to defend him in the trial.

STATE'S HELP SURE OF JOBS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—The Governor must approve employment of all persons, whether temporary or permanent, in all departments except those of the state treasurer and the auditor general, William A. Schnader, a special deputy attorney general, advised Arthur P. Townsend, budget secretary.

Workers hired for temporary positions must be paid at wages provided by the department heads with approval of the Governor, the opinion said. In cases where employes are hired on probation they must be paid at the rates set up for the particular class of work in the standard scale of salaries provided by the executive board.

EDITORS FREED BY MACHADO

HAVANA, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Two Santiago De Cuba newspaper editors, Carlos Dellunde and Antonio Arroyo who were brought here under heavy military guard to face charges of sedition in connection with published articles, were freed yesterday by President Machado. All complaints against them were dismissed.

Their release resulted from a conference this afternoon of all newspaper men of Havana at which Dellunde and Arroyo were present. Having been brought from Cabanas Fortress in charge of Congressman Winfredo Fernandez, publisher of the newspaper "Excelsior-Pais." It was decided the two men were falsely accused and that their arrest by the military was a breach of constitutional rights.

You wouldn't care to meet Marvin

MONEY. Charm. Ability. In all New York there was no abler man in his field. Yet people called him "the prince of pariahs."

Men thought him a great fellow—for a little while. Women grew romantic about him—until they knew. People welcomed him at first—then dropped him as though he were an outcast.

Poor Marvin, yearning so for companionship and always denied it. Poor Marvin, ignorant of his nickname and ignorant, likewise, of the foundation for it.

Halitosis (unpleasant breath) is the damning, unforgivable, social fault. It doesn't announce its presence to its victims. Consequently it is the last thing people suspect themselves of having—but it ought to be the first.

For halitosis is a definite daily threat to all. And for very obvious reasons, physicians explain. So slight a matter as a decaying tooth may cause it. Or an abnormal condition of the gums. Or fermenting food particles skipped by the tooth brush. Or minor nose and throat infections. Or excesses of eating, drinking and smoking.

Intelligent people recognize the risk and minimize it by the regular use of full strength Listerine as a mouth wash and gargle. Night and morning. And between times before meeting others.

Listerine quickly checks halitosis because Listerine is an effective antiseptic and germicide which immediately strikes at the cause of odors. Furthermore, it is a powerful deodorant, capable of overcoming even the scent of onion and fish.

Keep Listerine handy in home and office. Carry it when you travel. Take it with you on your vacation. It is better to be safe than snubbed.

INQUEST FAILS TO NAME KILLER

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—The identity of the slayer of Jean S. Hassewer, who accused a gang of men of extortion, was unrevealed by a coroner's investigation. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Hassewer was killed by unknown persons. He was found shot to death in his cabinet shop Monday night.

Hassewer caused the arrest and indictment of five men last fall, including William Begley, who at the time was a sergeant on the police force. He claimed they had extorted $700 from him to "fix a case" they are alleged to have told him was about to be filed against him and another man who sold him a "money-making" machine.

Church Vanishing In Northwest, Mission Report

ATLANTIC CITY, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Dr. Jay Stowell, of the Methodist Board of Home Missions, in an address here said that mission work in the Northwest must be conducted along new lines if an impression is to be made. Churches, he said, are not reaching the boys and girls, 75 per cent of whom in the State of Washington are not getting any religious instruction. The automobile, he asserted, had decentralized interest of rural people.

"I traveled all over Washington," he said, "and I visited community after community where there was no church. There is utter collapse. They do not care whether a church comes, or whether it goes."

MEXICAN TO TRY HOP TO EUROPE

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Col. Alfredo Lezma, one of the Mexican Army's best-known pilots, has announced that he will start soon after February 1 on a flight through Central and South America, and thence across the Atlantic to Europe.

The Colonel has not yet announced his exact itinerary, which will probably take him to Brazil and then on a trans-Atlantic hop to a point in Africa.

Col. Roberto Fierro, another of Mexico's quartet of "Flying Colonels," is grooming a plane in Los Angeles for a similar flight, which will take him first to New York and other eastern cities. He expects to start before March 1.

Col. Pablo Sidar, perhaps the best known of the quartet, who has just completed a three months' goodwill tour of South America, is expected to leave soon for Brazil to aid the Universal Aircraft Expedition in scientific exploration of the jungles.

Col. Gustavo Leon is planning a non-stop flight from Tiajuana, Lower California, to Merida, Yucatan, a distance of about 2,000 miles, down the complete length of Mexico.

Lent Hoover Coat, Now Held on Bad Check Charge

DETROIT, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—The man who loaned President Hoover his raincoat, faces charges of passing a worthless $40 check.

He is Donald Henderson, who supplied a coat for the President when the latter came into the Detroit City Hall dripping wet last October. Henderson told police he had lost his money in the stock market crash. In his pocket was a letter from the President, another from Henry Ford and a Christmas card from the President and Mrs. Hoover, all inspired by the raincoat incident, which occurred during Thomas Edison's Golden Jubilee of Light.

Henderson gave his age as 32 and his address as a local hotel. He was alleged to have cashed the worthless check in a department store.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—There were 96,285 more passenger automobiles licensed in Pennsylvania last year than in 1928.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

LOVEJOY — By Beatrice BURTON

SIDEWALKS of PITTSBURGH

by WILLIAM PFARR

THE first robin of the year was sighted yesterday in Murrayhill avenue by Grafton Duvall, the professional robin-sighter. This in itself is not so unusual, but the robin happened to be wearing a straw hat—the first straw hat of the year.

A paragraph in Sidewalks on the beer parties at Schuetzen Park jogged the memories of several admirers of pre-prohibition froth out of these recollections:

There were speakeasies even in the good old days. On Sunday, with the saloons closed, home-owners would set up the stuff on the sideboard and solicit willing customers.

Young men were wont to sneak away from the picnics at Calhoun Park and seidel down to Evans' saloon near Lincoln Place for a gigantic ham sandwich (cost: five cents) and a glass of beer.

Miller's saloon on South Twelfth street sold beer at three cents the glass.

Kramer's Atlantic Garden in Diamond was modelled after a German beer garden.

The Brooks law insisted that borough saloons close at 10 p. m., city saloons at midnight. When the customers left Fallert's in Knoxville at 10 they stepped right across the street, which was the borough line, to the Twelve O'clock House.

The accepted method of getting rid of sleeping John Drunks was to shake used dishes in front of them and demand payment for food they had never seen.

Mike Thornton had the only all-night license for his saloon in the Diamond.

The de luxe saloon of the town was Billy Hamel's, in the Jenkins Arcade. Billy, now dead, weighed more than 300 pounds and was a popular, picturesque host.

The hangout for John L. Sullivan and all the other sporty notables who came to town was John Newell's, in Fifth avenue, between Wood and Smithfield.

IN BEHALF of the people of Pennsylvania, Sidewalks wants to thank Gov. Fisher for the 1930 license plates. You'd have to go far and wide, if not farther and wider, to find a commonwealth that will supply its taxpayers entertainment, but that is just what Gov. Fisher's domain has done with the 1930 license plates.

The new plates, with their added letters, suggest wisecracks, and it is neither here nor there that the wisecracks we have heard thus far haven't been so good. With a powerful exhibition of restraint we shall simply list a few of the numbers and allow you to supply your own wisecracks:

Mayor Kline set a new sartorial high with the costume he wore for his second inauguration. And his appointees tried to maintain high stand-

IN that royal wedding in Rome neither one had much choice of selection, unless they married outside royalty. If you think that wedding attracted a lot of attention, you wait till one of Mussolini's sons marries one of Ramsay MacDonald's daughters.

They offered Babe Ruth the same salary that Mr. Hoover gets. Babe claims he should have more. He can't appoint a commission to go up and knock the home runs, he has to do it all himself.

Lindbergh refused the St. Louis statue, now the whole world will force one on him, not for flying the ocean, but for being the first man that ever refused a statue.

NORTH SIDE SITE BOOSTED FOR TOWN HALL

Organization Opens Fight For Accessible Location; Civic Bodies Take Action

The possibility that the "Osterling site" on the North Side for the proposed $6,000,000 county Town Hall may be indorsed by the Allegheny County (Downtown) Town Hall Association was admitted today by J. C. Chaplin, president of the Colonial Trust Company and chairman of the organization.

Mr. Chaplin said today: "The Allegheny County Town Hall Association is in favor of any site in or adjacent to the Golden Triangle. It is unselfish in its objective which is to obtain a convention hall in Pittsburgh, placed where it will be convenient to the railroad terminals and hotels.

OPPOSED TO OAKLAND

"It does not advocate any single site for the hall, but wants the town hall built soon and in a location where it will be of some use. The members of the organization are unanimously opposed to putting the hall in the Oakland district. If it develops that more money is needed for a hall downtown, then that money should be provided.

"We would rather see the hall in the downtown district, but if it develops that it cannot be put there then we most assuredly will indorse a North Side site adjacent to the Golden Triangle. If the matter came to a showdown between the Schenley site and the Osterling site we would unquestionably be for the Osterling site."

CIVIC BODIES APPROVE

Chaplin's statement came after the announcement by W. H. Newmyer, president of the Federated Civic Bodies of the North Side, that the 15 civic bodies affiliated with the organization had withdrawn their indorsement of the Monument Hill site and unanimously approved the Osterling site.

The North Side organization met last night. An immediate campaign to urge the building of the hall on the Osterling site will be inaugurated, Newmyer said.

The site is at the North end of the Ninth street bridge.

Tom's Wealthy Courtship Rival Sends Gift To Newlyweds

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Armed with happiness, love and youth, Tom Nicholson and Lovejoy Mason are married. Tom's salary is small. They take a tiny flat. To both marriage was a leap in the dark.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER II.

WHEN the wedding supper was over Aunt Em followed Lovejoy into her own room to help her pack her clothes.

"I'll take them all home with me tonight," the girl decided, pulling a little flat steamer trunk from under her bed.

Aunt Em shook her head. "You can't," she said briskly. "Half of them need mending, and the other half need pressing and cleaning. So you'll just have to leave them here until I can get at 'em . . . Goodness knows you'd never be able to fix them up yourself, Lovejo, Mason."

And that was the truth. Aunt Em had done more than her duty for her dead sister's child all her life. She had waited on her hand, foot and finger for twenty years.

She had mended her clothes, washed her head, brought her breakfasts to her in bed, kept her room clean, done a hundred and one things for her that most girls do for themselves.

The result was that Lovejoy without a penny in the world, was as helpless as a baby and as spoiled as a pampered daughter of a millionaire.

"I'll put some things into a suitcase for you," Aunt Em decided, and dragged a shabby straw case out of the clothes-closet. "And on Monday, I'll get to work on the rest of your clothes—Lovejoy, what am I going to say to Steve Oglebay when he calls up?"

Lovejoy, picking up her brushes and bottles from the dresser-top, frowned. She put her bright head to one side and studied her reflection in the mirror before her with somber thoughtful eyes.

"Well, he'll have to know I'm married sooner or later," she answered slowly. "So, you'd better just tell him the truth. He's known for a long time how much Tom and I think of each other."

She gave her shoulders a little shake as if she were shaking herself free from the very thought of Steve Oglebay. Steve, who had wanted to marry her for three years, and who never had had the ghost of a chance with her.

But it wasn't so easy to put him out of her mind just then.

For the very bottle of perfume that she held in her hands had been a birthday present from him a month before.

He had given her the photograph of himself that hung on her wall in a silver frame.

On the little table beside her bed was a package of books that he had sent to her only yesterday.

"He called up at 4 this afternoon," Aunt Em said after a pause. "I told him to telephone tomorrow morning, so I suppose he will."

She sighed. "He's the man I would have liked to see you marry," she added with all the frankness in the world. "He had everything I wanted you to have. Money and position and—"

"Money!" Lovejoy's eyes were full of sudden scorn and she snapped her fingers to show how little money meant to her. "Who cares about money?"

"You!" her aunt told her with snap and vigor. "You care about it. You don't realize it yet, because you've never had to do without it. You've always had me to look after you, and your Uncle James to put pennies into your pocket when you needed them. But wait until you haven't the price of a manicure in your purse, and your clothes begin to wear out, and so on and so forth. Wait 'til the pinch comes. You won't be so ready to snap your fingers, young lady."

But right from the beginning they did snap their fingers at money—Lovejoy and Tom.

Right from the beginning they snapped their fingers at their poverty. They chucked it under their chin. They kidded it, and made it their pal.

There is an old saying that goes like this:

"When poverty comes in at the door,
Love flies out of the window."

But that wasn't true of the young Nicholsons.

Poverty was right with them from the start, even on that first Saturday night when they came home to the little flat and stepped into the living room with their bags and bundles.

Tom switched on the light and stood looking around the pretty room with a dissatisfied expression in his blue eyes.

"I should have bought a whole lot of flowers for this place—and I know it," he said, his hands in his pockets, jingling some loose silver in them. "Every bride ought to be smothered with flowers on her wedding day. But, Lovey, I just knew I couldn't afford them."

His eyes swept the cream-colored walls of the little room.

"It looks awfully bare, doesn't it?" he asked.

Lovejoy shook her head. She came close to him and laid her copper-and-gold head on his cheek.

"Listen to me, Tom Nicholson," she said. "If any one asked me what Heaven looks like, at this moment, I'd say that it had a room with cream-colored walls and a smoking table and a green couch and a picture of Mona Lisa over the mantel."

She pulled him down upon the green couch beside her, and ran her fingers through his hair, rumpling it.

"Take a look at Mona Lisa, Tom," she said, gazing up at the famous smiling face in the picture. "And then tell me if she's prettier than I am . . ."

He stopped her mouth with a kiss.

Injured in Crash, Gets $6,200 Verdict

Charles E. Nolan and his wife, Elizabeth H. Nolan, were awarded a verdict of $6,200 in Common Pleas Court yesterday, against J. Simon Weinstein, of Mars, Pa., in their suit for personal injuries sustained by Mrs. Nolan, October 22, 1927, in an automobile collision. At the time of the accident the Nolan's were living at 3515 Forbes street. The machine of Weinstein, a scrap iron dealer, was being driven by an employe. Mrs. Nolan's principal hurts were to her back.

FIGHT ON TAX BOOSTS URGED

Watchdog tactics by property owners for the coming year so that they will be well prepared with facts against further tax increases, were advocated today in the address of J. W. Bamford, chairman of the tax committee of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board, at the Kiwanis Club luncheon in the Fort Pitt Hotel.

Bamford suggested that the club members affiliate themselves with the Central Tax Committee to fight tax millage increases. The committee is composed of service, trade and civic club members, he said.

He urged the men to be ready with facts next year so that they may wage a successful fight against further increases. He pointed out that there has been an increase of 170 per cent in millage rates in city taxes in 15 years, and an 88 per cent increase in county and school rates.

MOTHER WINS CARE OF GIRL

Mrs. Bessie Murray, of 114 Miltenberger street, is a good cook and a capable housekeeper whose home is dustless, her counsel, Harry I. Miller, brought out in Common Pleas Court to prove his contention that the mother was a capable guardian for her daughter, Ruth, 13.

Mrs. Murray had brought action against her former husband, Earl Gregg, of 1915 Federal street, McKeesport, the girl's father, for possession of Ruth, who was located through The Sun-Telegraph. Gregg's contention was that his wife was not a fit guardian.

Judge Ambrose B. Reid gave Mrs. Murray temporary possession of the daughter.

Mrs. Murray told of Gregg's refusing to tell her of Ruth's whereabouts after the divorce in 1922. When Mrs. Murray saw Ruth's name in this newspaper in a report from Jamestown, N. Y., she arranged for her daughter to visit her.

Hungarian Club Will Hold Dance

The annual dance of the Hungarian Students' Club of the University of Pittsburgh will be held tomorrow night in the Faculty club. Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Elmer, Rev. Andor Leffler and Mrs. Ruth Crawford Mitchell will be host and hostesses. A Hungarian gypsy orchestra will play.

Lecturer Is Late, Scientist Here To Speak

Owing to the late arrival in this country of Andre Roosevelt, scheduled to lecture tonight at the Carnegie Museum, Dr. Heber Doust Curtis, director of the Allegheny Observatory, will speak.

"Around the World to Chase a Shadow," is the topic of Dr. Curtis' lecture. He will tell of solar eclipses he has studied and journeys and experiences encountered in his studies.

The Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's question: When Mayor Kline took his oath of office, he told reporters that "to the victor belong the spoils." What do you think of this as a political idea?

STELLA LABA, South Side, private secretary: "Well, to tell you the truth, I have not read much about that. If Kline's friends are all in office, they'll certainly take all the people's money that they can get. Don't we pay plenty of taxes without having all the money taken away by the politicians?"

Miss Laba

ANN ABELLE SCHMIDT, Squirrel Hill, artist: "Not always. It depends upon the victor and upon the spoils. Mr. Kline is the right victor, I guess, and he'll probably see that the spoils get to the right men, too."

Miss Schmidt

THERESA ROSIELLO, Brushton, doctor's assistant: "That isn't right. They shouldn't be in office just because they're the mayor's friends. They ought to be in for merit. If they're not deserving, they shouldn't be there, that's all."

Miss Rosiello

EARL W. HEPNER, Squirrel Hill, radio dealer: "Oh, yes, that's good politics. Help those that help you, provided they are capable. And 'Charlie' will generally pick up able men."

E. W. Hepner

MRS. ELIZABETH RUSSELL, Homewood, cashier: "I don't believe in it at all. The man that does his work best is the one that should have the office. A lot of men who don't do good work are given jobs because they're politicians, or friends of politicians. When I vote for somebody, I vote for the man I think is best, not for the man who will give me a job. I voted for Kline, too."

Mrs. Russell

M. L. GREEN, Squirrel Hill, service engineer: "I think so, naturally. The old saying is, 'God helps those that help themselves.' When one type of politics gets in, it puts in one clique; they all pull together. What more do you want? You can't throw corruption out of politics."

Contest Entries Pore Over New Serial

What, in your opinion, is the best way to hold your wife? What is the best way to hold your husband? In other words, what is the best way of maintaining happy homes—of keeping out of the divorce courts?

This is a theme that Beatrice Burton employs to interesting advantage in her new serial story "Lovejoy," just starting in the Sun-Telegraph. In view of the interest her story has already excited and with the hope of getting suggestions that may be helpful in solving the problem that is menacing the homes of America, the Sun-Telegraph is offering $250.00 in gold cash prizes for the best letters of 250 words or less on the questions appearing in the first paragraph of this article.

The prizes will be divided as follows: For the women: First prize, $50 in gold; second prize, $25 in gold; third prize, $10 in gold; next eight prizes, $5 in gold; next 50 prizes, two tickets each for the best attractions at the leading motion picture theaters in Pittsburgh. The same prizes will be given men contestants.

The above awards will be doubled for winners who have the Sun-Telegraph delivered to their home by carrier boys or get it by mail subscription.

The contest will end Sunday, January 12. All letters must be in before Tuesday, January 14, addressed to Lovejoy Contest Editor, the Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh Pennsylvania.

You don't have to wait until the end of the contest. You can submit your letter today—if you wish.

Eddie Cantor Rises to Say:

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.

THE wedding day of Princess Marie Jose of Belgium, and Crown Prince Humbert of Italy. Congratulations from an American peasant.

Having been a married actor for almost 16 years, which is equal to 40 years in any other walk of life, I'd like to give the crown prince some hints, which might help him.

Never bring home friends for dinner unless you tell your wife in the morning.

If the baby cries during the night, jump right up and say, "I'll heat the bottle, darling." Women love that.

Don't ever brag that your father is a king. Remember, she'll say, "So is my old man, and we have no dictator."

On the maid's day off—suggest going out some place to eat. And if Marie insists on staying home, offer to wash the dishes.

Don't think this is "sissy" stuff, we "he men" in America have been doing it since we got our freedom from the British.

God bless you both.

P. S.—In case you want to stay out some night and play poker with the boys, have Mussolini ask the wife.

LACK EVIDENCE, FREE SLAYER SUSPECT

60 Alleged Black Hand Members at Trial; Positive Testimony Is Lacking

While 60 alleged members of the Black Hand Society sat in the court room listening intently to the evasive testimony of the witnesses, Frank Magliazzo, 38, of Lexington place, Carnegie, yesterday walked out a free man on a directed verdict of not guilty of the murder of Santo Ferrainolo, 31, of 45 Oak way, Homestead, on September 13, 1928.

A dozen county detectives sat interspersed among the spectators, intent to catch a word upon which arrests could be made, but so silently did the secret society work its alleged intimidation upon the witnesses, that not one thread of tangible evidence was gathered. The spectators were not Pittsburgh Italians, it was said, but came from Youngstown, Cleveland and other cities.

FIVE SHOTS FIRED

A year and a half ago five shots rang out in front of 642 Montclair street, Pittsburgh, and two Italians fell unconscious in the street. They were Santo and Anthony Ferrainolo. The former died a short time later and Anthony recovered after weeks in Mercy Hospital.

An automobile, left at the scene of the shooting when the assassin ran away, was said by City Detective Frank Dodson to have been identified by Joseph Sculli, who lived across the street, as belonging to Frank Magliazzo, and from other bits of evidence gathered from neighbors a hunt for Magliazzo was begun. He was never captured, but on December 2 last, a year and three months after the killing, he was brought in and surrendered by Attorney William H. Coleman, who, with Attorney Frank Zappala, defended him. Assistant District Attorney Jacob Kalson prosecuted the case.

The trial began yesterday morning and a jury of six men and six women had been selected by noon. Immediately when the taking of evidence began it became apparent that little or nothing was going to be gained by the state from the main witnesses. They are said to have denied statements made previously to the city detectives, although there were no sworn statements upon which they could be prosecuted for perjury.

FAILED TO IDENTIFY

Even Anthony Ferrainolo, the wounded brother of the dead man, failed to identify the prisoner as his attacker, and Joe Ferrainolo, another brother, who a year and a half ago told detectives that Santo had made a dying statement that Frank did the killing, has disappeared and could not be found to testify.

Mrs. Hilda Sculli, 5151 Penn avenue, who lived at 645 Montclair street at the time of the crime, had told the officers, according to Detective Dodson, that the man who owned the car did the shooting, but on the witness stand she said she did not know who the car belonged to and was most evasive.

Finally Attorney Kalson moved that Visiting Judge William T. Darr, of Jefferson County, who tried the case, direct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, on the ground that under the evidence it would not be right to let the case go to the jury. This was done.

BALK HOLDUP OF DONAHOE TRUCK

Employes Chase and Beat Up Pair of Alleged Robbers; Police Seeking Third Man

Two bandit suspects were held by McKeesport police today, and a search for the third was under way, in connection with the attempted holdup late yesterday of A. L. Frederick, an employe of a Donahoe store, located at 416 Fifth avenue, McKeesport.

The suspects, William P. Morris, 28, of Ninth street, Elizabeth, and Arthur Blair, 26, also of Elizabeth, were captured and beaten by a posse of store employes while repairing a tire on an automobile near Pearl street. Their alleged accomplice escaped.

P. J. Donahoe, president of the stores, who a month ago offered a $5,000 reward to "anyone, including police who kills or seriously wounds any bandit robbing a Donahoe store," said last night that the captors of the alleged bandits will be rewarded for their services.

Frederick had more than $200 of the company's funds and was returning from a delivery trip in a truck when an automobile containing the three men drew abreast of the truck in Foster road, near East McKeesport. One, Frederick said, pointed a revolver and ordered him to stop the truck. He instead increased his speed.

When he reached the store he informed his brother, H. J. Frederick, manager, of the attempted robbery, and the latter called together three other employes, Ralph Gaetano, Edward Sandine and Paul Baur. They started for the scene of the attempted holdup in the truck, and came upon three men repairing a punctured tire on an automobile near Parl street. The younger Frederick was said to have recognized the trio as those who attempted to rob him.

Questioning of the trio resulted in a fist fight during which two of the alleged bandits were rendered semi-conscious and taken to McKeesport Police Station.

It was said that if the report is true both "Jarvis" and the man impersonated, whose real name is said to be Stanley Wells, are liable to imprisonment for contempt of court.

This car being too small, the girl claims, they stole another in Oakmont belonging to Forest Gearhurst, of Pittsburgh.

Gossip From Movie Capital and Notes About Coming Theater Bills

LEIBER WITH SHAKESPEARE TO VISIT PITTSBURGH AFTER CHICAGO

By GEORGE SEIBEL

SHAKESPEARE and Fritz Leiber are headed for Pittsburgh. Right after the conclusion of his 12-week season in the new Civic Playhouse, which is an annex to Chicago's Civic Opera, there will be a week of the great plays in the Shubert Alvin, with Leiber in the great roles. Which brings to mind a bit of last year's theatrical history.

Leiber came to Pittsburgh for the first time as a star shining by his own light. He had been Robert Mantell's leading man half a dozen seasons before, but that meant nothing. He came to Pittsburgh as an unknown quantity. Even those who had seen him in the past had no idea how he might have developed or retrograded.

George Seibel

So he had only a fair house on Monday evening. There was a bigger audience on Tuesday. By Wednesday evening the house was full. And by Saturday night there was standing room only.

Public Discovered Him

Shakespeare and Fritz Leiber deserved the credit for that remarkable showing. Shakespeare's plays appeal to intelligent people whenever they are intelligently presented. Leiber had the intelligence, the stage presence, and the voice required. And the public speedily discovered the fact.

That week of Shakespeare was a great surprise for all concerned. When Leiber comes to the Alvin on February 3, a large number of admirers will greet him from the first night. He has proved his worth.

Meanwhile he has been made director of the Civic Shakespeare Society in Chicago, and will play Shakespeare in their model theater every year for 12 weeks. He writes me:

"Our business here has been most successful. I feel, and the directors feel, that we have established the venture in Chicago."

Mrs. Mantell Also Wins

Meanwhile Mrs. Robert B. Mantell, known to the stage as Genevieve Hamper, has had a similar experience out West. The last reports of her season came from Denver, where she was playing to overflowing houses. She has practically the entire company that had been built up by Mantell, but she has discarded the cumbersome scenery he used to carry.

Genevieve Hamper is an intelligent actress of much charm. Her Juliet and her Rosalind are lovely to look at and delightful to listen to.

It took courage to go forth "upon the road" at a time when everybody was convinced the road was dead. She has shown that the road has possibilities, and that all-star casts are not needed to make Shakespeare go. Nor will Gordoncraigy productions make up for the deflation of poetry.

Both Miss Hamper and Mr. Leiber have stage settings that create illusion but do not impede action. This approximates closely to the conditions under which the Elizabethan drama was created.

Old Troopers Coming

About the time that Fritz Leiber comes here, we are going to have quite an array of famous players of yesterday, either in revival or in new presentations.

Mrs. Fiske is headed this way, either in "Ladies of the Jury" or a new play. Otis Skinner is coming with "Papa Juan," the Spanish play that was first entitled "One Hundred Years Old." And William Gillette has been booked in "Sherlock Holmes."

Will these names inspire the old-time awe?

Banquet for Thurston

Howard Thurston and his daughter, Jane, were guests of honor last night at a banquet in the William Penn Hotel attended by exactly 99 amateur and professional magicians and their friends. George Seibel, dramatic editor of the Sun-Telegraph, was master of ceremonies, and illusions were shown by Clinton W. Carter, Roy Arouze, Howzitt Dunn and Cyril Yettmah, with Fred P. Robison in a ventriloquial seance.

Among the members of Assembly 18, Society of American Magicians, and Ring 13, International Brotherhood of Magicians, who responded to toasts were Hartley, Menke, Tampa, Hanson and Jack Gwynn. Charles Leedy and John Northern Hilliard also made addresses, Howard Thurston told many interesting incidents of his career as a magician, and even daughter Jane made her debut in the field of oratory. The wizards whizzed until 4 a. m.

Book Heroine

Mary Brian is the heroine in "The Marriage Playground," movie version of Edith Wharton's novel, "The Children," which comes Friday to the Stanley.

J. Fred Lissfelt Will Speak in Kaufmann's

J. Fred Lissfelt, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph music critic, will give an interpretative talk with piano illustrations on two of Richard Wagner's operas, "Seigfried" and "Gotterdammerung," in the auditorium in Kaufman's department store at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, January 17. The public is invited, and there is no charge for admission.

For a number of years Mr. Lissfelt has been an annual visitor to the festivals in Bayreuth, Munich and Salzburg, and other music centers in Germany. He is a personal friend of Siegfried Wagner, son of the famous composer, whom he expects to visit again next summer during the Oberammergau festival.

Mr. Lissfelt has deep knowledge of these music dramas and his talk will be incident to their presentation in Syria Mosque January 22 and 23 by the German Grand Opera Company.

Beaver Falls Sells Bonds for School

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 9.—A bond issue of $500,000 for the erection of a new high school building was sold to the First National Bank of Beaver Falls for a premium of $8,005. The School Board has rejected all bids for the building.

Michigan Wells Show Good Yield

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 9.—The Leonard Petroleum Company has brought in two large oil wells in the Mt. Pleasant, Mich., field. One of the wells produces 400 barrels and the other 250 barrels daily.

ACTOR COHAN TO DIRECT NEW PLAY

A new twist to show business as practiced in Pittsburgh is to take place in the Nixon the week of January 20. Tuesday afternoon of that week George M. Cohan is to present a new play called "Sporting Blood." This arrangement is made so that he may see his newest production while appearing at nights and in the regular matinee performances of "Gambling."

"Sporting Blood" will be shown at only three matinees, the other two being Thursday and Friday. After Mr. Cohan has worked on it, the expectation is that it will be ready for the New York market.

Lewis B. Ely, author of "The Dry Town" and "Thoroughbreds," wrote "Sporting Blood." Walter Connolly, Ruth Shepley and Frank Elliott are the featured players. Sam Forrest, who directed "Gambling" and all other Cohan offerings in recent years, staged the Ely opus.

The story is said to concern literary lions on a love rampage. A publisher, an author and other high folk in the writing business are the chief characters.

"COMING EVENTS cast their shadows before"
(Thomas Campbell, 1777-1844)

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Why let over-indulgence ruin the flattering curves that make the modern figure so seductive? Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately—when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the irresistible youthfulness of the modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

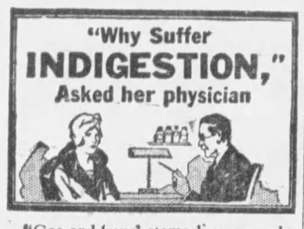
Mental Telepathist In Enright Theater

As an added attraction for the week beginning tomorrow, the Enright Theater will present Miss Zoe Dyac, a mental telepathist and phycho analyst. She will be located on the mezzanine foyer of the theater and, after the stage show, will answer questions free of charge.

"Why Suffer INDIGESTION," Asked her physician



"Gas and 'sour' stomach can now be corrected without the use of burning, irritating soda, or vicious, habit-forming cathartics."

Calcium Carbonate, (2½ times as effective as soda) in tablet form, is the ideal anti-acid: sure, swift and positive in its relief, yet safe in its use. It is the only remedy which does not upset the acid equilibrium of the body and is incapable of over-dosage.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are Calcium Carbonate in its best and most convenient form, blended with other valuable substances. That's why we urge their use as the only kind for children, and best for men and women.

"No," drawls the Crow, "but can you tell me when we get baked potatoes?" He's a writer. He is a friend of the star and the star's wife. Returning from a party one eve., he informed friends that the star had asked his wife for a loan. She refused it. Subsequently, he referred to her a bit heatedly. The star heard about this and threatened to punch the slanderous writer's nose next time they met. In due course, they met. He gave him the punch. The writer therefore denied the statement he was quoted as saying. He claimed a certain woman had said it. Whereupon, they shook hands and resumed the friendship where it had abruptly terminated. The certain woman, however, takes it on he chin. Such being a sample of life....

How long will this energy last under the strain of a COUGH?

No Strain—Mental or Physical—Exhausts You More Quickly Than a Cough

HIGH up in the air! Nerves keyed to a high pitch—eyes and ears strained to the utmost—It takes an iron constitution to brave the merciless elements.

Yet, even such a constitution breaks down quickly under the strain of violent or spasmodic coughing.

Coughing wastes more energy than almost any other bodily exertion. It racks the entire system.

That's why it is so important not only to stop a cough temporarily but to get rid of it before it becomes serious. Don't let it get a grip on you!

Pertussin brings quick results by a safe method. It relieves the cough by getting at the immediate cause. It helps to loosen the phlegm, soothes the irritation and quiets the cough.

Unlike many other cough remedies, Pertussin is entirely free from harmful drugs. It is pleasant to take and will not upset your stomach. Sold at all drug stores.

"DON'T COUGH YOUR ENERGY AWAY"

REMEMBER: Take a spoonful of Pertussin the moment you feel a tickling in your throat. Keep a bottle of Pertussin always handy. Doctors have prescribed Pertussin more often than any other advertised cough remedy for safe relief.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Kathleen Sheldon to Wed Bernard S. Horne, Jr., in St. Louis, Saturday

WEDDINGS at home and abroad will keep interest in social events from declining in January, and there are always a few events, of social or philanthropic nature, given in the calmer days of the month.

One wedding of note that will take place Saturday in St. Louis, Mo., is of particular interest since the young bride, who is already known here, will have a prominent place in the younger married set.

I'm referring to the wedding of Kathleen Sheldon, daughter of the Stephen B. Sheldons, of Kingsbury place, St. Louis, who will marry Bernard S. Horne, Jr., of Pittsburgh, son of the Bernard S. Hornes, of Princeton, N. J., on Saturday, as I mentioned several days ago.

The ceremony will take place at 5:30 o'clock in St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

And perhaps you would like to hear who will be in the bridal party. Janet Gardner, of St. Louis, will be maid of honor, and Elinore Munroe, of Pittsburgh, will be a bridesmaid, as will Jane Messick, Loraine Grover, Susie Singleton, Mrs. John Burton Kennard, Jr., and Mrs. Fielding Childress, all of St. Louis, and Mrs. Calvin Anderson Case, of Bronxville, N. Y.

Stephen B. Sheldon, Jr., brother of the bride, will be Mr. Horne's best man, and Frank Sheldon, another brother, also of St. Louis; Stockton Gaines, of Pittsburgh; Joseph Horne, a cousin, of Pittsburgh; John Crago, Thomas Wright Pettue, Rembert Labeaume, all of St. Louis; John Ames, of Chicago, and Calvin Anderson Case, of Bronsville, N. Y., will be ushers.

Elinor Munroe is now a house guest at the Shelton home.

Many entertainments are planned for the bridal party. Yesterday the junior John Burton Kennards gave a dinner in the St. Louis Country Club; tonight Susie Singleton, one of the bridesmaids, will entertain; and tomorrow night Janet Gardner will give a dinner dance in the Bridespur Hunt Club for the bridal party and guests in St. Louis for the wedding.

And today Mrs. Frances Boyer, of Philadelphia, will give a luncheon for the bridal party.

BOYS and girls who attended schools in the East have already returned to school, and will attend no more holiday parties for another year. But here at home young folks at Thurston and Winchester are still being entertained.

On Friday, January 17, Mrs. William Grey Clyde, of Beechwood, and Mrs. Ambrose Nevin Diehl will give a supper at 5 o'clock followed by a cinema and dancing in the Diehl home in honor of Mrs. Clyde's granddaughters, Margaret and Frances Hodge. Margaret and Frances are daughters of the junior Edwin Hodges, of Beechwood boulevard, and are students at Miss Thurston's School.

She accompanied herself. A Russian setting was given the meeting place in the Edgewood club by a collection of tapestries and brasses, loaned by Mrs. Frederick H. Parke. Mrs. P. W. GRAY ENHANCES CHARMS OF BOTH BLONDE AND BRUNETTE

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—If there be gray days before us it is not only due to winter, but to the wearing of that color. There will always be certain women, to whom gray is becoming, who will wear this color. There is something very charming and attractive about an all-gray ensemble, as many have discovered. Of course, the coloring must be taken into consideration when deciding on the shade to be worn, otherwise a drab or insipid effect will be obtained. But rightly chosen, gray will enhance the charms of both blonde and brunette. The lighter shades are especially becoming, and are now popular for formal afternoon clothes, both dresses and ensembles. For sports wear, gray is not so desirable. It is distinctly adapted to the urban mode.

THERE seems to be no decrease in the popularity of the cloth coat trimmed with curly flat furs. For morning wear, particularly, it has taken the place of the fur coat. In supple lightweight woolens, it is both convenient and comfortable, giving the necessary warmth and protection from the elements without undue weight, a very important consideration for the busy women whose days are crowded with manifold activities. Of course, the cloth coat is generally black, with dark green as a pleasing alternative, and the silhouette is a triumph of careful tailoring and intricate detail.

TYPICAL of the mid-season coat mode is the model shown here from Heim. It is of dark green leda cloth, trimmed with black astrakan. The coat wraps well around the figure and fastens at each side. There is a circular flounce which stops just back of the hips at each side, the back of the coat being flat and straight of line. The bloused sleeves are set in kimona fashion at the shoulder and the shawl collar of astrakan has one end which is like a scarf, passing under the other attached side.

THE afternoon frock is from Madelaine and is pearl gray georgette. It has an unusually graceful bodice and skirt, the former having a becoming winged cape effect in back, the latter being softened by shirred flounces of varying depth, superimposed on a close-fitting foundation, to maintain the svelte line. The crushed girdle passes through slits in the back of the bodice and ties in a bow-knot behind.

SUB-TREASURY SALE PLANNED

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—Destruction and sale of the old sub-Treasury building at the corner of Wall and Nassau streets, the building in which the first Continental Congress met, in which George Washington took the oath of office and to which thousands of American school children have made patriotic pilgrimages, has been recommended by the real estate committee of the Federal Business Association.

It was said the amount to be realized by the government through scrapping of the historic site is $10,000,000 and that influential banking interests are to be the purchasers.

The decision was reached, it was said, when the real estate committee of the Federal Business Association—an association of the heads of all federal departments in the New York district—met recently in the customs house.

No member of the committee, from Capt. H. G. Backinhaus, its chairman, down, would discuss the reported decision to scrap the old building.

All records of minutes of the meeting were said to have been transferred to the office of the Federal co-ordinator, in Washington, to prevent a "leak" prematurely, with the certain rousing of feeling of patriotic societies all over the country to frustrate the move.

TOKIO PLAYERS TO VISIT N. Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—A company of Japanese players will be brought to New York this spring by the Theater Guild for a four-week repertory engagement in classical and modern Japanese drama, the Guild has announced.

It will be the first New York engagement of a Japanese company. In 1928 such a group visited California to play before Japanese audiences, and through the interest of motion picture folk, including Charles Chaplin, it was given a hearing in Hollywood, before the general public.

A tin box containing securities was later found in Donora and the car discovered on Saturday in McKeesport, parked within a block of the Carr home.

Why Do Doctors Prescribe Cod Liver Oil?

Not for its fishy taste.
Not for its repulsive smell.

PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE COD LIVER OIL JUST FOR ONE REASON.

Because it contains Vitamins A and D and these two Vitamins build up the power to resist disease when one is in a weakened condition.

If it weren't for these two precious and magical Vitamins your doctor wouldn't tell you to get Cod Liver Oil when you are losing weight.

It is to get these two health-promoting, strength-increasing, energy-creating Vitamins into your system that Cod Liver Oil is prescribed in wasting diseases, in bronchitis and chest colds—in anemia and convalescence—in feeble old age and when children are puny and frail.

And now here is good news for those who use Cod Liver Oil for any ailment, disease or abnormal condition—you won't have to take repulsive liquid Cod Liver Oil any more—no, never again.

For now a learned chemist has extracted these priceless Vitamins from the pure Vitamin tested Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and put them in pleasant to take sugar coated tablets.

The useless greasy oil is thrown away.

Two of these tablets equal in Vitamin potency one teaspoonful of Vitamin tested Cod Liver Oil—the recognized dose.

If you take two of these health-restoring tablets after each meal and two at bedtime, you will be getting about all the Vitamins A and D that your system requires.

If you want quicker action, take 3 or 4 for each dose for the first 10 days.

These new tablets, brimful of Vitamins, are called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets and you can get a box at any drug store in America.

For every ailment, sickness, rundown or underweight condition for which cod liver oil is prescribed or recommended, McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets are equally as good.

Remember that Doctors prescribe Cod Liver Oil for its precious Vitamins—you get these Vitamins in McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets—you are sure to get them—take your Vitamins straight. 60 tablets 60 cents. All druggists.

CHAPTER LIII.

SHADOWS fell on the gaunt face of Tom Burns and on the dark, ugly pool in which his head was sunk.

The reporters turned from the sight. They went to the east wall, not knowing what new horror might confront them.

The boards opened on a crude closet. On a shelf was a typewriter, with the odd peculiarities in the letters "B," "t," "M," "e," "r." There was also a gas stove, chipped crockery and a pistol. In the corner was a battered old phonograph with the note, "Try the records."

There were a dozen of these records. They put one on the machine. A sharp, metallic voice shrilled out: "I'm going to feed you now. Sit perfectly quiet. If you shout when I remove the gag, you'll be simply and permanently silenced. Obey!"

The strident command struck dismally through the tense quiet. Each record was in the same woman's voice; each had a different command. They ground out with a bleak, tawdry pathos that mocked the grim figure on the bed.

The diary of Tom Burns' crime was spotted all through with this appalling, misdirected brilliance. On the fly-leaf was a tribute to the editor who had tried to save him from prison and tried again to have him released Christmas Eve before his child should die.

There followed pages seared with dark, ruinous passions. The fearful time when the father watched his son dying—his obsession that $1,500 would save the little boy. Bryce refused to give this sum; Elliott innocently blocked the man's attempt to steal it. To Tom Burns, these two became his son's murderers.

Terrible prison days he lay and planned his revenge. Oh—to get the two of them! Make Bryce agonize as he had!

From the moment of his release Tom Burns planned the kidnaping. He hollowed that dungeon behind the garage; he watched little Billy Bryce at play in the park. He plotted with Partridge and Montgomery. He made friends with Guy's dog. Bit by bit the elaborate details came to him. One Sunday he came upon the flume and sent Jim to retrieve a ball. This gave him the idea for escaping with the ransom.

Another time he worried about Elliott identifying him as his captor. Then he thought of the phonograph and had his poor, troubled wife, Effie, make the records. She thought him demented, so humored him.

He saw with diabolic detail the completed crime. Then came Opportunity with the open break between Guy and William Bryce. How beautifully this would blacken the case against Elliott!

"Monday, October 22—We've done it! Landed the kid without one hitch. Elliott lies doped in my dungeon. Whole city is wild. Dicks are shadowing me. Much they'll find!

"October 23—Worked all day. Awful that the girl was carried off in the plane. Hope she doesn't queer it. God—to have a hitch now! Had to give Elliott a whiff of chloroform. He began plunging like a mad bull about the room. I put on one of my records. The woman's voice bewildered him. I've sent Effie to San Carlos to visit her sister—told her to stay the week. Need solitude in times like this.

"Midnight—They've landed in the desert by now if all has gone as programmed. Scores of planes searching. Public terribly inflamed.

"October 24—I'm shadowed. I go to work. Feed Elliott at night. Keep him half doped.

"October 25—Dicks not so hot on my trail. Took the noon hour and delivered my first ransom note. Drove out Haight street, gave a dollar bill and the letter to a kid. Told him to take it to Western Union. Returned to work on time. I've got Jim tied up in an old shed down the Ocean Shore road. After work drove down and fed him. Love that dog. Dicks easing up on me. Can't figure I had anything to do with ransom note when I was at work all day. Elliott wants to wash—refuses to eat. My God, the fellow's strong. Furious when I spilled beans on his chin. Doesn't like being fed. I feel safe!

"Friday, October 26—This is the day! It's early morning. I've just fixed up Slim's old Ford like a fruit wagon. I'm at Slim's house. I've got boxes of spuds, tomatoes and lettuce in the back of the car. In this truck I make my getaway with Bryce's $20,000. He'll lay it in the flume tonight! I'll amble away with it down an abandoned road I've found. Who'll ever suspect a truck farmer of the kidnaping? The whole country in the vicinity of the flume is given over to these truck gardens. I'm proud of my plans.

"Six o'clock—Effie's returned. Wouldn't she! On this day of days!

"Seven—I've persuaded Effie to go to a movie with Mrs. Gaynor. I'll call for her at 10. I've finished my ransom directions. I've taken the old vanity box of Effie's. Jim has retrieved it hundreds of times. I'm sending it to Bryce for the ransom money. I'm going down now to dress and feed Elliott. My time is figured to the minutes.

"Seven forty-five—We start. Gave Elliott coffee with sleeping powders. I'll drive him in my machine to the gulley a mile from the flume. Chloroform and unshackle him. Then back to Mission street to deliver final ransom notes. Then pick up Effie and be in this house shortly aften 10. Bryce mustn't get the notes before 10.

"Ten-thirty—so far so good! Elliott lying doped in the hills, ransom note in Bryce's hands. Gave package to a bum with $5. Watched while he tossed it on counter of Western Union. Picked up Effie and sauntered home. Dickie stopped us. So they're on! Police must have phoned station here to have me watched. My car is in the garage. Can they guess how I'll get back to Salada Beach and grab the ransom by midnight?

Ten-thirty-five—Dicks watching. I've undressed. Left the shades up. In five minutes I'll be sneaking out the alley—then to Slim's, drive off in my fruit wagon—reach the flume. Jim, do your part!

"Twelve - fifty — I've won! Twenty-thousand dollars on the mattress over there. At exactly 12:15, Jim, the marvel came trotting from the flume and dropped the ransom box at my feet in the thicket. I tied him to a stake with a box of bones, made my betaway down the bank. Went jogging off in my fruit wagon—$20,000 tossed with the potatoes. At Colma dumped the vegetables, drove truck to Slim's, sneaked back here.

"One o'clock — door bell is ringing. God—they're checking up. Get into my nightshift. Bell ringing furiously.

"One-fifteen—narrow squeak. Dicks wanted to make sure I was in bed. Poor Effie! With one of her rare flashes she came over and put a hand on my arm. She asked them bewilderedly: 'Must you torture him?' Tomorrow the strain will be over.

"Here's our schedule—They wait in desert until ransom is secured. Tomorrow—Saturday at noon Slim will register at the Harvey House in Barstow under name of James Ellis. At 1:30 I phone with this code message: 'Mr. Ellis I can't accept your offer. I'm satisfied with my job here.' This means I've pulled it off perfectly."

Just after dark Sheik smuggles the kid to the room Slim has hired. They put him to sleep, leave orders for maid not to disturb them. At 2 tomorrow I start the drive down to Barstow. Should arrive there Sunday morning 7:30. I hand over ransom. Sheik and Slim pocket it, deliver kid to me and skip for Los Angeles. Oh God! Sunday morning! The kid will be asleep. I finish him. With my last breath I phone Bryce that his child lies dead in Tom Burns' arms.

Saturday morning — Papers are on fire with ransom news. Great mystery. Neither Elliott nor Jim has been found.

Two o'clock—I've phoned Barstow. Slim hasn't registered.

Three o'clock—Phoned again. Where are they? What's happened?

Five o'clock—They've not arrived! They've flivvered somewhere!

Six o'clock . . . My sister has come for dinner. We talk of the kidnaping. I'm going to use Rose without her knowledge. I've written a torture-letter. Let Bryce drink it up.

Seven o'clock—I've asked Rose to send my letter from Berkeley special delivery tomorrow morning. She's very reluctant, but I tell her it's just an anonymous sermon to Bryce. She consents.

Saturday nine o'clock...I've phoned Barslow again. They've not made it!

Sunday — Extras are out. They've come upon Elliott and Jim.

Monday—I went to work. Oh, this ghastly waiting. Noon I phone Harvey House, Barstow. No response. All ruined, I fear. But Elliott is identified as kidnaper. Oh, irony!

Tuesday—Elliott's story of the woman who gave him orders is flashed in all headlines. I'm keeping the papers from Effie.

Six o'clock—Some one has told Effie about the woman in the case. I came home and found her poring over newspapers. She ditched them quickly and gave me a frightened, awful look. She said nothing. But she suspects. I see that she suspects.

Tuesday, eight o'clock...The girl has radioed! Good God, she's radioed from the Grand Canyon. I see the climax.

Midnight—Elliott's free. He's broken jail. Is thought to have taken a plane and gone to the girl. Morning papers got out early with the news.

Wednesday—I can't endure Effie's presence. The look in her eyes. Like a hurt animal. I've sent her to visit her sister. She thinks I'm demented.

Six o'clock—Elliott's reached them. He's sent back word. He's taken Slim and Montgomery prisoner. We're all cooked. The girl and the kid aren't found. They won't be! Has Bryce ever looked into Slim's eyes? The coldest, damnedest scoundrel that ever breathed. The kid and the girl are finished. That's why they're not in sight.

So it's thirty for me!

Six-thirty — I'm arranging articles on the table here in my dungeon. I'm burning up papers—little greenbacks—nice twenty-dollar bills. This will be a sweet gift to William Bryce! I'm making out my will.

Seven—I am going out now and send a message to the paper—to that editor who tried to set me right . . . get me freed in time. I'll take a last look about. Thank God, Effie's not here.

Seven-thirty—I wonder if the pain is great. If it lasts long. I've made myself a cup of coffee. All must be finished before the reporters arrive. I hear machines. It can't be them coming . . . not yet. I've taken up the blade and tried it on my wrist. It cuts—there's a swift tickle of blood. I mix this with the mound of ashes. I feel nothing. I slash the other wrist. This will make the end come more quickly.

Now I lie on the mattress. I touch the razor to my throat. Effie—good-by.

Nine o'clock Tuesday night. William Bryce sat with the confession of Tom Burns before him. He wouldn't look in his daughter's eyes. Nor dared either of the two women ask the questions that sucked the hope and the life from their hearts.

Wait—they could only wait.

Some time tomorrow Guy would send the word.

Fay King Points to Vanishing Feature of Handbag

By FAY KING

SANTA CLAUS brought me a new handbag. It is made of ostrich hide.

Hiding is the best thing an ostrich does. The handbag has lost none of its former habits.

The ostrich hides his head you know and thinks you cannot see him because he cannot see you.

Well it even works better when the ostrich has been glorified into a handbag. I can't find that handbag anywhere when I am looking right at it!

Changing from an old handbag to a new handbag is like moving to an entirely new town for me. It takes me about a year to get homed in.

And then just when I begin to feel really settled, Santa brings a new handbag, and I'm all upset again.

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Princess Olina Seeks Madge's Advice.

I KNEW very well what must be the newspaper item over which the Princess Olina was so joyously gloating, but I gave no indication of my knowledge, waiting quietly until she thrust the paper into my hands and pointed to an item in the column marked "Personal."

"Look!" she caroled. "At last! Maman!"

I followed her pointing finger and read the words she indicated.

"Lene, cherie," the perusal began. "Everything is forgiven and the condition withdrawn, upon my word of honor. No one shall trouble you. Come home at once. Toto missing. Most anxious. Advise if you have seen him. With much love from us all for our little one. Maman."

"But," I said as I handed the paper back, "how can you be certain this is from your mother?"

"'Lene' is her private name for me. No one else ever uses it, and she only calls me that when we are alone, for my father does not like it. I do not believe three people would connect me with that name, and they never would see this. Besides—Toto—is—Georges."

Her cheeks crimsoned as she spoke the name of the young Prince, then paled again. I made no comment, but tried to look as receptive and sympathetic as possible. She was in a mood for confidences, I saw, and I wanted to give her every opportunity to talk.

"You know," she went on hesitantly, "Maman asked Georges to come over here and find me."

I nodded as she paused, and she hurried on, the flush coming back into her cheeks.

"And you know also that when he found me and I told him why I ran away he never betrayed my whereabouts to Maman and dropped out of sight. Maman knows that I am safe, for I sent word to her that I was, but she knows nothing about Georges, for he would not lie to her, neither would he give me up to her when he knew that if I went home they would compel me to marry his old uncle."

There was a distinct note of pride in her voice of which I think she was unconscious. And her look at me was an appeal for approval of the young Prince's chivalry.

"He is, indeed, a loyal friend to you," I said, knowing that she was in the mood when banality would best appeal to her.

Her eyes brightened. "Yes," she assented fervently. "He is. But"—her voice was remorseful—"it has cost him so much—his championship of me. Just see what he is facing because of his staying over here."

"You mean this conspiracy against him?" I asked, knowing that consciously or subconsciously she meant in addition his betrothal to Mary.

"Yes, I am concerned for him, and I feel that it is all my fault."

"What nonsense!" I said briskly. "You know very well that this conspiracy against Prince Georges was fomented before he came over here. In fact, if he had stayed in Trees the conspirators would have had a far better chance of success than they have had here. And now, thanks to Mr. Underwood's plans, some of the conspirators will be captured and they will be able to get at the 'man higher up,' Prince Georges' cousin, and as a result the Prince will be safe from attempted assassination for the first time in years."

She caught her breath sharply, every other consideration, even her jealousy of Mary, dwarfed, I conjectured, by her visualization of the young Prince's danger.

"You—are very comforting," she said shyly, and, despite her cattishness toward Mary, she made a distinct appeal to my sympathies. She was a princess and a spoiled beauty, but beneath the veneer she was a lonely, frightened girl, who was, I guessed, decidedly homesick.

"Please believe that I want to help you in any way I can," I told her earnestly, and the grateful glance she gave me from her great pansy eyes made me a bit ashamed of the violent partisanship I had cherished for Mary against the girl.

After all, I told myself, Dicky's winsome and wilful young niece so far had all the best of it. Noel's devotion was all for her, and so far Prince Georges' as well. Olina was out of the picture. Subconsciously, at least, both girls knew this, although both of them cleverly camouflaged that instinctive knowledge.

Olina's voice brought me back with a jerk from the realms of conjecture.

"What ought I to do," she asked with a humility strange in her, "about Maman?"

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, January 10.

ACCORDING to the sidereal operations this day should see promotion, preferment and favors in employment, progress in business, and particularly active and happy personal conditions, despite the possibility of some slight disappointments or postponements. The happy trend of affairs, however, may be blighted by a disposition to indulge in intemperate acts and words. The mind may be very high-strung and the judgment fly to quick action and profitable decisions.

Those whose birthday it is are in line for many favors, honors and advancements during the year, with probably promotion in employment or other substantial recognition from those in authority. There may be some delays or obstacles to overcome, and the prosperous state of affairs should not be nullified by quick words and ill temper. The mind will be high keyed and sagacious in its conclusions. The social, domestic and romantic affiliations should be very active and gratifying.

A child born on this day should be well endowed with faculties and qualities for success and high place in life, with much personal happiness and contentment.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Too Much Leg!

WILL some kind little psychologist tell me why all the men I meet are ballyhooing for the new long skirts? Oh, yes, they ARE!

Is it because the modern man, like the Chinamen who once made every woman black her teeth after marriage, wants to be sure that no other man will ever look twice at the Girl Friend? Does he really like to see his sweetie sheathed in Old Ironsides again—when it was HE who jeered her into "parking them" only a few short years ago?

Does he think, subconsciously, that the return to corsets and ruffles is a sign that feminism is a failure, and that Man is once more the Dominant Sex?

Or has he just been FED UP ON LEGS?

My favorite psychoanalyst believes that it is the spirit of sex-dominance which inspires a man to cheer when he sees Cutie hobbling around in a trailing skirt and a cast-iron corset—going back to old times and becoming once more "just a pet." Long and hampering clothes, he says, have always been a symbol of subjugation and slavery. The battle of the sexes has been won by man—and that's that!

* * *

But my women friends all insist that it is because men long for the lure of the unseen and sigh once more to be "tempted." Legs are going out—or going UNDER—because that is the only way to make 'em fascinating.

Personally, I think it is just the natural reaction against TOO MUCH leg, and resembles the revolt against the bana..a song. There has been too much LEG-consciousness in America for a long time.

Legs are still all right to walk on, dance on and swim with—but as a lure, a bait or an eye-charmer, they are no more startling than noses or galoshes. Legs are—just legs!

For the past 10 years the exploitation and display of the feminine leg has been the most sensational event in America. More money has been squandered on silk hosiery and fancy garters than on beauty creams or battleships. The leg has been such an obsession that a man could gaze across the room for 20 minutes at a woman without discovering whether she was a blonde or a brunette.

* * *

It might have been all right if girls had been content to keep the skirts gracefully—instead of disgracefully—short. If they had left just a little something about the leg to be GUESSED at.

The thing that popularized the feminine leg and lent it all its lure was that it had been for so many years a profound secret—hidden and forbidden. It isn't what a man sees, but what he CAN'T see that interests him.

Now, man is fed up on the leg, and wants it put back where it will again become a forbidden sight, and he can feel devilish just by standing on a windy corner and peeping at the passing feminine ankles. He wants woman once more to appeal to his IMAGINATION!

* * *

He is tired of being openly flagged—and yearns to be tempted!

LOVEJOY

:: By BEATRICE BURTON

they had gone around her that afternoon . . . as if they were going to hold her close to him forever.

That was the third Saturday in November.

Before another month had rolled by, Lovejoy was beginning to feel that she was quite a housekeeper.

Aunt Em had taught her how to broil steaks and make coffee.

She had taught her how to prepare a grapefruit for Tom's breakfast and a bowl of salad for his dinner.

She had gone to market with her and showed her how to pick out the good cheap cuts of meat, the freshest of vegetables and fruits.

She had shown her how to dust a room and make a bed so that it wouldn't pull out at the foot.

But none of these things came easily to Lovejoy. She was anything but a born housewife. She didn't even like housework.

The only things along that line that she liked to do were the little fussy things that beautified the flat.

She loved to buy a bunch of holly or fresh flowers in the North Ward market and bring them home to arrange in a glass bowl.

She had loved to see the cigaret boxes in the living room filled with cigarets, and she bought colored matches in silk-covered boxes for the smoking table.

She bought floating English bath soap that she couldn't afford, when plain white soap would have done just as well at half the price.

Two days before Christmas a wedding present arrived from Steve Oglebay.

It was a pair of lamps. Beautiful little things they were, with sterling silver bases and shades of thick ivory-colored silk.

"Nice of him to send them, wasn't it?" Tom asked amiably that night when he came home from work and saw them.

For two years he had been jealous of Steve Oglebay, the only man beside himself who wanted Lovejoy to marry him.

But there wasn't a trace of jealousy in his face or in his voice now . . . Why should there be? Lovejoy was his now, and he was the only man in her life. That was his attitude.

He set the lamps down upon the table, when he looked them over, and took his wife in his arms.

"Nice sort of fellow, Steve Oglebay," he remarked cheerfully. "I don't know why you didn't pick him instead of me."

Lovejoy smiled at him and lifted her face for his kiss. Her arms went around his shoulders, and her hands pulled his head down to hers.

"I wouldn't care if I never saw Steve Oglebay again," she said, and there was a throb of tenderness in her voice. "There never was anything for me but you, Tom, and there never will be."

They were wonderfully happy in those first unreal delirious days of their life together.

And then, on the day before Christmas, Steve Oglebay came into Lovejoy's life once more.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Worry a Cause of Ill Health

MENTAL poise is the normal condition of the mind. It follows that mental discord is an abnormal condition of the mind.

DR. COPELAND

If you would have mental harmony, or mental poise, you must exclude all wrong thoughts. Each of us must make a determined effort to overcome all bad mental habits.

There is not a shadow of doubt that worry is one of the chief causes of ill health. There is no end to the disturbances in the human system that are caused by worrying over this thing and that.

Also, jealousy, fear, hatred, despondency, grief and all similar emotions are due to bad thoughts. They have a devastating effect on the system.

Mental discord wastes nerve energy. It wastes it as physical over-exertion does. It may result in a real disturbance of the digestion, or of the important glands of secretion. The effects are bound to be felt in every cell of the body.

The functioning of the body is dependent upon the degree of nerve energy we possess. These emotions of ours not only use up nerve energy, but they create conditions which may permit the development of poisonous substances in the body. The effect of these may be to produce disease.

When you permit yourself to enjoy fully the right food under the right conditions, you enable the stomach and the glands which supply the digestive fluids to function properly. You have the nerve energy to complete digestion. If you are in the wrong frame of mind at mealtime, your body is in a wrong condition to function properly.

Even though the meal is a simple one, it should be eaten in an atmosphere of harmony and peace. There can be no doubt of this.

For the sake of your happiness and good health it is well to have a real purpose in your everyday life. There should be a definite constructive purpose for each day. This will prevent aimless thoughts and give you a better outlook on life. Vigorous mental habits tending to wholesome thoughts do much to maintain good health.

We know the power of the mind to depress the spirits and slow the heart. Bad news makes "the heart stand still." The opposite is true—good news, happiness, contentment and enthusiasm stimulate the heart. The thought has a remarkable effect on the body. We are well off only when the mind is working normally and happily.

When you establish faith in something or somebody you are setting up a right train of thought. Faith removes fear, it removes worry and many other mental discords. Each of us has to develop habits of mental poise. We must have mental harmony if we are to maintain good health.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

The Best Man's Gift

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I am to be the best man at a church wedding in the near future, and although I am not a particular friend or the best friend of the groom, I have been given the honor. Am I supposed to give the groom the bride, or both, a gift, and if so, what would be an appropriate one?

A MAN.

ONE gift will be enough, the usual wedding gift. You send the gift to the bride, in her name, and to her home and usually it is something for the new home. A beautiful piece of glass is one of the most acceptable presents these days, for instance, a beautiful glass vase, a service of glasses for the table, a glass-bottom lamp, a crystal desk set, a glass jar of a size that would conveniently adapt itself to many uses. You see, glass is so easy to clean and keep shining brilliantly (unlike the loads of silver that we used to have) that it is becoming very popular as wedding gifts.

Of course as the chief attendant of the groom, you may also give the groom a personal present, too, but this is not necessary.

The Salad Knife

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When lettuce salad is served, is it correct to cut it with a knife? Miss C. G.

YES, it is correct to use both the knife and fork when we are eating salad. In fact, now several manufacturers of silverware have put excellent salad knives on the market. And for this I am most happy. It has always seemed to me the most ridiculous thing to see people struggling with a difficult salad, such as our ever-popular hearts of lettuce or romaine, or endive, or a salad with slices of pineapple or other difficult-to-manage ingredients, when it would be so easy and simple to use a knife as an aid to the fork, either a salad fork or the customary medium size or small size fork.

Why not use a knife as well as a fork when we are eating salad? Perhaps if we considered the question from this point of view, we would not, as a nation, shy away from using the knife as an accompaniment to the fork when we are eating a salad.

A Growing Service

Increasing in Usefulness, Value and Convenience

THE YEAR 1929 was the greatest in Pennsylvania's telephone history.

Eighty thousand telephones were added to the Bell lines in this state.

Eighty thousand new places which, a year ago, could be reached only by personal visit or messenger—now within the sound of your voice.

Your telephone service grows in convenience and value as the number of telephones increases.

In the past year your service has become more useful by 80,000 telephones, in the last five years by 325,000 telephones, in the last ten years by 615,000 telephones—in Pennsylvania alone.

IN 1930 our plans call for an expenditure of $44,000,000 to expand and improve the telephone system. In the coming five years the total will be $215,000,000. These amounts are for new construction only and represent new investments in the business. In addition, the operation and maintenance of the telephone system in Pennsylvania in 1930 will involve an expenditure of over $60,000,000, and in the five-year period a sum of $340,000,000.

Telephone service is essential to modern business and social life. It is important that it continue to expand to meet the needs of the people of Pennsylvania.

The quality of the service was never better than it is today—despite the increasing complexities which are inherent in a growing inter-communication system.

These complexities will continue to increase. But they will be met, and the quality of the service in speed, dependability and general efficiency will continue to improve.

There is no standing still in the Bell System.

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

Kerr Offers Coast Plan. Week's Work-Out There. Exoneration of Shires. Lippe May Go Higher. Pitt Banquet Colorful. Miami Match Poor One.

COACH SEES NO GRID EDGE FOR WEST

ANDY KERR, for a quarter of a century, one of the most prominent football figures in Western Pennsylvania, and now head coach at Colgate University in Hamilton, N. Y., will depart from the methods employed by other Eastern gridiron mentors in the past to prepare their teams for Tournament of Roses games if any eleven in his charge is ever selected to meet a coast machine in the annual New Year's Day classic at Pasadena.

Andy Kerr

Even now, Kerr appears to have an edge on other Eastern coaches in coast competition. Two years in succession his all-East gridders have defeated their all-West opponents New Year's Day games in San Francisco played for the benefit of the Shriners' Hospital there. While Pitt was being crushed by Southern California last week, Andy's charges were trimming their coast rivals, 19 to 7.

In the event that a Kerr team is one day picked for a Tournament of Roses game, the veteran coach believes that he can improve his chances of keeping up his successful record by adopting a new training system. Instead of landing his players on the coast just a day or two before the contest, he will take them out earlier and give them a week of practice in California.

"THAT'S what I'd have done this time if Colgate had been chosen to play in Pasadena," said Kerr yesterday afternoon while in Pittsburgh for a few hours en route to Hamilton. "I'd have taken the team to San Francisco a week in advance and held workouts there every day until the date of the game. And that's what I am going to do if I am ever in charge of an Eastern team that gets the invitation.

"No one can deny that an Eastern team is under a severe handicap in getting ready at home for such an engagement," continued the Colgate chief, who, while aiding Pop Warner at Stanford, added some knowledge of coast conditions to his long Eastern experience. "You can't practice on snow and ice. I believe better results could be obtained by devoting a week to workouts in San Francisco."

SOME coast critics take exception to the newspaper statements that the East beat the West in the Shrine game on New Year's Day, pointing out that in the East's starting lineup there were only two Eastern players, whereas there were nine from the mid-West.

Al Marsters

"That was due merely to unavoidable conditions," commented Coach Kerr. "If Notre Dame instead of Pitt had been playing Southern California that day our team would have had the pick of the Panther stars, and if Al Marsters, of Dartmouth, had not been injured he also would have been in our lineup. Then the East rather than the mid-West would have supplied most of the color. But the main things are that we won and made $60,000 for the Shrine Hospital."

KERR says the 47-to-14 score in the Panther-Trojan game cannot be taken as an indication of the relative merits of the teams. "Nothing can convince me, after 25 years of experience, that coast football is any better than the Eastern standard," he declared. "Southern California has a fine team. You can't take that away from the Trojans. And they were better in December and on New Year's Day than in November. But no team in the country was so many points better than Pitt under normal conditions. It was clear that the Panthers were not at their best. I can't put my finger on any one thing that might be called the particular cause. It was a combination of circumstances that hurt Pitt, for in addition to the long trip and the strange climate there must be reckoned the lack of practice that affected that all-important item, timing."

THE action of the Illinois Boxing Commission in exonerating Art Shires from all charges of dishonesty in his bout with Dan Daly at Chicago on December 9, and suspending Daly for life for making what it alleges to have been a false statement and a false affidavit, was in line with popular opinion and expectations as far as the Shires part of the verdict was concerned.

While frowning upon the entry of the ball player into the boxing game as something not helpful to either baseball or the fistic sport, most fans have felt confident from the start that Shires was not guilty of any dishonest dealings, but was merely being "used" by some unscrupulous racket men. Besides, Shires' own personality was enough to clear him. He places such a lofty estimate on his ability that he probably thinks he could win any bout without going to the trouble of fixing it.

ONE prominent and popular basketball figure of this district who appears certain to go higher both as a coach and as a player is Nate Lippe, director of athletics at Harding High School in Aliquippa and starring with his league-leading Fintex team in the County loop.

Lippe is one of the best basketball performers seen on the courts of this section in the last 10 years, as was borne out by his fine showing when given a tryout by the world champion Rosenblums, of Cleveland, in several exhibition games recently.

Nate Lippe

NATE is a Clevelander, a graduate of Central High School there, and was for three years chosen as an all-scholastic forward in his district. He then entered Geneva College and was mentioned frequently as the best forward in the Tri-State Conference. During his last season there, and under Bo McMillin's regime, he was assistant coach and had practically full charge of basketball. Next he was appointed athletic director at Harding High, and every season since he has had his football and basketball teams in the running for top honors. Last season his floor team lost to Homestead in the W. P. I. A. L. semi-finals only after a hard and closely fought game.

DAVE KERR, Rosenblum coach, pronounces Lippe one of the smartest passers he has ever seen outside the American League, and Dutch Dehnert, outstanding pro star and master of the pivot play, says that of all the players who have opposed him Nate was the first to diagnose it correctly and devise the right plan for breaking it up.

Four years ago, in the County League's first season, Lippe was voted the league's most valuable player by the referees and coaches and received a trophy emblematic of the honor. Not only is he to get further trials with the champion Rosies as a player but the great record he has made as a coach and developer of floor talent in scholastic circles, makes it seem likely that more than one college soon will be seeking his services as a mentor.

SPEAKING of basketball, it is said that the withdrawal of Syracuse from the American League, leaving that circuit with only six clubs for the second half of the season, which begins next week, was due to the refusal of Syracuse University to let Vic Hanson, now coach there, to play the pro game this winter.

Hanson was one of the leading college stars while playing for

CARLSON CREW PRESSED BY SKIBOS

By JULIUS LEVIN.

The undefeated University of Pittsburgh basketball team scored its ninth straight victory of the season and its ninth in a row over Carnegie Tech in the first battle of their three-game series in the Carnegie Tech gym last night, the Carlson charges winning by a score of 24-18. The opening contest drew a capacity crowd of more than 2,500.

His shock troops, Wrobleski, S. Kowallis, Brown, Milt Cohen and Lawry, unable to keep pace with the Tartans in the first half, when the Skibos piled up a lead of 14-8, Coach Carlson had to summon a growling band of Golden Panther regulars to overtake a fighting Carnegie Tech quintet.

SKIBOS TAKE LEAD

The Skibos, as a result of two field goals by Nease and a pair of fouls, piled up a 6-to-2 lead at the outset. Kowallis, however, tied the score at 7-all, after the Skibos had registered two foul tries, with a pair of fine baskets. From then until the end of the period all the Panthers could get was a foul shot by Brown. The Skibos in the meantime had added three field goals and a foul to hold a six-point lead at the rest period. Shortly before the end of the half, the Panther regulars, composed of Hyatt, Zehfuss, Les Cohen, Arture and W. Kowallis replaced the second-stringers and Tech's attack was silenced for the rest of the game.

With the regulars on the floor at the start of the second half, the Panthers lost little time in overtaking the Skibos, Carlson's boys scoring 16 points to four for the Tartans. Leonard scored a field goal and a foul and Fox a foul in the second half for Tech.

HYATT STARS

Shortly after the start of the last half, Hyatt got the range of the hoop following a successful foul attempt by Zehfuss, and shot two successive field goals to bring his mates within one point of the Tartans. Leonard, however, again placed the Skibos four points ahead when he registered a field goal and followed it with a foul.

The Panthers then started to work in earnest. Zehfuss, on a fine pass from Hyatt, scored a double-decker and Cohen added a foul point. After Fox had given the Skibos a two-point edge with a foul, Hyatt swooped down under the hoop to tie the count with a field goal.

Field goals by Les Cohen and Arture and two foul goals by Zehfuss gave the Panthers a six-point advantage which they held until the finish.

Zehfuss played a brilliant floor game for the Panthers and was one of the big stars of the contest. For Carnegie Tech, Nease and Fox, the latter a substitute, played stellar roles.

PITT CUBS COP

In the preliminary, the Pitt freshies scored their thirty-first successive victory, extending over a period of three years, by defeating the Carnegie plebes in a hectic struggle, 25 to 24. The Plebes led until the closing stages of the game. The lineups:

YESTERDAY'S ANSWERS—MR. FAGNANI, THE FALL GUY—On June 24, 1925, when Fagnani was working on the new Liberty Bank Building in Buffalo, he stepped into the construction elevator shaft on the twentieth floor and was caught in the elevator cables at the bottom. The State Labor Board of New York, in awarding him compensation, officially concluded this to be a fact. He lives in Buffalo and conducts a business. THE BOB CAT TWISTER—A few years ago, Crouch & Reger, who promoted a rodeo at Doby Springs, Okla., rounded up some steers and among them was this one with unusual horns. Even though he has been kept as a show article for some time, he still is wild and has a great reputation for ferociousness. He still is being exhibited in fairs and exhibitions in Oklahoma.

DUKES TO QUIT CONFERENCE TODAY

A decision will be made this afternoon by Duquesne University authorities in regard to the institution's position in the Tri-State Conference at a meeting of the Athletic Council. It is probable Duquesne will withdraw from the conference, an action which was exclusively forecast by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph yesterday. A committee from the Tri-State body conferred with Duke athletic authorities more than a month ago relative to the action.

NO ILL FEELING

A decision by Duquesne was delayed due to the absence of Elmer Layden, director of athletics, and the action scheduled for today will be in response to a letter received yesterday from A. C. Edgecombe, of Geneva College, who is chairman of the conference committee. Edgecombe's letter asked for information regarding the intended action of the Dukes.

The voluntary withdrawal of Duquesne, which is expected to result from the meeting, would be merely the result of a desire by both parties to make fairer the standing of Conference football teams. No ill feeling has attended the proposal. A rapid expansion of athletics at Duquesne University probably will see the freshman rule installed on the Bluff shortly, a step still remote from the plans of the Class B schools of the league, and, coupled with the fact that Geneva is the only Conference team scheduled by the Red and Blue for next fall, the course seems to be the only one open.

HURTS OTHER MEMBERS

The constitution of the Tri-State body requires that four Conference teams be scheduled for a school to be eligible for the championship, whereas in falling short

PIRATE ICEMEN MEET BRUINS TONIGHT

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—The World Champion Boston Bruins will be out to add to their National League record of 13 successive victories here tonight when they meet the Pittsburgh Pirates. The previous high mark for wins-in-a-row was 11, established by Les Canadiens two years ago.

The local skaters are odds-on favorites to down the visitors in tonight's fray, originally scheduled to be played in Pittsburgh but transferred to this city about two weeks ago. The Bruins have not tasted of defeat since December 1, when they were "taken" by the Chicago Hawks. Since that time they have scored 56 goals to 25 for their opponents, and have beaten the New York Rangers, Montreal Les Canadiens, Ottawa and the New York Americans each twice and Toronto, Chicago, Montreal, Detroit and Pittsburgh each once.

GREAT BATTLE RECALLED

Over this stretch of 13 Boston triumphs no team has been able to smash through the Hub sextet's defense for more goals than have the Pirates, who put up a great battle before bowing in 5-4 defeat on the occasion of their last appearance here, on December 10. Frank Frederickson, the Pittsburgh player-manager, suffered a severe knee injury in that battle, and indications are that he will be unable to don skates again this season.

Frederickson received some good news today when a message was received from Pittsburgh to the effect that Herb Drury, his star center, expected to be able to return to the lineup for the Pirates' battle with the New York Americans at Duquesne Garden, Pittsburgh, Saturday night. Drury, it was reported, has been working out on home ice this week and is convinced that a broken hand

JESS SAFELY IN PIRATE FOLD

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

Another Pirate star was safely in the fold today with the announcement from headquarters that Jess Petty, veteran southpaw pitcher, had just signed his contract.

Jess Petty.

The well-known silver fox tried to slip into Oakland quietly yesterday for the purpose of a contract conference, but he was seen by at least half a dozen lovers of baseball.

In confirming the report that Jess had signed, Treasurer Sam Dreyfuss announced that Petty, who is recovering from an operation for the removal of his appendix, would go to Hot Springs, Ark., for three weeks treatment before leaving for Paso Robles with the first squad of Pirates.

Petty is 15 pounds lighter than he was one year ago, yet he seems to be in better shape in some ways, although he has to be careful for a spell on account of his illness. He thinks that three weeks of treatment at the famed Spa will tone him up.

In signing Petty, the Pirate directors got rid of a good-sized chore, for the Silver Fox is said to be one of the highest-paid men on the club. He is reported to have drawn something like $15,000 for his last season with the Robins. Petty had an off-season in his first year with the Pirates, although he made a strong finish.

PLANS ANNOUNCED

The harbinger of another baseball season loomed for Pittsburgh fans today in the announcement from Pirate headquarters of the official program for the spring training cruise on which Skipper Jewel Ens will whip his Buccaneer crew into shape for the National League pennant race of 1930.

As already announced in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, the usual system of splitting the squad into two divisions will be followed. The start will be made five weeks from next Tuesday, and the first workout on the Paso Robles practice grounds in California will be held five days later.

The training schedule, as given out by Treasurer Sam Dreyfuss, calls for the advance guard to leave Pittsburgh at 9:30 o'clock on the night of February 18, the trip to be made over the Baltimore & Ohio, the Sante Fe and the Southern Pacific railroads. This division, comprising the pitchers and catchers and several of the young recruits in other departments, mainly infielders, will

PANTHERS WELCOMED HOME FROM COAST

GRIDDERS GLAD TO FINISH LONG TRIP

By JESS CARVER.

Pitt's football team returned home from its second invasion of the Rose Bowl at Pasadena last night . . . home to the condolences of this city and the ever-comforting embrace of true friends.

The Panthers completed their long trip home from California at 8:35, and were given a rousing reception in the Union Station as they stepped from the Fast Mail, crack flyer which carried them over the last lap of the transcontinental journey from Chicago. Almost forgotten was the stunning defeat suffered in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena New Year's Day as the Golden Cats tackled Southern California's Trojans in the annual Tournament of Roses gridiron classic, as a host of relatives, sweethearts, students and the University Band acclaimed the Eastern champions.

TRIP CUT

Pitt arrived back in the city a day ahead of schedule, the university officials having cut one day from the return program, deciding that the boys should be back in their classes as soon as possible.

The team, while glad to be home, reasoned that it might have been permitted to spend the extra day en route, visiting the interesting and educational Indian reservation at Albuquerque. But the big shots reasoned otherwise . . . and their reasoning went.

As it was, the Panthers did little sight-seeing en route home, stopping only at the Grand Canyon.

A really enjoyable day was spent yesterday as the squad sped over the final lap of the long trek. The boys sang as they lunched and whooped it up for fair at dinner. The reserve and melancholy of the first two or three days of the jaunt melted under the warming expectation of going home.

CLASSES RESUMED

One could not help but picture the welcome that would have been Pitt's had Southern California been defeated and the team been returned home with as good a claim to the national championship as any eleven in the land. Certainly there would have been a civic reception fitting a great team.

Certain it is the University would have had an official welcoming party on hand, and certainly, most certainly, the men would have been carried in state to their respective homes.

But Pitt came home, not as victors, but as a team that met its Waterloo in the shape of a great football eleven that would not be beaten. The boys faced the ordeal of looking those that had banked their hopes on its greatness as heroes—and it takes real herosim to grin after you've taken a smacking.

Classes for most of the athletes were resumed today, and next week, the banquet season opens, with a fete carded for Monday and Thursday evenings. On Monday, the Oakland Business Men will honor the team at the Hotel Schenley, and on Thursday, the trophy emblematic of the city collegiate gridiron championship will be presented the Panthers by the Chamber of Commerce at its yearly banquet.

EIGHT END CAREERS

The return last night of the Panthers marked the second time in three years that Pitt has trailed home unsuccessful from the Rose Bowl. In 1927, Jock Sutherland took his eleven out to the Coast to battle Stanford and lost by a 7 to 6 count.

This year, Pitt followed Carnegie Tech to California, playing the same team that bounced one off the chin of the Tartan, Southern Cal. The Panthers and the Skibos may now spend the winter exchanging condolences—meanwhile laying deep plans to scalp one another next fall.

This colleg life is a great life. You don't get much money, but you have a lot of fun.

Eight of the party of 33 footballers who made the jaunt to the West this year completed their careers as varsity men. They are Capt. Albert Di Meolo, Joe Donchess, Ray Montgomery, Charley Edwards, Ton. Parkinson, Felix Wilps, Jim Rooney and Toby Uansa. All save Rooney were members of the 1927 Pitt team that played in the Rose Bowl.

Among those who were on hand at the station last night were Chancellor Bowman, George Carson, alumni secretary; J. Steele Gow, executive secretary; Jimmy Hagan, assistant athletic director; W. C. Arthur, president of the Alumni Association; W. A. Weldin, Razz Quailey, Al Becker, Henry Blum, Chappie Couch, Walter Rome, Jack Duff, Skip Gougler and John Nicklas.

Dr. Spears to Coach At Oregon, Report

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 9.—Dr. Clarence W. Spears, football coach at the University of Minnesota, was reported under consideration today as the new coach for the University of Oregon to succeed Capt. John J. McEwan.

Capt. McEwan resigned recently, but said he would not give up his position until a satisfactory agreement was reached on his salary contract, which has a year to run.

It was reported that announcement of Dr. Spears' engagement to coach football here would follow the salary agreement with McEwan.

Ganzy to Coach Duquesne Mentors

The football players who will play an all-star team composed of Duquesne University's coaches, manager and trainer as a preliminary to the annual Duke Alumni game in Bluff gymnasium tomorrow night will be coached by George (Ganzy) Benedict, injured captain of the basketball squad.

SOUTH BEND, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Tom Conley, of Philadelphia, last night was elected captain of the 1930 Notre Dame football team. He is an end.

Southern League Leader Is Suicide

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 9.—(INS.)—Failing health today was ascribed by relatives and associates as the motive which caused Alexander Julius Heinemann, popular president and treasurer of the New Orleans Pelicans, of the Southern League, to commit suicide here last night.

Heinemann, 51, a native of New Orleans and head of the local baseball club for nearly a quarter of a century, was found dead beside a desk in his office. He had fired a pistol bullet through his mouth.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 9.—The West Virginia University-West Virginia Wesleyan basketball game originally scheduled here last night, will be played January 14 under the revised schedule.

GUS COPULOS EQUALS MARK

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Equalling the world's high run tournament record of 17, Gus Copulos, of Detroit, last night tossed the national three-cushion billiard tournament into a three-way tie as he defeated Otto Reiselt, of Philadelphia, 50 to 48, in 45 innings. Reiselt's defeat threw him into a deadlock with Champion Johnny Layton and Augie Kieckhefer, each of whom has dropped one game.

Layton remained in the battle for his title by turning back the youthful Allan Hall, of St. Louis, 50 to 35, in 55 innings. Kieckhefer set down Charley Jordan, of Los Angeles, 50 to 49, in 72 innings.

The drawings for today give Copulus and Denton two blocks. They meet in the day's opener. Jordan and Schuler stage a battle of losers in the second game. Denton and Kieckhefer open the night hostilities and Copulus and Hall conclude the day's schedule.

A. A. U. May Control Amateur Hockey

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—Amateur ice rockey, minus an active national body, will be placed temporarily under the control of the Amateur Athletic Union if a proposal submitted to the board of governors of the A. A. U. is carried.

The proposal to take over control of amateur hockey until the annual convention of the A. A. U. has been put to mail vote among the governors, Secretary Daniel J. Ferris announced.

The proposal was made by W. S. Haddock, of Pittsburgh, president of the United Amateur Hockey Association.

NEHF QUITS BASEBALL

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—William Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs, yesterday announced the retirement of Art Nehf, veteran southpaw pitcher. He has accepted a position with hotel interests of William Wrigley, Jr., owner of the Cubs.

Nehf began his career with the Terre Haute, Ind., High School team. He entered professional baseball in the Copper League of Michigan after graduation from Rose Polytechnic Institute, and then blasted his way into the majors—with the Boston Braves.

In 1916, the New York Giants paid $55,000 and five players for him. He wore a Giant uniform for 10 years. In the 1921 world's series he hung up a record that still stands—three games pitched with only 12 hits allowed. In the same year he pitched a 21-inning game against Pittsburgh, holding the Pirates scoreless until the twenty-first inning, only to lose by a 2-to-0 score. Nehf joined the Cubs late in 1926.

Hawks Order Abel, 220-Pound Star, To Reduce

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Taffy Abel, the man mountain of defense on the Chicago Blackhawk team, did not make the trip to Detroit yesterday with his team for a National Hockey League game, but was left at home and ordered to reduce his weight.

Abel, who weighs around 220 pounds, has been slowed down because of excess poundage. He is working out daily at the Chicago Athletic Association.

SIANOS, FINTEX TO BATTLE

Two high-class attractions are offered the followers of the Allegheny County League tonight when the Sianos meet Fintex on the Duquesne University court and the Duquesne Lafayettes invade Elizabeth to engage the Independents.

The Siano-Fintex fray, originally scheduled for Columbus Temple, but shifted to Duquesne University as a result of repairs being made at the former place, brings together two natural rivals who should present a hard-fought contest. Fintex, leading the race for the first-half championship, did not show championship form in its recent game with the Allentown Club and unless a big improvement is flashed tonight the leaders are in for a trimming.

The Sianos, strengthened by the return of Tom Foley to the lineup, will be out again to obtain revenge for a lacing suffered at the hands of Fintex on the same floor several weeks ago. The Sianos would rather defeat Fintex than any other team in the league and it goes without saying that they will be on their toes tonight.

H. Delmanto, manager of the Sianos, has completed arrangements with the Duquesne University authorities to play all of remaining home games on the Bluff court.

Dribbles

The Young Men's Hebrew Association has a chance to tie the Ray Schneiders for first place in the West Penn League tonight when it meets the Knickers on the Y. M. H. A. floor. The Knickers suffered a two-point defeat at the hands of the Schneiders which permitted the North Siders to break a triple deadlock for the lead.

Joseph Horne plays at Falcons No. 8 and National Music at Manchester Community in the two Central Pittsburgh League games carded tonight. Manchester must win to retain its hold on first place. Coach Jim Black has his Manchester aggregation in fine fettle for the contest.

Real Estate Savings and Trust meets Carnegie Steel on the latter's floor in the only Commercial-Industrial League battle on tonight's card.

The Duquesne Lafayettes, who meet Elizabeth tonight, not only got revenge for a defeat suffered at the hands of the Ackermans earlier in the season, but virtually ruined the Homesteaders' chances of winning the County League title by defeating them on Tuesday night.

The Forrester team of the Central League has been strengthened for the second half of the Central League race by the addition of Joe Lyons and Ray Hickey. It plays Pittsburgh Railways at Forrester Hall tonight, and Manager Johnny Fundy, former boxer, has open dates for light first-class teams. He may be reached by calling Fisk 1265.

GENEVA SEEKS HARPSTER

A. C. Edgecombe, director of athletics at Geneva College, today verified the report printed exclusively yesterday in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph that the Beaver Falls college is dickering with Howard Harpster, former All-America quarterback at Carnegie Tech, to accept a coaching position with the Covenanters.

Harpster, who coached at Shady Side Academy during the past season, is expected to accept.

Previous reports had Harpster going to Washington University, St. Louis, as grid mentor. Al Sharpe, former Yale athlete, is at present the head coach there, but rumors to the effect that he would be elevated to the directorship of athletics to make room for Harpster had gained wide circulation.

Mack Flenniken, coach at Geneva for the past two years, had an unsuccessful campaign last fall. He worked both seasons under one-year contracts. He is an undergraduate at Geneva, not getting his degree until next June. William Davies, of Ohio State, was his assistant last season.

CHICAGO LOSES STAR

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(INS.)—Jonathan Bunge, University of Chicago center and former Dartmouth athlete, was lost to the Maroon basketball team today through ineligibility. A ruling holds that Bunge has attained the standing of a graduate student, barring him from athletic competition.

MASON BREAKS WITH CUDDY DE MARCO

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor.

Cuddy DeMarco, former star local lightweight boxer, and his manager, James (Red) Mason, have reached the parting of the ways. Cuddy may continue to pursue boxing as a means of livelihood, but Mason advised him following his recent bout with Mickey Russell, of Baltimore, at McKeesport, to quit and told him he would arrange no more bouts for him.

Cuddy DeMarco

Mason and DeMarco have been associated since 1923, when Mason bought Cuddy's contract from Jim Buchanan, of Charleroi, who handled the boxer in his early professional bouts, following a brilliant career in the amateur ranks.

TAKES ON WEIGHT

DeMarco still thinks he is good for battles against a lot of the fellows getting by in the ring, but there is no question that he has gone back woefully. He has lost his sharp boxing form and taken on excessive weight and his friends are stringing along with Mason in advising him to develop another calling.

Despite his record of having fought the best men in several divisions, it is no secret that DeMarco has no nest egg to fall back on now that he is at or near the end of his pugilistic career. He was a good spender when he was making big money and the purses have been few and far between lately.

With the dropping of DeMarco, Mason still has a group of boxers under his wing. Two of them are heavyweights, Jack Ryan and Jack Wells. He also handles Dominick Profio, Young Rudy, Jimmy Belmont and Sammy Paris. He is angling now for a return bout between Belmont and Tiger Joe Randall at McKeesport.

Between Rounds

Mickey Solmen boxes Leo Genet in an eight-round windup at East Liverpool, O., tonight. Ted Yarosz meets Johnny Dill, Eddie Loos opposes the Gypsy Kid and Nick Cariseo tangles with Jimmy Davis in preliminaries. Battling Battalino, the featherweight champion, meets Phil Vero, in a non-titular match at New Haven, Conn., and Billy Jones and Don Petrin clash at Philadelphia, with Jack Wolfe and Buddy Burke boxing in the semi-final.

It now develops that the reason Tom Malco is boxing Vincent Hambright, of Cincinnati, and not Young Saylor, of Charleroi, in the main bout of the opening show at the new Coliseum Friday night of next week is that Malco, through his manager, Joe Holland, has done a runout on the proposed return bout with Saylor, who defeated him hands down at the Moose Temple recently only to be the victim of the season's most atrocious decision here. Holland is afraid that if the return bout should be close the judges and referee would automatically give it to Saylor to make up for the other thing, so instead of Saylor he has accepted Hambright, who is apt to knock out anybody punching in his present form, as Malco's foe.

GARDEN CARD COMPLETE

The card is complete for the Motor Square Club show next Monday night. Tony Herrera and Tommy Crawley are in the main bout and Chet Smallwood and Eddie Brannon in the semi-final, with Johnny Haggerty boxing Young Nanci in the second bout and Sammy Paris and Paul Balint clashing in the opener. After these bouts the Garden will be closed down for two weeks, due to the automobile show.

There is almost as much interest among the fans in the Johnny Smakey-Mickey Doris semi-final at the Moose Temple tomorrow night as there is in the heavyweight windup return bout between George Panka, of Homestead, and Harry Williams, of Rankin. Smakey is one of the cleverest of the local boxers and his opponent is a good mixer.

An effort will be made to have Tony Herrera stay over after his bout at Motor Square Garden Monday night to box one of the exhibitions under the auspices of the Ninth Ward Republican Club, formerly the Lawrenceville Triangle Club, in Forresters Hall, Lawrenceville, next Wednesday night. Other professional boxers on the smoker card include Jack Burke, Harry Williams, Jackie Rodgers, Joe Beish and Johnny Vivio. Amateurs also will vie in battles.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

ART SHIRES

When Dan Daly, Columbus, heavyweight, alleged he was coerced into taking a dive for Art Shires, battling first baseman of the Chicago White Sox, in his ring debut at Chicago recently, the Sox declared they would not offer Art a contract for next season until he cleared himself of the charges.. He's done that little thing, and, unless he gets into further trouble, he'll be able to bat out baseballs again during the warm months, as pictured above. Fight photo shows finish of the Daly bout. Dan alleged he was told to fall face downward so the referee wouldn't be able to see his eyes as he counted him out.

MICH. VERDICT ON SHIRES DEFERRED

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Disposition of the case of Arthur (The Great) Shires was deferred by the Michigan Boxing Commission when the taking of testimony was completed today.

A decision is expected before night.

A motion that Shires be exonerated of all implication in an alleged attempt to "fix" a fight in Detroit with Battling Criss was offered by Commissioner Henry Komrofsky, of Detroit. In compliance with a request by Commissioner David Gudelsky, of Muskegon, for time to study the testimony, a vote on the motion was postponed.

It was agreed by the commission that testimony involving Nessie Blumenthal, Shires' manager; Benny Ray, Detroit promoter, and Scotty Strachen, Detroit fight manager, will be considered further. Gudelsky said he is not satisfied there was not some connection between the Shires camp and the charges that Criss was asked to "take a dive."

Ray denied any connection with the alleged "fixing" plan.

ABSOLVED IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Charles Arthur Shires, The Great Man, won another battle yesterday—one of complete vindication. The Illinois State Athletic Commission completely exonerated the babbling baseball-pugilist of charges of engaging in a "fixed" fight with Dangerous Dan Daly at the White City Arena, December 9, in which Shires knocked out his opponent in his first professional contest in 21 seconds.

Daly, who claimed he took a "dive" for Shires, was suspended for life in Illinois, for making false affidavits to the commission in regard to his name, age, and various contests in which he appeared. The commissioners expressed the belief that Daly's statement to a Columbus, O., newspaper, that he had been compelled to lay down to Shires, were as false as his statement to the Illinois Commission as to his name and age.

1,000 to Attend Pitt Fete Monday

Upwards of 1,000 Panther boosters will gather at the Schenley Hotel Monday night to honor the Pitt boys, judging by the advance sale of tickets. The committee in charge announced today that plans are progressing in fine shape. The affair is sponsored by the Oakland Board of Trade.

Elaborate decorations carrying out the football idea will be in evidence in the banquet hall and a big program of entertainment is being arranged. A. H. Clark, chairman of the ticket committee, is able to care for guests at the Schenley Hotel or at the Benedum Trees Building.

Art's Ring Earnings Top Baseball Pay

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Since becoming a professional fist-fighter just a month ago today, Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires, has earned exactly $8,000 in four engagements, $2,900 more than he got for playing first base for the Chicago White Sox all last season.

The Great man got the $8,000 in the short period of 30 days, compared with five months of baseball playing for $5,100. Shires' contract with the White Sox called for $8,500, but fines plastered on him ate up more than $3,000.

Shires expects to increase his ring earnings to more than $10,000 by meeting Al Spohrer, catcher for the Braves, in Boston tomorrow night.

Long's Sport Comment

Syracuse and later was instrumental in obtaining an American League franchise for that city. While he played on it, the Syracuse pro team was a strong one and drew from 3,000 to 5,000 fans weekly, but when his services were lost this year, even such players as Stretch Meehan, Nat Holman, Jerry Sullivan, Teddy Kearns and Peanuts Allen could not keep the combination on the winning road, and it lost 16 out of 20 games. Hence the throwing up of the sponge.

Hube Wagner

PITT football will have just the right sort of flavoring at the testimonial banquet to be held in honor of the 1929 team by the Oakland Board of Trade at the Schenley Hotel next Monday night. The exceptional spirit shown in paying tribute to a team in defeat is quite a bit off the beaten path, and there is a glow of sportsmanship in it that is certain to find a response in the breasts of the Panthers following their defeat in California. With Hube Wagner, Tommy Holleran, Charley Quailey and other former Pitt celebrities at the speakers' table the affair should not want for local gridiron color. All three of those mentioned won sport titles and degrees, but when football is being discussed they will wish to be remembered as belonging to the rank and file. Jock Sutherland, head coach of the Panthers, also will be there with a speech. Indications point to a big turnout of the squad's supporters.

THE final selection of Phil Scott, the British boxer whose specialty is the claiming of fouls, as the man to meet Jack Sharkey in the heavyweight bout billed for February 27 in Miami, Fla., will be greeted with no wild hurrahs by the great body of ring fans. The match is a poor one and carries no appeal. Sharkey is far superior to Fainting Phil and the only question about the fight is how long it will last. Scott has some boxing skill, but Tommy Loughran also had a lot of it, and yet it didn't make him a match for Sharkey.

The fact that Scott was hand-picked by the former sailor, who deliberately side-stepped a worthier foe in the person of Tuffy Griffiths, is another feature that adds to the unattractiveness of the affair. Of course the promoters will make a big play on the international side of the match, and possibly they may put it over successfully from a financial angle, but as a fistic spectacle it threatens to leave a whole lot to be desired.

BILLY PETROLLE BACK

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Billy Petrolle has retired from retirement. The Fargo (N. D.) Express, who decided to hang up his gloves after King Tut decisively defeated him in Detroit four months ago, will be ready again for ring activity within two weeks, Jack Hurley, his manager, was advised today.

BOOKS SEVEN-ROUNDERS

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Promoter Jim Mullen today matched Clyde Hull, Raymond, S. D., 150-pounder, with Bobby La Salle, of Los Angeles, for a seven-round engagement at the White City Arena next Monday night. Harry Dublinsky, Chicago junior lightweight, meets Ray Kaiser, Tulsa, Okla., in the semi-windup, also seven rounds.

Donie Bush, newly appointed manager of the Sox, was under instructions today to have the balance of the squad report on February 28.

The schedule of 17 exhibition dates with the New York Giants probably will be augmented by three or four additional dates Some of these are now in the making for San Antonio or points in the neighborhood which desire to see the major leaguers in action.

Harvard, Yale Nines To Be Self-Controlled

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Harvard has accepted Yale's invitation to play their annual baseball series this spring without the assistance of coaches. Yale and Princeton have entered into a similar agreement, which will leave the control of the game entirely within the hands of the captains and players.

MR. ALBERT NIEMETZ

"Ten Herbs gave me such wonderful results when I used it some time ago that I am glad to tell others about your medicine," said Mr. Albert Niemetz, 4554 Rosina Way, Pittsburgh. "I had suffered from indigestion for three years, and was almost a physical wreck. My appetite was very poor, and there were certain kinds of food I did not dare to eat. I was troubled with gas, heartburn and shortness of breath. For two years or more I had been subject to headaches that would last for two or three days at a time. At times I got so dizzy I feared I would fall. My vision would become blurred—everything seemed to turn black. Nervousness disturbed my rest at night, and I had a tired, wornout feeling all the time. There were pains across my back, and I was also troubled with constipation.

"I started using Ten Herbs when I read in the papers how your medicine was helping people of this section. It was not long before I felt like a different person. Indigestion disappeared, and I no longer had terrible heartburn, gas, coated tongue, or bad taste in my mouth. Pains left from around my heart, and my breathing improved. I became free of headaches, dizzy spells, blurring of vision, and that wornout feeling. My nerves got stronger, and pains left my back. Constipation was corrected. I am pleased to endorse Ten Herbs to the public."

Ten Herbs is sold at all drug stores in Pittsburgh and by all druggists throughout this entire section.

DUKES TO QUIT CONFERENCE

of that number by merely scheduling three, the Dukes jeopardized the chances of the other teams during the past season. The proposed quitting of the Conference is not due to any desire on the part of Duquesne, according to its officials, to high hat the body or member-teams since the motion for the voluntary withdrawal came from a tri-state committee.

While a retirement from Conference membership would affect Duquesne basketball as well as football, no action taken this afternoon would affect the present floor schedule, it is thought.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Lionel Belmore, veteran screen character actor, was arrested at his Hollywood home for alleged possession of liquor. Belmore, who is 55 years old, was held in $500 bond. Detectives alleged they found 10 quarts of gin, a gallon of wine and several quarts of whisky in the actor's home. The officers said they raided the house after watching Belmore sell drinks of liquor to visitors.

TARDIEU CALMS GERMANS

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND,
Universal Service Special Cable.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Jan. 9.—Only the official French denial of a purported statement by Premier Andre Tardieu, circulated by the official Havas Agency, calmed the German reparations delegation, which was prepared to leave the second Hague conference and entrain for Berlin.

Today the wheels of the reparations parley will move again, although somewhat creakily.

Growing out of the sharp clash in the session among Premier Tardieu and the Germans, Foreign Minister Curtius and Minister of Finance Moldenhauer, the Germans took offense over the Havas Agency communique, in which Tardieu was quoted as having said that the German delegation had not the capacity to negotiate.

The German ministers, who had already declared they were ready to go home, thereupon declared off the private meeting with Tardieu and French Foreign Minister Briand and let them know they could not again meet them until a correction or denial of the Havas dispatch were forthcoming.

Tardieu declared that the dispatch was, as a matter of fact, incorrect; that he did not say the things charged against him; that he would be glad, therefore to remove the cause for misunderstanding.

PENN. mother proves her idea is right . . .

"MY little son was bilious and upset," says Mrs. Mary Sarsfield, 5131 Hoopes St., Philadelphia. "He had no appetite, his breath was bad, his tongue was coated, and he was nearly always tired and sleepy.

"He seemed to have trouble with his stomach and bowels and I had an idea California Fig Syrup would help him. He brightened up marvelously with the first few doses. At the end of a week, he was a different boy. I have used California Fig Syrup with him every time he has had a cold or upset, and I give it a lot of credit for his wonderful condition."

California Fig Syrup never fails to cleanse the system of bilious, headachy, feverish or constipated children, quickly and gently. It never gripes or sickens. Children love its flavor. A pure vegetable product with the highest endorsement of doctors. It helps Nature give tone and strength to the stomach and bowels.

All drug stores have the generous bottles. The name "California" marks the genuine.

It's easy to see from his wonderful condition that this little fellow's mother knows what to do when his stomach or bowels go wrong. No drugs for her. Nothing but pure vegetable California Fig Syrup. At least a million families are never without a bottle of it in the home!

EVENING SUN-TELEGRAPH MARKETS

Stocks Advance — Local Stocks Narrow

STOCKS GO UP ON INCREASE IN TRADING

Resumption of Activity By Pools Accounts For Much of Buying

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—Speculative sentiment in the stock market apparently turned for the better overnight, and prices of a large assortment of issues rallied 1 to 10 points on an increased volume of trading. Resumption of pool activities, which led to a brisk retreat of the short interest in several stocks, probably accounted for much of the buying, although brokers reported a steady underlying investment demand for the high grade issues.

Call money dropped from 4½ to 4 per cent for the third successive day, with a plentiful supply of funds available at the lower figure. Time money and commercial paper rates continued easy. The recent decline in money rates has aroused hopes of a further reduction in Federal Reserve rediscount rates. Directors of the New York Bank meet after the close of the market today, but no immediate change is contemplated by most money observers.

AWAIT TRADE TREND

Except for reports of a further upturn in steel activity and the resumption of dividends on the Wabash preferred issues, there was not much in the day's business news to stimulate the market. The cautious attitude shown by manufacturers in planning their campaigns this year is reflected in that of investors, many of whom are reported to be standing on the sidelines until the course of spring business becomes more clearly defined.

One of the most disturbing market factors is the large blocks of stocks taken over by investment houses for supporting purposes during the recent break, and the large volume of securities tied up in small banks, which are believed to be overhanging the market. While brokers' loans have been sharply liquidated, bank statements indicate that large blocks of stocks are still being carried for investors.

Utah Copper, which is traded in infrequently, jumped 25 points on the sale today. National Bellas Hess preferred ran up 10 points, Western Union 9½ and Otis Elevator, American Water Works, Atlas Powder, Grant stores, R. H. Macy, Auburn Auto, American Tobacco B and Johns Manville sold 3 to 5 points higher.

DISTRIBUTING ADVANCES

Revival of activity and strength in the U. S. Distributing issues was based on reports that important railroad interests had been brought into the company. Public utilities were in good demand all day, with American and Foreign Power, Consolidated Gas, Electric Power and Light and Standard Gas and Electric among the leaders.

Renewal of selling pressure against Fox Film A carried that stock down 1½ points, and Radio-Keith-Orpheum yielded in sympathy. Motors also were heavy.

N. Y. Standard to Get Omaha Firm

OMAHA, Jan. 9.—Plans for a merger of the Nicholas Oil Corporation of Omaha with the Standard Oil Company of New York, are contained in a letter to Omaha stockholders of the Nicholas Corporation from L. L. Marcell, president of the White Eagle Oil and Refining Company, of Kansas City, who owns 97 per cent of the Nicholas stock.

The proposal, as outlined to the stockholders by Mr. Marcell, is to exchange 10 shares of White Eagle stock for eight and one-half shares of Standard of New York, and dissolve the White Eagle Company. The proposition will be submitted to White Eagle stockholders for approval on January 27, the letter said.

Brokers' Association Compiles 'Seat' List

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A confidential file containing the names of speculators with whom brokers have had unsatisfactory experiences has been established by the association of stock brokerage firms. This move on the part of the association is understood to be the outgrowth of a number of instances, particularly during the market crash of last fall, when customers broke promises to supply additional "margin," and repudiated orders given by telephone.

U. S. Firms Build Refinery Abroad

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Property has been purchased at Point Jerome, on the Seine River, near Havre, for erection of a large oil refinery by a joint company formed by Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, Atlantic Refining Company and Gulf Oil Company, says a Paris dispatch.

Union Oil Company Places Car Order

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 9.—Union Oil Company of California placed order with General American Tank Car Company for 40 insulated tank cars and 20 plain cars for refined and crude oil. Delivery is to be made by April, 1930.

Week's Structural Orders Decrease

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Structural steel awards for the past week amounted to around 7,000 tons, against 41,000 the week before. Inquiries totaled 21,000 tons, against 32,000 tons the previous week.

Banker Reveals Benefits From Recent Events

—By B. C. FORBES—

THE horse an old Scottish farmer was driving bolted and he was thrown from his gig. A neighbor ran up and asked, "are you any the worse for your fall?" As he pulled himself together in the ditch, the farmer replied, "I can't say that it has done me any good."

A New York bank president takes the view that the stock market's fall has done a lot of good. For reasons annexed.

THIS banker directs the destinies of one of the nation's most famous banking institutions. His unusual ability is widely recognized—he is one of the very few men who have turned down a million-dollar-a-year job. His rise from the humblest circumstances, wholly by his own efforts, has induced many parents, especially well-to-do clients of his bank, to come to him for advice concerning the placing of their sons in promising walks of life.

This banker remarked to me:

"The collapse of the speculative mania was the best thing that could have happened for America. It was playing havoc with the nation. It was undermining character. It was dethroning fundamental principles. It was poisoning straight thinking. It was creating a totally false attitude towards life. An utterly wrong perspective was being brought about.

"LET me give you one very significant illustration of the damage the long-continued stock boom was doing.

"Men with sons ready to take up their life's work used to talk over with me the possibilities in different lines of mercantile or industrial activity. Very often they wanted their sons to follow in their own business footsteps. In any case, their sole thought was to get them into some useful walk of life which held promise for the future.

"But within the last two years a distinct change has come over the attitude of many parents. They want their sons—and the sons apparently want—to get into the speculative game in Wall street.

"THE idea has spread that it is too slow a process to make money in ordinary business ways and that the quickest and surest short cut to wealth is to get into the thick of stock market gambling."

ASKED how he viewed the immediate outlook for the stock market, a level-headed banker explained that he did not rush in and load up with stocks during the heat of the panic, because he figured that it would take several months to clear up the wreckage. He doesn't look for any fresh trouble stockmarketwise. He has made moderate purchases for himself and for concerns he is interested in, but prefers to go slowly until the market has given very definite indications that it is ready to move upwards. Being cautious and conservative, he would rather pay a few points more later than buy to the limit while the market is still backing and filling uncertainly.

MY own humble guess is that there are so many people waiting to buy that a lot of them will find themselves compelled to pay distinctly higher prices when the market definitely turns—as turn it assuredly will sooner or later.

Government Plans Crop Conferences

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. — Department of Agriculture today announced a series of 1930 crop planning conferences, to assist American agriculture in planning to meet market demands. They will be held in Washington, beginning January 20 and continue until January 27.

The year 1930 presents the first opportunity that agricultural economics experts have had to plan planting in accordance with the workings of the co-operative marketing act, and their purpose is to take advantage of its possibilities.

HIGHER WAGES SEEN AS AID TO SOUTH

Real Prosperity Hinges On Greater Valuation Of Human Resources

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The greatest social problem in the country springs from the economic renaissance of the South.

Below the Mason and Dixon line rapid strides toward industrialization have been made since the war, and the question arises whether the country can continue half low wage and half high wage.

The higher labor standards in the more progressive northern states are challenged by the competition of the South, which pays lower wage rates and works employes longer hours. The real issue is whether Massachusetts does not need a protective tariff against South Carolina.

If there is anything in the American doctrine that high wages lay the basis for prosperity, then the South, too, ought to be converted to this economic viewpoint. The transition to the newer viewpoint can doubtless be facilitated by intelligent organization of the workers of the South. The real prosperity of the South will be enormously enhanced when it learns to charge more for its human resources.

FEDERATION WAKES UP

Hostility to the conservative unions has encouraged the spread of Communism in the textile districts of the South. At last the American Federation of Labor is alive to the necessities.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in discussing this situation, pointed out:

"Southern industries started with a low-wage practice. But this practice cannot be continued without endangering or limiting the progress of industries within this area and the whole nation.

"No southern community wants a large proportion of its population to remain permanently in the poverty group, which entails high expenditures for relief; high percentage of uncollectable bills held by real estate owners, merchants, doctors, etc.; poorer stores in the community; a citizenry less competent to maintain good government; unnecessary sickness and great susceptibility to epidemics.

"Southern textile workers are receiving from $6 to $9 and in some cases over $14 less per week than workers in northern mills and work from 10 to 12 hours instead of eight and nine hours as is customary in the North.

"Industrial enterprises or communities cannot afford to become identified in the public mind with industrial strife and turmoil. Buyers have a prejudice against goods made under such circumstances. Banks are reluctant to finance incompetent management to which strikes call attention in a conspicuous way. Taxpayers object to the unnecessary burdens put upon them. Good workmen seek employment in other places.

"The organized labor movement offers management in southern industries channels through which industrial problems can be worked out in a constructive way. It offers to southern workers channels for sustained progress."

CREDIT INFLATION

Inflation of bank credit takes one of two possible forms. Either there is an increase in the volume of credit outstanding, out of proportion to the needs of legitimate trade, or there is an increase in the velocity with which credit turns over. Each type of inflation is equally important in its effect on prices. Apparently during the prolonged rise in the stock market, astigmatic economists took comfort in the fact that there was no alarming increase in the volume of bank credit. They wholly overlooked the fact that a striking increase in the velocity of credit was taking place.

Referring to the activity in bank checks, which accompanied the days of great activity in the stock market before the crash, Carl Snyder, statistician of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, said:

"This naturally carried with it a corresponding increase in the volume of check transactions and since there was little or no increase in the deposits of New York city banks, a staggering rise in the rate of turnover to what appears to have been the highest ever known.

"It is somewhat curious and characteristic of the whole episode that this high rate of turnover, and the failure of New York City deposits to increase, should not have attracted more attention than it did. The street was filled with ideas of a vast inpour of outside and foreign money, forgetful apparently that the whole amount of currency in circulation in the country, outside of the banks, is probably much less than $4,000,000,000 and that if outside and foreign money was pouring into Wall Street in any such amount, New York City deposits should show a corresponding increase."

In spite of stock market deflation, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company of Wilmington, is going right ahead with its plan of encouraging employes to acquire income-producing property. It is now offering debenture stock to employes on a basis to yield almost 8 per cent for the next five years. The wiser corporations are recognizing that, in distributing shares to employes, they ought to sell stock to their own staff on a more favorable basis than to outsiders.

TRADE STEADY IN MID-WEST

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—The Mid-West Shippers' Advisory Board today reported that agricultural and industrial activity in the Middle West will undergo little change from the same period last year.

The territory in which shipping forecasts have been made covers Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Western Indiana and Northern Michigan.

With few exceptions, increases and decreases were shown to vary little. Among the exceptions, potatoes ranked highest with a predicted shipping increase in 1930 of 33 per cent. Shipment of fresh fruits will be 15 per cent under the same period for last year, according to the forecast.

In the first quarter of 1929, there were 1,220,164 freight cars loaded with principal commodities in the Mid-West territory; the estimate for the first three months of this year is 1,213,043 cars.

Wabash Directors Declare Dividends

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Directors of the Wabash railway today declared two dividends of $5 each on the preferred "B" stock, one for 1928 and the other for 1929. Payment of the 1928 dividend had been suspended under a decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, but this decision was reversed under a recent ruling of the Supreme Court.

The dividend for 1928 is payable February 6, to stock of record December 31, 1928, and the one for 1929 will be paid February 6, to stock of record January 21, next. In addition, directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 on the preferred "A" stock, payable February 25, to stock of record January 25, 1930.

Wild Fluctuations In Spanish Peseta

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Peseta exchange against sterling fluctuated wildly in the morning dealings here. The rate at 12:30 p. m. was quoted 39.40c to 39.50c, a new low record.

Buying of sterling by subscribers to the Spanish government internal gold loan and speculative operations in exchange are responsible for the slump.

Small Steel Profits Are Anticipated

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

THE outlook for steel company earnings in the first quarter of this year has been considerably dimmed by the weakness shown in the prices of finished products. Production has started to pull out of the year-end slump and a moderate rate of improvement is expected in coming months, but lower prices will nullify the results of increased output.

Bars, plates, shapes, black sheets, galvanized sheets, automobile body sheets, strips, wire nails and plain wire have been shaded from $1 to $2 a ton. Producers are making efforts to stabilize the price situation, but unless there is a very pronounced increase in demand it is unlikely that much progress will be made.

Bars and shapes are nominally quoted at 1.90 cents a pound, but attractive orders can be placed at substantially lower figures. A factor in helping to stabilize the price structure is an advance of $1 a ton in the price of scrap, but this will have the immediate effect of increasing costs and lowering profits.

Prices Important Factor

LOWER prices for steel are more serious from the standpoint of earnings than the current rate of light operations. While any improvement in general industrial activity will be immediately reflected in greater steel production schedules, it takes time to put higher prices into effect. This is due to the practice in the steel industry of allowing important customers to place their orders at old prices immediately before new quotations are put into effect.

The losses in prices at the present time follow less serious shading which took place at the end of the third quarter, so that the steel industry is starting 1930 with the heritage of a very unsatisfactory price situation. Apparently steel companies have forgotten the effects of the drastic price slashing which took place during 1927, from which the industry did not recover until the latter part of 1928.

Earnings to Decline

IT is difficult to estimate the earnings of steel companies for the fourth quarter due to the sharp slump in production and the lower prices received. It is certain, however, that the earnings statements to be made public soon will show net profits far below those of any other quarter of the year. The results to be shown in the present quarter will depend greatly on the extent of improvement in output, but it is quite likely that they will be close to the profits of the last quarter of 1929.

Conservative steel men do not expect the present year to attain the production totals of 1929, but they do anticipate a good rate of business within a few months. Assuming this prediction to be accurate, the lower prices will result in earnings consistently below those of 1929 at least until the latter part of the year.

National Steel Plans

FURTHER details of the expansion plans of the new National Steel Corporation indicate that this organization intends to rank among the most powerful in the steel trade. Yesterday Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the board, announced that between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 will be spent within the next three years in building a plant on a 1,000-acre tract at Gary, Ind. This will be in addition to $32,000,000 to be spent at Detroit and Weirton.

Upon the completion of all of the plans the company's capacity and investment in plants will be about twice the present amounts. The expansion will permit the company to make greater use of the enormous iron ore mining properties and lake transportation facilities acquired from the Hanna interests and will fully round out operations by giving steel production at three important markets in addition to pig iron capacity at Buffalo.

GASOLINE PRICE PROBE ON

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—U. S. Attorney Hatfield announced that Assistant Attorney General Amen is on his way to San Francisco to conduct an investigation into affairs of gasoline companies of California, Washington, Oregon, Arizona, Utah and New Mexico. Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure subpoenaed 33 officials of 20 western petroleum companies to appear before the grand jury bringing along list of papers and documents.

Oil company officials said they were surprised to learn that an investigation was planned.

The investigation will concern methods used by the companies in fixing gasoline prices.

Kenneth R. Kingsbury, president of Standard Oil Company of California, concerning the Department of Justice investigation into "price-fixing" charges, says:

"The situation presents the disconcerting aspect of one department of the government challenging the legality of an action taken at the request of another department. It appears that the investigation will relate to the adoption of a code of marketing ethics by the oil industry. The proposed code was submitted by the American Petroleum Institute to the Federal Trade Commission and brought to the attention of the Department of Justice later. The Federal Trade Commission approved the code after it had made certain amendments thereto, and the code was then signed by the oil companies throughout the United States at the request of the Federal Trade Commission.

"It is surprising that legality of the code should now be subjected to investigation and attack by the Department of Justice."

Allegheny Steel 1929 Profits Bulge

Allegheny Steel during 1929 paid out $3.25 per share in dividends. During the year the company paid a 100 per cent stock dividend and also increased its common stock outstanding through the acquisition of the West Penn Steel Company.

It is reported that the company has booked large orders for first quarter in its noncorrosive products known as "Ascaloy" and "Allegheny Metal."

PACKER DECREE MAY STAND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Attorney General Mitchell has taken no action in respect to the recent petition of the "Big Four" packers for a modification of consent decree restraining packers from engaging in retail selling and vegetable packing, it was said at the Department of Justice today.

Forecasts that the department will agree to modify the decree or to insist that it be maintained, were said to be without the slightest foundation.

Pacific Oil Co. To Be Dissolved

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP.)—In a final annual report, the Pacific Oil Company, affiliate of the Southern Pacific Company, announced today that it is planned in the near future to dissolve the company and distribute the remaining assets in cash to stockholders.

The remaining assets are primarily in cash. The balance sheet of December 21 lists total assets at $4,546,833, of which $3,310,000 represented funds on call. Earnings for 1929 amounted to $231,-826.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.

Little Things About Big People

HAROLD ROSS, the editor of The New Yorker, it appears, is just as passionate about gloating over things as the rest of us.

Our Algonquin branch reports that Ross breezed into the dining room the other luncheon-time, and ankled over to what is still called "The Round Table." Brushing aside the ghosts, he sat down, and between tee-hees said to the others: "Well, I found out a coupla things. I found out that ——— didn't lose $30,000. He lost $100,000! And I found out that ——— didn't lose a million in that market crash, but five million!"

"Yeah," cooed Marc Connolly, "and did you get any handkerchiefs for Christmas, too?"

GOLDEN SILENCE

SAMUEL INSULL, the big utilities man philanthropist, who is better described as "The Otto H. Kahn, of Chicago," was embarrassed no end the other week-end out there. Mr. Insull built the twenty-million dollar Civic Opera House in Chi and stayed up nights rehearsing his speech to be made at the current season's premiere.

Taking too long to get from his box to the stage, however, the stage manager (who didn't hear the announcement) rang the orchestra in, and the conductor began juggling his baton, stranding Mr. Insull in full view of the auditors.

In sum, after spending $20,000,000, he didn't get to make his speech, proving that talk isn't so cheap.

And did we hear a fly guy mutter: "That's what you call adding Insull to injury."

WHEN Elsie Janis (whose real name is Bierbauer), was a child mimic the Cincinnati managements billed her as "Little Elsie," and often programmed her in this manner: "A pocket edition of Cissie Loftus." Not many years later the same Cissie Loftus included Elsie Janis in her own series of imitations. And just as that photographer suggested to Billie Dove (whose name is Lillian Bohney) that she change it to Dove "because you look like one," a mid-west photographer named Rockwood counselled Elsie Bierbauer: "Your name will never look well on ash cans. Get a [illegible]."

Bierbauer tag was [illegible] Janis, the given name [illegible] ench grandmother.

JINX CONVERTED

IT happened in New Haven ever so many theatrical seasons ago. Morris Gest was in the lobby of a hotel there dozing in a divan. David Belasco's play by D. Warfield, "The Grand Army Man," was having its rough edges polished off in the town and after the premiere a supper was hurled for the cast. Just as the party started for the dining room it was discovered in a panic that there were 13 guests. Acton Davies, the critic, went scurrying for an eleventh-hour guest to take the curse off.

His orbs fell on Gest, and he was dragged in. It was at that affair that the "Miracle" man met Belasco's daughter, who is now Mrs. G.

MCBRIDE, the most popular of the ticket brokers, has the greatest list of playgoing clients, and adheres to the 75 cents premium rule on tickets, they will tell you. When someone argued that Mr. McBride couldn't stop his salesmen from bargaining with the gyp specs, he countered with: "I don't believe any of my men are disloyal to me and there is a $5,000 reward to anybody who can prove I am wrong!"

The reward still stands.

SHOULD PAY FOR JOB

SPEAKING of ticket brokers, as every newspaper appears to be speaking, there is this interesting commentary on the problem. The name of the producer in question must be omitted. Let it suffice to report the fact, as he himself told it: "You cannot blame the managers for the conduct of the box office men," he said, "we cannot stop those guys from dealing with speculators. Listen to this for an amazing situation. I received a notice from Washington last week telling me that I owe the income tax bureau money on $13,000 worth of excess tickets profits that I failed to declare. Knowing that I hadn't made any excess profits I took the slip to my box office treasurer and said: 'Is this funnier than Ed Wynn, or isn't it? Get a load of this, will you?'

"My treasurer nonchalantly took the slip of paper out of my hands, put it in his inside coat pocket and blandly remarked: 'Forget about it, old man. I'll pay it.'"

The box office man who "took it off his hands" gets a salary of $50 a week!

GEORGE S. KAUFMAN, listed here ever so often as the ace of the local wits who doesn't strive to be clever, but who invariably is, was once a member of a poker club which included Alexander Woollcott, F. P. A., Heywood Broun, Robert C. Benchley and others too Humorous to mention. The wit and famous banter of this club, which was supposed to glance dazzlingly off its stack of chips, has been grossly exaggerated, but, to be sure, George S. Kaufman occasionally contributed cracks to upset the club's gravity. One evening, for instance, he remarked between hands that he was descended from old Sir Roderick Kaufman, who went on the crusades.

Fourteen eyebrows rose in well-bred surprise, and Kaufman hastily added: "as a spy."

VERY TENDER-HEARTED

AFTER touring with "Abraham Lincoln" for two years Frank McGlynn filled in at the last moment to play in a piece called "Bristol Glass" by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson, which opened in Chicago several seasons ago. The legend was that Mr. McGlynn was so saturated in the tragedy named after the beloved President that he could not help imparting a note of impending doom to Booth Tarkington's gaiety.

"Yes," moaned a critic after the show, "McGlynn played the whole second act as if he knew Booth were going to kill him in the third."

"Nonsense," put in the eavesdroppin' George S. Kaufman, "Tarkington wouldn't even kill an actor!"

THEN there's a quip that Robert C. Benchley spread around the Fulton Theater foyer the other first-night. It concerns the two Hollywood movie magnates who graduated to the Gold Coast from the Garment Center. They were in conference trying to save a new picture that lacked, what critics usually call, "a wallop."

"If we could only get someone to fix it up," said one.

"Why don't you get Jim Tully?" suggested an executive.

"Jim Tully is too caustic!"

"Oh," thundered one of the magnates, "the hell with the cost, get him!"

UNSCRAMBLE THESE ANAGRAMBLES

DAILY ANAGRAM PUZZLES

TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate," by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate." The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e."

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d," to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

Election Fraud Report Must Have Attention

It is assumed that District Attorney Gardner will act promptly on such revelations of election frauds as are contained in a report just filed with Prothonotary John Vogt. Ward Bonsall, attorney at law and chairman of the special recount committee delving into the vote cast in the September primary, said the recount disclosed fraud evidence in 43 of the 76 ballot boxes examined.

Furthermore, he said investigation of the boxes disclosed that Peter J. McArdle, had won the Republican nomination for member of Council over M. J. Muldowney, who was successful in being elected in the November balloting while Mr. McArdle lost. It appears that nothing can be done about that, however, since it is a matter that should have been reported prior to the recent election.

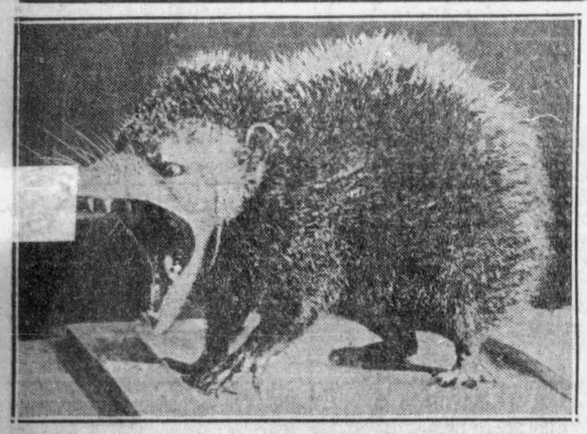
Nevertheless, many admirers of Mr. McArdle's excellent record as a councilman will sympathize with him in having been "counted out" of a nomination that might have assured his return to the body in which he served the city well.

Yet the evidence of fraud said to have been discovered should not be overlooked. This, Mr. Bonsall says, includes marking ballots and count and return of election boards.

We must have honest election boards. It was thought that convictions secured in the trials of those involved in previous election irregularities had thrown fear of the law into election crooks. If the Bonsall report is accurate in its conclusions, cheaters evidently have not been suppressed. The chance of such crookedness succeeding will be eliminated with the use of voting machines, assuring clean elections in the future, but that is no reason why election thieves should go unpunished.

The Madagascar Tenrec

Why Is He Famous? Look at His Mouth.



THIS "GENTLEMAN" OUGHT TO BE IN POLITICS

There are 10,000 ways of being famous. How many can you name?

Fame can be acquired for courage, singing, dancing, running, jumping, wealth, acting, discovery, beauty, ugliness and so on indefinitely.

One man is remembered because he jumped into the mouth of a volcano. Another because he set fire to the magnificent temple at Ephesus.

He did it to make his name famous. The lawmakers then issued an order that his name must never be mentioned.

But it IS mentioned in every encyclopaedia, in every history.

This little creature in the picture, living in Madagascar, interests science and has his little place in natural history's hall of fame because in proportion to his size he can open his mouth wider than any other creature, that is, wider than any other QUADRUPED.

Serpents, as you know, open their mouths still wider, so that when fully opened the upper and lower jaws form a straight line, no angle.

If you ask "Why this big mouth?" naturalists give you a surprising answer.

It isn't to fight. It isn't to bite enormous pieces out of some other animal.

This animal lives on earthworms and, nevertheless, he needs this large mouth.

In Madagascar earthworms grow to be three feet long and thick in proportion, and one of them is a mouthful even for such a mouth as this.

It is rather a surprise, something of a "come-down" to learn that such a mouth can eat only worms.

However, don't despise the humble tenrec, but remember that, as Sancho Panza said, "We are all as God made us, and sometimes worse."

We have in our Congress and legislatures gentlemen with mouths bigger than this, metaphorically and oratorically speaking, but those mouths often do little that is important.

This is merely a suggestion, but the versatile Mr. Robbins might, in the interests of condensation, call himself an electrical tinkerologist.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

WELL, what if you DID lose in the stock market?

And suppose you ARE going to have a lean year?

If you've got an ounce of sporting blood left in you, it was worth it!

Yes, I know the stock went flooey. But the stock itself wasn't the important thing. Even if it had won for you ten times as much as it lost, it wouldn't have been the Big Asset in your life.

Your Biggest Asset is the thing inside you that made you take that chance.

And if you've got that thing in you still, all the market slumps on earth can't wipe you out!

Laughing at you? Sure they're laughing.

Lecturing against speculation and pointing out, smugly, how THEY didn't lose a nickle?

Let 'em!

Maybe they ARE richer than you are today—richer in money. But they aren't richer in the red hot stuff of living . . . and that's what counts!

No, I'm not advocating gambling in shares. And maybe stock markets are, in some respects, as pernicious as the old Wiseys say they are. But there's something behind stock markets . . . there was something behind YOU when you went into the stock market . . . that isn't pernicious . . .

And that is the urge to take a chance.

That urge is the biggest, bravest thing in human life . . . it is the thing that has made human life possible. We'd still be wearing tails if some guy hadn't taken a chance. We'd still be living in caves and eating roots and bugs. But, thank heaven, there was always some restless, reckless creature in every group who wasn't content with the status quo and who insisted on risking life and property in some daring speculation. Did he get a lot of applause and encouragement for doing it? Don't make me laugh! What that bow-legged Columbus probably got was a good hard sock in the neck! But he took his chance, just the same. And all our progress has been based on that chance.

All that we have we owe to some gambler! Fire and light and electricity, homes and schools and governments, love and freedom and decency, and our hope of God . . . all we owe to some gambler.

But sometimes the gambler lost . . . as you've lost. And the tribe gave him the ha-ha . . . as they're giving it to you. But the tribe was wrong. For even if the gambler lost, he won. Even if everything he had . . . Even life itself . . . was wiped out, he was still richer than the ones who played safe. For he'd had the pride and thrill of adventure. He'd dared to laugh at safety and defy Fate. He'd walked for a little while with the odds . . . even if it did cost him a flop. And life for him would never again be the same for he had tasted freedom . . . FREEDOM FROM HIS OWN FEAR.

Nor would life ever again be the same for the tribe. For every man who dares, even though he dares foolishly, adds something to the sum total of human courage and initiative.

So buck up, stranger, and don't hang out the crepe because you've lost in the stock market. The spirit that lost you plenty this time will win you plenty next time if you've the sense and spunk to hang on to it.

They can wipe out your balance in the bank—

BUT AS LONG AS YOUR NERVE IS LEFT YOU'VE STILL GOT THE GOODS!

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

IN some insects, such as the earwig or the dragon-fly, the transition from larva to adult is comparatively gradual. The larva in such forms is often distinguished as a "nymph."

The dragon-fly larva lives at the bottom of a pond, snatching and devouring tadpoles and other creatures by by means of the hinged "mask" that projects from its face.

Dr. Wells

From time to time it moults, and after the third or fourth moult there appear on its back two small backwardly directed lobes, which are the rudiments of the wings.

During the later moults these rudiments increase in size, and at the same time a system of tracheae develops in the body. Finally, often as long as a year after hatching, the fully-grown nymph crawls up a weed or some other object that projects from the surface of the pond into the air and makes its final moult.

It pauses, when it has found a suitable place, for hours, sometimes even for a whole day; then abruptly the nymph-skin splits down the back and the tender body of the imago comes out.

There is then a period of almost volcanic expansion before the outer skeleton dries and stiffens. The wings, at first small and moist and crumpled, expand and straighten very quickly; the body alters its shape.

In a few hours the body is well-formed and rigid, and after a few tentative movements, the adult dragon-fly sails off to hunt and devour other insects and to breed until the chill of winter puts an end to its life.

In other insects, such as butterflies, beetles, bees and house flies, the metamorphosis from larva to imago is more abrupt.

The butterfly larva, or caterpillar, is a voracious soft-bodied grub with hardly a trace in its body of any of the structures that it will possess when it is adult.

The fully grown caterpiller, when it is ready to moult for the last time, generally encloses itself in a bed of silk and then undergoes a series of profound changes.

First it moults and assumes a form resembling more nearly that of the adult. In this stage, as a pupa, it remains for weeks or months, and during this time its organs are reconstructed very drastically indeed, undergoing almost complete liquefaction in the process.

Finally, as with the dragon fly, a limp and crumpled butterfly emerges to expand and dry its wings and take to the air.

SECTION 3. CENTIPEDES AND MILLIPEDES

THE class Myriapoda includes a number of land-living arthopods, breathing by means of tracheae and having long serpentine bodies with from nine to over 150 pairs of legs.

In the arrangement of the appendages on the head, in their embryonic development and in other respects they show many resemblances to the insects.

The best-known members of the group are the flat-bodied centipedes and the rounded millipedes; they may be distinguished by the fact that in the latter the body segments are welded together in pairs, so that there appears to be four legs to each segment, while in the former there are only two.

The centipedes are fierce, active creatures, stalking small invertebrates and killing them by means of their strong poisonous jaws.

The millipedes are inoffensive plant feeders, with a preference for decaying plants; their bite is not poisonous, but some of them, if seriously disturbed, can exude a foul-smelling fluid in self-defense.

SECTION 3e. PERIPATUS.

FINALLY we come to a class the Onychophora, containing a few species only, all belonging to the single genus Peripatus. The animals are humble creatures, found hiding under stones or damp bark in South America, Africa, Malaya and Australasia. To the layman they are harmless unimportant grubs, but to the zoologist their anatomy is full of interest.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A photographer in New York and one in Hollywood charge $1,000 a sitting. And they have a steady patronage. Thus has the roaming and seedy tin typer made way for a highly specialized artist who now stands with the great.

There are any number in New York who ask $100 before proofs are delivered and among top notchers it is necessary to make appointments many weeks in advance. Often one must pose for Xmas photographs in July. The de luxe members of the guild bear the tag of celebrity.

They are pointed out at first nights and are patrons of expensive cafes, the opera, and otherwise figure in the social doings of the town. Many are taken on world cruises in private yachts. Two have appeared in Europe by royal command. Each occupies a very special field.

One is famed for posing stage beauties. Another has made a specialty of artists and writers, copies of which he displays in his outside cabinet along the avenue. Still another has a gift of stressing the cold eye and steely jaw of masters of big business.

There are baby experts, and Greenwich Village has a leno luminary with a reputation for artistic likenesses of dogs and cats—charging $50 a sitting whether you decide to make selections or not. A Park avenue studio deals only with men and women past middle age.

Quite a number affect a Left Bank manner of dress, with velveteen house coats, purple smocks and jaunty tams. There are others who sprout wisps of waxed imperials and feature long locks of hair. Their studios are often in the musty sky-light attics of outmoded private homes.

The patrons must toil up a long flight of stairs where a mere card thumb-tacked to a door sill announce the artist. Perhaps tea will be served and a cigarette puffed along with much arty high-blown talk. For the modern photographer is also an actor.

It is a long yelp from the old time group picture when everybody in the family dressed up and started for town before daylight. In those days the children watched expectantly for "the little bird" while the gurgling voiced photographer pressed the bulb. There was also the head rack, a relic of the inquisition, that kept hands from moving. Yet even in those days the photographer was a romantic figure in little town lives—here today and gone tomorrow. He symbolized worldliness.

In our neighborhood, once a week, usually in the early morning or during the late afternoon lull, there appears out of nowhere a leather lunged seller of fake extra editions. His rousing cry sounds something like this: "X-traw. X-traw! Bong a gong, s'death murder. X-traw! X-traw!" Although we know he is a gypping rascal, most of us, overcome by curiosity, permit him to work his flim-flam.

This afternoon I proceeded to indulge a burst of righteous indignation. After buying a week-old paper, glancing at it, I told him—daredevil that I am—he should be arrested. "Want your money back?" he bellowed. I did, and took it. And somehow I felt pretty cheap.

A group of 10 rich New Yorkers have pooled a certain amount to send a fashion commissionaire to London and Paris to scour style centers for anything new and distinctive in shirtings, vests, hose, neckties and such. He was a former clerk in a well-known haberdashery and the idea is his, arranging for a year's try-out. He knows the individual taste of each and will keep their supplies freshened from time to time. His salary is $5,000 a year and all traveling expenses.

Broadway hears the Doraldino, the first of the hula dancers—remember Reisenweber's?—is making a fortune selling Spanish beauty preparations in Hollywood.

"I have made many mistakes," says a Broadway comedian, "but I never married one."

Wise Words

All that is human must retrograde if it does not advance.—Gibbon.

There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so.—Shakespeare.

All speech, written or spoken, is a dead language, until it finds a willing and prepared hearer.—Stevenson.

Recreation should sometimes be given to the mind, that it may be restored to you in better condition for thinking.—Phaedrus.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

WHY do you insist on doing things that cause your wife worry, old man?

She may be skeptical about the safety of airplanes.

She has tried to persuade you against entering one.

You ridicule her fears.

But is this a kind thing to do?

If she is enough interested in you to want to protect you from all unnecessary danger it is a compliment to you. Some wives are not enough devoted to care what becomes of their husbands. She may consider seriously what might become of your children if anything happened to you. Like most mothers she thinks more of the future of her children than she does of her own future.

As long as your wife is fearful about your riding the sky or speeding in automobiles or motor boats, why cause her unnecessary worry by continuing to do so?

It is a serious matter for a wife to be left with a little family to bring up without a father to share responsibilities.
